Engineers List Steps to Take

Consoer, Townsend and Associates, village consulting engineers, have decided that the depression of the railroad tracks through Arlington Heights is physically feasible.

Their report, presented to the ACTION committee and village officials, lists eight points which would have to be brought into consideration for the $22.5 million project.

1. Auto bridges are called for at Arthur, State, Evergreen, Dunton, Vail and Euclid. Engineers assume that only one downtown street may be closed at a time during the bridge construction so that traffic flow can be maintained.

2. A minimum of two temporary tracks to handle train traffic is expected. Suggested location for the temporary tracks or "runaround" is to the north side of existing tracks, partially on the railroad right-of-way and partially on Northwest Highway.

THIS TEMPORARY reduction of usable lanes on the highway was not discussed by Consoer, Townsend with the state.

In an earlier report the engineers had suggested locating the runaround south of the present tracks. This was changed to reduce the effect on downtown businesses.

In addition, a spur would have to be constructed south of the existing tracks at ground level to provide public service to industries east of State Road.

ENGINEERS suggest using all the property between Northwest Highway and the existing tracks for the runaround and using Davis Street and other property south of the tracks for right-of-way for the temporary spur.

3. Relocation of utilities would be necessary. Water and sewer lines could be taken under the train channel. Telephone and electrical lines and gas facilities could be suspended under the bridge decks or carried under the excavation.

4. A main drain would pick up storm water drainage along the railroad cut. A pumping station would be required in the vicinity of Arthur to lift the storm sewer to the existing sewers at Davis.

5. Engineers estimate the depression of the tracks will allow the construction of a new depot at any convenient location. They suggest it be located north of the tracks and equipped with covered walk ramps to the railroad platforms.

6. The main track of the railroad would be at a grade not to exceed one per cent. Spur track grades would not exceed two per cent. This has not yet been discussed with the Illinois Commerce Commission or the Chicago and North Western Railway.

THE REPORT said that the railroads usually prefer a grade not exceeding one-half of one per cent, but that the one per cent grade is necessary to keep the depression within the village.

7. Access to the new siding south of Euclid, adjacent to Northwest Highway, would be by means of a vehicular ramp.

8. Reinforced concrete retaining walls would be required along the depression because of the limited right-of-way. It is estimated that there would be approximately 28,000 lineal feet varying in height from eight to 32 feet.

The $22.5 million estimate does not include the cost of right-of-way, property damage, engineering, finance charges and legal fees.

It does, however, include items for both temporary and permanent construction. Temporary construction cost estimate is $6.8 million.

DEPRESSING VIEW to village officials are grade crossings such as these of the North Western Railway in downtown Arlington Heights. Noting traffic congestion and the effect of cutting the downtown business district in two chunks, the village board authorized a feasibility study to determine whether right-of-way could be dropped into a concrete walled channel. Engineers say the depression is feasible but estimate cost at $22.5 million. Price includes bridges at Arthur, State, Evergreen, Dunton, Vail and Euclid.

Boy's Go-Cart Hits Parked Car

A 13-year-old Arlington Heights boy was charged with negligent driving and driving without a license after his go-cart went out of control and struck a car parked at 733 N. Belmont Ave.

The boy was treated by a private doctor for a leg injury. A resident of N. Pine Avenue, he told police he was driving south on Belmont when his steering mechanism "came apart."

Win or Lose, Team To Get Welcome

Win or lose, Arlington Heights' American Legion baseball team will receive a hero's welcome when it returns to the village from national Legion finals at Aberdeen, S. D.

Depending on the team's success in the double elimination tournament, their return will be sometime between Friday (tomorrow) and Tuesday. Arlington's Chamber of Commerce has offered to supplement the team's budget so its 13 members and coach Lloyd Meyer can fly home.

They will be greeted in two spots — at O'Hare Airport and at the Municipal Building, 33 S. State Road. From O'Hare, a motorcade has been planned north on Mannheim to Northwest Highway, west to State Road and south to the municipal building.

Village Pres. John G. Woods, honorary chairman of the welcoming committee, will proclaim a hero's welcome day.

Others invited to be on the welcoming committee are Chamber president Fritz Wolfe, Illinois Legion Comdr. Joseph Murphy, First Division Cook County Comdr. Raymond Spano, Ninth District Comdr. James Kissner, Merle Guild Post 208 Comdr. Stephan A. Bratko, Cook County Board Pres. Seymour Simon and Arlington Heights State Representatives Eugenia Chapman and Eugene Schlickman.

FM station WNWC will broadcast five-minute recaps after each game, and the Paddock Publications telephone reports again will be available after each Arlington Heights game. For details, see the sports page.

First Game Loss

Omaha, Neb., defeated Arlington Heights Tuesday evening, 1-0, in the American Legion World Series.

Arlington will play again tonight (Thursday) at 8:30 against Lyndhurst, N. J., in the double elimination tournament.

Details on the first game in the Legion finals will be found in the sports section.

Five More Pools, 15 Parks In District's Projections

Five new swimming pools are projected in the future for the Arlington Heights Park District, according to land development plans given the board park commissioners by Supt. Thomas Thornton.

The district now has two pools, one at Recreation Park and one at Pioneer Park.

The land development plans, to be used by park district and planners in developing 15 new park sites totaling nearly 270 acres sought by the district, call for outdoor swimming pools and wading pools in the new Greenbrier subdivision park north of Palatine Road, in the Surrey Ridge community park at Pickwick Drive and Ridge Avenue, and on a site adjacent to the new Ivy Hill School.

Outdoor pools still are included in plans by the park district adjacent to the Forest View High School and a District 214 school site on Thomas Street east of Buffalo Grove Road. A High School District 214 referendum to provide companion indoor pools was given a resounding "No" vote this summer.

THE NEW Greenbrier Park, which will be located on a 21.7-acre parcel now being acquired, will also be planned with a bathhouse and fieldhouse, an athletic field, multi-purpose paved area for tennis and basketball, children's play equipment and parking.

The Surrey Ridge Park will be similar, except that bathhouse facilities will be provided in the new District 59 school there.

The park adjacent to District 25's Ivy Hill School will also be planned with a bathhouse and skating area, multi-purpose paved area and an athletic field. The leased Commonwealth Edison high line land adjoining would be developed with bicycle and hiking trails and picnic areas, according to Thornton's proposals. The proposed McDonald Creek Park, in the same subdivision, would be used primarily to control storm water from the surrounding area, the development plans say.

A NEIGHBORHOOD park in Berkley Square subdivision would include an area that could be flooded for ice skating, a shelter, athletic field, and a paved area for tennis and basketball in addition to parking.

Another neighborhood park would also be planned for near McDonald Creek or the Commonwealth Edison right-of-way east of present subdivisions, and neighborhood park facilities will be planned adjacent to the District 214 site on Thomas Street, and in an area described as the southwest quarter of Section 31. This is near Kirchoff and Central Roads.

A park in Pinegate subdivision, near Belmont, White Oak and Douglas, will have an ice skating area, a shelter, athletic field, multi-purpose paved area, and play equipment, as will a neighborhood park at Belmont, Foster and Douglas.

TENNIS COURTS and other neighborhood park facilities are being planned for the Forest View High School site along with the indoor-outdoor pool. Similar neighborhood park facilities will be provided in a park projected for the east half of Section 8, Township 41, the Algonquin Road area east of Wilke.

A neighborhood park also is planned adjoining the school site in Arlington Vista subdivision. A "tot lot" will be provided at Fairview and McKinley Streets in Arlington Park Manor subdivision.

A community park will also be developed near the Prospect Heights school at Palatine and Schoenbeck Roads. Provided at the site will be an athletic field, multi-purpose paved area for tennis and basketball, tot play equipment and picnic and day camp facilities.

STILL CONSIDERED in the park district's long-range development plans is a golf course at the Nike base. The park district originally included funds for purchasing the site in its January expansion program referendum but withdrew that part of the proposal after being told by the government that the land, not now used for military purposes, would be retained in federal hands for the present.

Thornton told the commissioners that the plans were being given to the architect for planning purposes only. Their submission will not prevent the park district from amending or adapting the proposals depending on need and the funds available.

The 270-acre figure includes both the 140-acre site at the Nike base, a long-range projection, and 18 acres leased under the utility's high lines. A number of the smaller sites will be dedicated by developers under village subdivision requirements. Park District Atty. Charles Bobinette is negotiating purchase of others.

Voters in January approved a $465,000 referendum for purchase of 68 of the acres currently under consideration.

'Shadows' Accused After Late Party

Four young men, three of them members of the Shadows of Knight music group, have been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor after a late-night party at which police suspect four 15-year-old girls were allowed to drink beer.

A warrant has been issued for a fifth man.

Charged were Joseph Kelley and Thomas Schiffour, both of 204 School St., Prospect Heights, and Warren Rogers Jr., 108 N. Eastwood, Mount Prospect, the three Shadows, and Kenneth Leiviska, all 19. Leviska lives at the trailer known as the "Shack" in rural Palatine.

THE WARRANT was issued for John V. Kniech, 18, Hinsdale, who police say was also at the party.

The incident took place early last Thursday. Police began investigating after the brother of one of the girls reported at 1:30 a.m. she had not returned yet from a Shadows performance at the Cellar in Arlington Heights.

The girl returned home shortly after 3 a.m. Police said she and two companions they found in a car parked nearby had been drinking.

Rogers surrendered himself to police and was charged with public drunkenness and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Charges were filed against the others after they were called into the station.

$22.5 Million Estimate Is

A breathtaking plan to drop the Chicago and North Western Railway below street level in Arlington Heights has been presented to the executive committee of ACTION—along with a breathtaking $22.5 million price tag.

The plan, drawn up by village consulting engineers at the request of the village board, calls for six bridges to carry cross traffic at Arthur, State, Evergreen, Dunton, Vail and Euclid.

Engineers Consoer, Townsend and Associates presented their feasibility study last Thursday, along with their judgment that the plan is feasible from an engineering standpoint.

THE PROPOSED improvement would extend from the eastern village limits three miles to Wilke Road, the western corporate limit.

An alternate plan, shorter and less costly, was presented verbally by engineers at the request of Village Pres. John G. Woods and Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson.

Fred Antonelli, Consoer, Townsend engineer, said the depression might be shortened roughly by one mile, eliminating the bridge at Arthur Avenue and starting the depression at Dryden Place.

This, he said, could bring the cost into the neighborhood of $16 million.

Harmful effects on village businesses and grade problems would prevent shortening the depression at the west end, he said.

ACTION committee members and village officials called the $22.5 million figure "staggering," but realistic. They pointed out that the cost of constructing separate underpasses or overpasses at six or seven locations in town would approximately equal the cost of the track depression.

Their estimate was based on a 1961 study which called for a $2.5 million four-lane underpass at State Road. Added to this figure were estimates of cost of access to businesses along State which would be cut off by underpass construction.

It was also pointed out that an underpass would cause difficulty in routing Northwest Highway traffic onto State Road.

ANOTHER alternative was discussed by ACTION and village officials—this one involving a broader area.

Woods will talk to officials from Des Plaines, Palatine, Mount Prospect and other villages along the Chicago and North Western tracks to determine if they are interested in depressing tracks in their areas.

Those present Thursday saw no reduction in cost resulting from wide-scale participation in the project but did anticipate a stronger political position and more support in the struggle for funds.

THE PRINCIPLE question discussed Thursday—the one no one tried to answer— was the source of funds for the track depression.

Finding this answer is the next step.

Finance committees of both the village board and ACTION will meet to discuss possible ways of financing the project.

Contact will be made with the Chicago Area Transit System and the Northestern Illinois Plan Commission.

The Chicago and North Western Railway also will be contacted in an attempt to interest the organization in the value of air rights over the depressed right-of-way. Air right sales were suggested as a means for partial financing in the Tec Search municipal planning firm's recent report on downtown renovation. The Tec Search plan recommended depression of both the railway and Northwest Highway.

THE POSSIBILITIES of state, county and federal aid were discussed, but with little enthusiasm.

Antonelli said that the village would probably get little cooperation from the various agencies "not because they don't recognize the need, but because they don't have the money."

When Engineer Antonelli was asked for suggestions of fund sources his reply was, "I don't know."

Woods said he did not wish the lack of enthusiasm of various governmental aid agencies to cause the village to give up the plan.

FINANCIAL support for such projects is more likely to come when there is a definite lack of safety in the existing situation. Committee members felt Arlington Heights has taken enough safety precautions to nearly rule out safety as a factor in this project.

Purpose of the project is instead a healthier business community and the lessening of traffic congestion.

Major Plan Hearings Not Before October

It will be mid-October, at least before the village's master thoroughfare plan and downtown redevelopment proposals can be brought to a formal public hearing.

Arlington Heights Plan Commission Chairman Harold E. Carlson said last Wednesday it will require roughly 30 days for state review of the plans before they are submitted for village residents' comments.

IF THE STATE delays too long in reviewing the downtown renovation plans, Carlson said, the plan commission may move the master thoroughfare plan's hearing ahead of the downtown hearing. He said this might be done so as not to delay too long official approval of master traffic flow revisions on which some street improvement proposals hinge.

The plans must be reviewed by the state agency responsible for administering federal urban planning grants, under which the plans were financed.

The plan group is still waiting for final reports on the plans from Tec-Search planning firm. Tec-Search presented preliminary plans late in June and promised the detail work, on which formal consideration must be based, in July.

IN RELATED actions, a new street designation term — one which North Kennicott residents may be delighted with — was discussed at last Wednesday's hearing by Fred Ainslie and other commission members.

Ainslie, chairman of a special committee that is going over the master thoroughfare plan, said that his committee rec-

Village Continues To Lead Building

Arlington Heights continues to lead all suburban communites in the number and value of homes built during 1965.

Total permits issued through July number 380 at a value of $9,820,000. Average cost of the homes is $25,842.

Second ranking community in the Chicago's Bell Savings and Loan's statistics in both number and total value of homes is Elk Grove Village.

PERMITS ISSUED through July in that village number 345 at a value of $6,749,585. Average cost, at $19,564, of the homes ranks sixth in a list of 10.

The same statistics show Arlington high in the total value of permits for homes during July. The number of permits issued that month is second high at 106, but the total value of $2,587,000 is highest.

Elk Grove Village shows the highest number of permits issued for July at 144, but the total value ranks second at $2,500,000.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS also ranks highest in issuance of permits for all types of buildings in the area for the month of July.

Total value of permits issued for the month is $4,480,501.

This is compared to a total of $2,700,230 for July 1964. The month's figure for 1964 was also the highest in the survey.

ELK GROVE Village again ranks second with the total value of permits issued in July of this year at $3,398,875.

In June Rolling Meadows showed the highest value of permits issued for all types of buildings at $2,607,962. Arlington ranked second that month at $2,327,700. (A

Balanced Open Space

Planning Body Okays Rand Road Apartments

An architect's professional opinion was upheld last Wednesday as the Arlington Heights Plan Commission approved developer Joseph Bernstein's apartment complex at Rand and Camp McDonald roads.

The 420-unit development was recommended for village trustees' approval after the plan commission members rejected a motion that would have required shifting one of the four-story apartment buildings from the northeast corner of the development.

CHANGING OF the building's location had been urged by commission member Thomas Hannum, who said the location of the structure was "unfair to single-family owners who face it."

Its location was earnestly defended by Bernstein architect Gerald Brim, of Footlik-Rose Associates, Morton Grove, as necessary for a good visual balance of open space within the complex.

A motion by Charles Catlin to approve the Bernstein complex with the disputed building placed farther within the development received a turn-down 3-3 vote. The motion to approve the planned development as it had been submitted by Bernstein passed 5-2, with Catlin and Fred Ainslie casting "Nays."

FINAL APPROVAL still rests with village trustees, who will pass on the plan commission's recommendation at the village board meeting next Tuesday.

Bernstein said his Westview Development Corp. would construct the apartment complex in three stages, the section fronting on Camp McDonald going in first.

The 420-unit apartment development will go up on 29.1 acres re-zoned R-5 (multiple) when it was annexed to the village earlier this year. The Bernstein parcel also includes another 9.6 acres fronting on Rand Road. This is zoned B-2 (general business) and Bernstein has told the plan commission he will submit plans for that parcel later.

THE DEVELOPER estimated cost of the entire project at $7.6 million, including the Rand Road section. The apartment complex itself will consist of five four-story buildings and eight two-story walkup apartment buildings, with two one-bedroom apartments for every two-bedroom apartment. The area will include ample parking, recreational areas and a swimming pool, he said. The builder will be the Zale Construction Co., Skokie.

Last Wednesday's appearance was the fourth on this project for the Bernstein party. The general architectural appearance of the complex received compliments from the plan commission from the start. But the commission differed with Bernstein's originally submitted drawings on the number of units and the location of interior roadways.

Plan commission members had been particularly concerned that the roadways allow easy access to the buildings for firefighting equipment.

AT LAST Wednesday's meeting they were told by Richard Haupt, Bernstein's attorney, that plans for the apartment complex had been approved by the village fire chief. The final draft of the planned development, Haupt said, allows for aerial ladder trucks to reach three sides of each building.

Belmont Hearing Postponed

The formal hearing for paving of Belmont Avenue north of Oakton has been postponed again to allow residents to arrange for a private contract.

Two homeowners told Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvement (BOLI) members that 11 property holders had agreed verbally to a private contract.

BOLI members postponed the hearing until Oct. 28 to allow time for securing property dedications, estimates and plans for the work, and additional agreements to a private contract.

Belmont Avenue, now an unpaved road in that area, has some 15 lots bordering it which would benefit from the improvements.

BOLI WILL assess property owners who fail to agree to a private contract. Special assessment costs generally are higher than those incurred under a private contract.

After initially proposing a special assessment project, BOLI continued the formal hearing in July to allow residents to arrange a private contract. (A

Senior High Program Will Have 'New Look'

On Sunday, Sept. 12, at 6 p.m. the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights will unwrap its new look for senior high students at a program called "Onset."

The high schoolers will bring their own hotdogs or hamburgers and buns and have a cookout in the church parking lot, the youth group furnishing the rest of the supper. This will be followed by a "folkfest" of religious folk music, then a look at the program for the coming year.

This format will be a new approach to church youth work. Since the musical medium in which the contemporary teen normally expresses himself is folk music, this year's music will center in the religious folk songs and spirituals.

THE WORSHIP will not be a miniature of the morning worship but will make use of every possible medium—art, drama, music, visual enactments, dialogue and contemporary literature forms—to bring the teens to an awareness of God's call and presence. The weekly programs will feature current problems and personal concerns chosen by the high school students themselves.

The officers of the group are: Kris Larson, moderator; Mike Mills, vice moderator; Peggy Corwin, clerk; board members, Tom Sloan, Jan Baughman, Dave Studstrup, Robin Mills, Linda Burr, Lizby Peek and Craig Howard. Counselors include Isaac Strain, Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tindall, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wolfinger, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Studstrup, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Niemeyer and Ray Anderson. Also helping will be Mr. and Mrs. Hal Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ahlman. (A

Substandard Street Request Turned Down

A 21-foot width for Marion Road in the Sherwood subdivision was refused approval by the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) last week.

The commissioners delayed approval of the $20,938 special assessment project until they receive village board direction.

BOLI policy establishes 28 feet as minimum street size. Other streets in the subdivision already have been approved at 21 feet, but commissioners wish village board direction to avoid reversing policy at their own volition.

The Sherwood developer went to court and received permission for smaller street widths. A 400-foot section of Marion Road was not involved in the suit.

"OTHERWISE WE would be breaking down our one line of defense when other people ask for variations," said commissioner Harold Klingner.

The vote was 3 to 2 to refuse approval of Marion Road. Commissioners Ellwood Huff and Ben Chaps voted to approve the 21-foot length without asking for a village board directive.

The Marion Road project involves paving and sewer and water main installation. (A

$100 Reward Made To Catch Vandals

An Arlington Heights man who said he has "had enough" of neighborhood vandalism has offered a $100 reward for information leading to the apprehension of those responsible for the informal painting of his house.

He is Robert E. Mitchell, 330 S. Gibbons Ave. When he returned from a vacation Saturday, Mitchell found black, red and green paint splattered over a back wall, windows and bricks, with obscene words painted on.

In recent weeks, he said, several neighbors have had windows damaged by B-B shots, one had paint splashed on a car and another had a mail box blown off with a firecracker.

Zoning Board Faces Long Agenda Monday

Subdivisions, annexations and zoning requests are on the tentative agenda for Tuesday's meeting of the Arlington Heights Village Board.

The board meets at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building, 33 S. State Road.

The board will consider rezoning from residential to limited business a total of eight 25-foot lots along S. State Road, south of Central Avenue, and annexation of six of them currently outside the village. Owners plan an office building and a supermarket; the plan commission has recommended approval of the zoning requests.

GUIDANCE has been sought by the Board of Local Improvements on the width of Marion Street in Sherwood subdivision; existing streets in the subdivision do not meet normal BOLI standards (see separate story).

The board also will consider final subdivision plats for Berkley Square Unit 2 and Orchard Manor as well as the planned development plan for Joseph Bernstein's apartment complex on Rand Road, all given favorable recommendation by the plan commission. The Bernstein plan, for eight two-story and five four-story apartment buildings, resulted in a 5 to 2 vote. Several plan commission members objected to the location of of one of the four-story structures.

PETITIONS to annex four residential lots also will be considered. Two are in Lynnwood, facing Thomas Street; two are in Scarsdale Estates facing Rockwell Street.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson will ask the board to consider an ordinance creating a four-way stop at the intersection of Kennicott and Fairview.

On the board's old business agenda will be a plan for a sheltered recreational area in Cedar Glen subdivision. (A

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Sue Smith 439-4851

Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

Success of the eight-day flight of Gemini 5, plummeting here-comes-autumn temperatures and window-shattering windstorms last week had almost no effect upon local sociability. Families of August brides had their own orbits to follow, vacationers simply put on another coat of tan to keep warm and celebrating birthday kids rattled a few windows in competition with nature. Next week should be comparatively quiet, though. But don't plan on it — your Sidelights prophet hasn't been right in eight years. o

Your correspondent Meyer is semi-retiring from Sidelights reporting in order to spend more time at a full-time job in Paddock offices. Beginning this month, Sue Smith will be replacing your tired old veteran two weeks of every four, and additional weeks whenever she is available. Sidelights readers are therefore asked to call Sue, 439-4851, the first two Mondays of each month, Dorothy, CL 3-2298, the last two Mondays, and Sue the first four of November's five Mondays.)

CLIMAXING an on-the-go summer for the Lawrence Roccas, 117 S. Fernandez, was a mid-month trip to Jordan, Minn., where they witnessed the Aug. 15 investiture of their son, Peter, in the cassocks of the Sacred Heart Noviate. A graduate this year of Notre Dame University's Holy Cross Seminary, Peter is continuing his study for the priesthood in the novitiate in Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Angus and Susan, 101 S. Fernandez, returned Friday from a week divided between friends in Excelsior, Minn., and the Wisconsin Dells. Friends, Minnesota and the Dells were all a delight to visit, report the Anguses.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker Davis and Joan, 318 N. Drury, and Mrs. Davis' parents, Judge and Mrs. Thomas Woolsey of Boonville, Mo., returned Thursday from a vacation week together in Door County, Wis. Early last month the Davises spent 10 days in Missouri with the Woolseys and other relatives, then returned here for an unpack-and-pack session before going to Wisconsin. The Woolseys were with them for the Boonville-to-Arlington Heights trip as well as for the week in Door County. They left here Friday to return to Missouri.

At the Charles Baker home, 19 N. Pine, it's half-past "getting Kathy off to school" time and a quarter to "getting Linda off to California before she goes off to school" time. Kathy returned to the University of Michigan last week to begin her final year of study, Linda leaves early next week for the West Coast, and their mother wonders if there is any conversation that doesn't begin with, "Mom, where's my — ."

LINDA will visit Grandmother Marsh and an aunt, Mrs. J. K. Hamel in Newport Beach for two weeks, returning here just in time to re-assemble before leaving for Kalamazoo and her sophomore year in Western Michigan University.

Nick Herff Jr., ex-local-native-son now of Los Angeles, arrived here with his family last Wednesday for a two-week visit with relatives. A Sunday get-together in the home of his sister and brother-in-law, the Joe Murans, got together 75 friends and relatives who crowded 1319 N. Dunton with happy reunions.

Among those welcoming the Herffs was a longtime friend and childhood member of the Herff household, Sister Lucie, here from St. Joseph Convent in Milwaukee for her "brother" Nick's homecoming party. Another seminarian in the family who was able to join the reunion was Jerome Herff, nephew of the honor guest and son of the Frank Herffs, 735 N. Pine. He had just returned from two weeks in Missouri and left Sunday evening for Lemont to continue his study for the priesthood.

Family congratulations were extended Tuesday night to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Brand, 1002 N. Walnut, who hosted a dinner party for 12 in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. The bride and groom also had a pre-anniversary celebration Saturday, enjoying a dinner-and-theater date in Chicago.

THE JAMES Bieser family, 815 W. George, came home early last week after a weather-wonderful two weeks in New England. They had a visit with long-time friends at Candlewood Lake, N. J. topped off by a stay at Cape Cod.

A dinner party in Rolling Green Country Club last Wednesday evening climaxed the pre-nuptial social whirl for one of Saturday's brides, the former Miss Barbara Swanson, daughter of the Wier Swansons, 901 S. Highland. Dinner party hostess was Miss Jan Gow, 641 S. Kaspar, who joined her guests in showering the bride-elect with miscellaneous gifts.

Beginning the round of showers for Miss Swanson was a surprise party given by Mrs. Russell Hansen, 15 W. Orchard. Twenty local friends of the bride and her mother kept their secret well and were rewarded by the honor guest's total amazement as she entered the Hansen home.

At an afternoon party hosted by the groom's mother, Mrs. Hodum of Lombard, 30 friends and relatives again surprised the bride-elect of Robert Hodum and showered her with miscellaneous gifts.

Hodum and Miss Swanson were married in Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Church of Arlington Heights, and will make their first home in Peoria.

Another of August's brides, the former Miss Patricia Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hawkins, 619 S. Patton, was feted at four bridal showers before her Aug. 14 marriage to Robert Glenn of Canton, Ill.

FORMER neighbors initiated the party whirl in July at a kitchen shower given by Mrs. Paul Weinrich, 825 S. Vail, and her daughter, Mrs. William Jacobs, a longtime friend of the honor guest. A surprise was intended, a surprise resulted and 12 good friends were delighted with Miss Hawkins' reaction.

To guarantee the bride-elect's presence at their party in her honor, Mrs. Robert Howard of Mount Prospect and Mrs. Charles Tully of Arlington Heights sent Miss Hawkins one of the 12 invitations. Thus there was no happy shock, but simply pure pleasure upon the honor guest's arrival at the Howard home. The relaxing yet gala get-together was punctuated with "oohs" and "aahs" as Miss Hawkins opened gifts of lovely linen.

A third shower, given by bridesmaid-elect, Miss Leeann Petersen, was planned as a surprise in logical sequence to the previous "unsurprise." Ten local young friends of Miss Hawkins preceded her to the Petersen home, 919 N. Highland, shouted "Surprise!" as she entered, and were delighted to see that she was. A shower of miscellaneous gifts, the happy opportunity for a final visit and lots of girl talk were all part of the recovery prescribed for "shower shock."

CLIMAXING the round of parties for Miss Hawkins was a luncheon and miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. James Mason, 902 S. State, whose no-surprise plans tied the sociable score at 2 to 2. Feting the bride-elect were fellow auxiliary members and Northwest Community Hospital co-workers of the hostess and Mrs. Hawkins.

The newly wed Mr. and Mrs. Glenn will make their home in Dubuque.

Birthday celebrations, recently over-shadowed by news of vacations and August brides, come back into their own this week. On North Dunton, two young men celebrated birthdays Friday, lifting the pre-school doldrums for several neighborhood friends and young relatives.

Tom Andresen, 1005 N. Dunton, was 8 Friday, an event causing his dad to donate a day of vacation time to smallfry fun. He took six minor Andresens and four neighborhood children on a forest preserves party, the best kind for hyper-energetic celebrants. Returning home at suppertime, the guests dashed home to sup and dashed right back to the Andresens' for a birthday cake dessert. It was an all-round fine day. Even dad said so.

AT 1222 N. Dunton, the younger Steve Kiral was 12 Friday and celebrated being almost a teenager with an evening party and five neighborhood buddies. The surprise visit of congratulation-bearing uncles, aunts and cousins raised the junior population to 11, and Steve's somewhat impromptu party turned out to be the best in years.

A great-grandma of 86 shared her birthday party Sunday with an almost-4-year-old great-granddaughter, and both the girls had fun. Mrs. Dora Meyer, 718 N. Evergreen, began her one-day-early celebration right after church, brunching with her son, Walter, and his family at the Farman Hotel in Lake Zurich. Returning home mid-afternoon, Mrs. Meyer had about an hour of being alone before the junior Meyers arrived again, followed by her daughter and son-in-law, the Edwin Sanders, who were followed by their daughter and family, the James Browns, 107 S. Dwyer.

Part of the Brown "and family" is Miss Janet, who was born four years ago barely 24 hours after a similar family party for Grandma's 82nd birthday. The two young ladies have been sharing the annual birthday get-together ever since, and each year it gets a little harder to decide who enjoys it more.

MR. AND MRS. George L. Gardner, 631 S. Lincoln, came home Saturday, after spending five weeks in the east. Mrs. Gardner and the children, Cathy and Jerry, went to Madison, N. J., first to visit her sisters, Mrs. L. A. Leatherman and Mrs. W. M. Hill, and then went on to New York City for a few days to visit friends, the A. M. Ellises, where Mr. Gardner joined his family. They went on to the Adirondacks to spend two weeks at the South Mountain Lodge in North Creek.

Dr. and Mrs. I. T. Harris, 717 S. Belmont, and their daughters, Jane and Nancy, just returned from a two-week motor trip to New England. They enjoyed swimming and relaxing on the beaches of Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard and sightseeing in the Boston area and in Gloucester.

Also vacationing in New England were the R. J. Malcomsons, 727 S. Belmont. During their tour of the New England states, they stopped in Darien, Conn., to spend several days with their daughter and family, the W. C. Butlers. Before returning home, they went to South Carolina for a stay at Hiltonhead Island.

MRS. BOYD White, 515 S. Pine, is flying to London, England, today, for a two-week visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Sansom, and to meet her new grandson. The baby, the Sansoms' first, was born three weeks ago and has not been named as yet. Mrs. White is being accompanied to London by her step-mother, Mrs. Ruth Cappock of Buffalo.

The Lowell F. Christys, 505 S. Belmont, had as their weekend houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Klements of Catlettsburg, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Wickstrom, 527 S. Dryden, entertained at dinner Saturday, to welcome home two vacationing neighbors, the Jerre Frautschys and the William Brinkworths, from two weeks at Fish Creek, Wis., a long time favorite vacation retreat of the Wickstrom family. After dinner slides were shown and much sailing news exchanged.

The Wickstroms' daughter, Lorie, flew to Nashville, Tenn., with her grandmother, Mrs. A. Anderson of Chicago, to visit her aunt and uncle, the William De Priests.

The Walter Edelblutes, 209 S. Pine, and their youngest son, Kenneth, arrived home Sunday from a month's vacation, touring the western states. They camped along the way, travelling through 11 states and covering 5800 miles. They camped in Glacier and Yellowstone National Parks and in Idaho visited both mothers, Mrs. Elma Edelblute of Rathdrum and Mrs. Eva Wakefield of Moscow. They also spent several days in Loveland, Colo., with former Scarsdale neighbors, the Fred Utterbacks.

MP AND MRS. O. F. Davenport, 442 Banbury, spent the past 10 days in Carlisle, Pa., helping their daughter, Mrs. Clarke Garrett who had just moved from Winston Salem, N. C., get settled in a new home. Mr. Garrett, just finished teaching in the summer session at Lake Forest College, will be professor of history at Dickinson College in Carlisle.

The Robert Bradles, 606 S. Dryden, welcomed their daughter and son-in-law, the David Winstanleys, of Saxonville, Mass., for a week's visit. It was their first visit home since their marriage a year ago, and they enjoyed seeing all their Arlington Heights friends again.

After they returned home, Mr. and Mrs. Bradle and their younger daughter, Lynn, and her sister and brother-in-law, the Everett Rabolds of Chicago, went to Sioux Narrows, Ontario, for a week of fishing. The fisherman caught their limit of walleyes the first day. They were guests at Skyers Lodge.

MISS Marilyn Colburn, daughter of the Harry W. Colburns, 535 Burton, whose wedding to Philip Smith, son of the Philip A. Smiths of Scarsdale, will take place Oct. 2, was recently feted at two bridal showers. Miss Lucille Schreiber of Cary gave a miscellaneous shower Aug. 4 and Miss Bernice Bertini and Mrs. Richard Gibson were hostesses at a kitchen shower Aug. 15, in the latter's Palatine home.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Kleisner, 602 E. Park, and daughter, Maryjane, returned Sunday from an eight-day vacation at Ed Gabe's Lost Lake Lodge in Sayner, Wis.

On the way home, they picked up their younger twin sons, Jack, who had been at White Sox Camp in Brothertown for three weeks, and Jim, who had been at Camp Napowan in Wild Rose. The elder Kleisner twins, Ted and Fred, who spent the summer working for the Albert Pick Hotels in Washington, D.C., will come home Sept 6 and then will return to their respective schools, the University of Denver and Michigan State University, where they will be seniors.

The Stanley J. Wilkinses have moved to their new home at 835 Burton in Scarsdale Estates. While Mrs. Wilkins has been busy getting settled, Mr. Wilkins had been busy finishing plans for the annual Scarsdale Estates dinner dance to be held Oct. 23.

Mrs. E. J. Harris, 1408 E. Kensington, is home from a leisurely escorted tour to Quebec City and the Gaspe Peninsula, returning through the states, stopping to sightsee in Boston and New York City.

MR. AND MRS. Arnice Basil, 427 S. Windsor, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Aug. 24, while on vacation in the east. They marked the event with a dinner party while visiting her sister and family, the Roy Petersons in Long Branch, N. J. The Basils continued their travels through the east, visiting Atlantic City, Washington, D.C., New York City, Montreal and Niagara Falls. En route home they stopped in Saginaw, Mich., to spend several days visiting old friends, the John Devines.

The Basils' daughter, Joanne, who accompanied them, plans to enter nurses training at Wesley Memorial Hospital Sept. 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lyon, 103 S. Derbyshire, are home after a month's vacation. Mrs. Lyon and their sons, David, Jim, Bill and Don spent the first part of August in Sawyer, Mich., at the summer home of Mrs. Lyon's parents, the L. Hammerstroms. Mr. Lyons joined his family the latter part of August for a camping trip around the north shore of Lake Superior.

Mrs. L. W. Bredehoft, 201 S. Wilshire, spent a week in Lawrence, Kan., visiting her mother, Mrs. L. D. Pierce. Upon returning to Arlington Heights, she brought back her nephew, Bruce Beurmann of Merriam, Kan. Also returning to Arlington Heights at the same time were the Bredehofts' sons, Paul, who spent the summer at Culver, Ind., at Woodcraft Camp, and Carl who spent the summer working on a ranch in Calgary, Alberta; and coming for a weekend visit were Mr. Bredehoft's brother and sister-in-law, the C. C. Bredehofts of Springfield.

MR. AND MRS. Robert E. Mitchell, 330 S. Gibbons, flew to San Francisco, for a four-day visit and then returned to take their four children to Lake Delavan, Wis., for a two-week vacation.

Miss Barbara Becker, daughter of the Robert Beckers, 1211 Woodford, came home Monday from an 11-week tour of Europe. She went with the Misses Cindy Crall and Lois Devine of Columbus, Ohio. After touring England, where they saw Queen Elizabeth in the traditional birthday celebration of Trooping of the Colors, they rented a car on the continent and traveled through 12 countries. They especially enjoyed Italy, and spent a month living with friends in Rome. Miss Becker returns this week to Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, where she is a senior. (A

Facts You Should Know About Vitamins

They are not a food and have no calorie values. But, they are absolutely essential to healthy living. They are the "spark," which causes the body to properly perform some of its functions.

Can You Get Enough in Your Food?

Yes, you can — IF — and it's a big if, because you must eat an ample variety of different foods, which include sufficient fruits and vegetables. This is not easy, for cooking destroys some of the vitamins and the older fruits and vegetables become, more of their vitamin content is lost.

Modern Living Lowers Vitamin Intake

A recent medical survey disclosed that large numbers of teenagers had poor health because of vitamin loss from eating improper food. Too many were getting hurried snacks instead of complete meals. Many adults do the same.

A Multivitamin Prevents a Deficiency

You can insure against a lack of any of the necessary vitamins by taking a reliable, high quality vitamin capsule or preparation daily.

Can Vitamins Cure Disease?

Physicians frequently prescribe large doses of a particular vitamin to help certain ailments. But no one should take such treaments without a physician's advice. For example, large amounts of Vitamin D can cause harm.

We Can Answer Vitamin Questions

Pharmacists are taught their uses, proper dosage and how to protect their potency. We have dependable vitamins which can prevent any harmful vitamin deficiency. Now is a good time to start taking them before winter weather lowers your resistance to sickness.

Expect Higher Tax Levy for High School

The District 214 school board is expected to adopt an increased tax levy for the 1966-67 fiscal year at its Sept. 13 meeting.

Preliminary estimates call for a 5 to 10 cents increase in the 1964-65 rate of $1.718 per $100 assessed valuation.

Frank Coleman, District 214 business manager, said increases are expected in the education, transportation, and Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund.

In addition, the school board might levy a small amount for the safety code fund.

THE ADMINISTRATION had originally proposed raising the education rate from $1.17 to $1.22, but was asked to reconsider at the last school board meeting.

School board member Hal Armstrong asked that the raise be limited to two or three cents.

The administration's tentative proposal based on the $1.22 rate in the education fund produced $6,126,840 in tax income for 1966. Adding other sources of income, the district then would have $7.78 million available in its education fund in 1966-67.

The tentative proposal showed a cash balance of $568,840.

A 5-to-10 cent increase in the over-all tax rate would mean a $5 to $10 increase for a home assessed at $10,000 (approximately $25,000 market value).

COLEMAN SAID THE major reason for the proposed education fund increase results from anticipated additional expenses when the district opens Elk Grove High School in 1966.

When District 214 received permission to raise its education tax rate last year, the administration promised to limit the initial boost to a maximum of five cents.

Supt. H. L. Slichenmyer perfers to keep the annual increase on an even level for the next few years. If the school board limits the educational tax boost to three cents this year, he believes it will have to raise the rate seven cents the next year.

A two to three cent increase is anticipated in the transportation fund because growing enrollments have created more demands for service.

COLEMAN BELIEVES the rate eventually will decline as more schools are built. The number of students living within a mile and half of school—the limit for bus transportation — will increase with the number of schools.

However, that has not been the case so far. The growing enrollments has outpaced any benefits that might be expected from the additional construction.

District 214 serves high school students in Elk Grove and Wheeling Townships.

Women Voters Week Slated Sept. 13-19

Women Voters Week will be observed in this area the week Sept. 13-19, with local government given special emphasis.

Arlington Heights Village Pres. John G. Woods and Mount Prospect Village Pres. Daniel Congreve both have officially designated that week as Women Voters Week in their villages.

They are doing so at the request of the local League of Women Voters, as a means of encouraging women to become more interested in the operations of government.

The LWV has sent letters to women presidents of area clubs, asking them to join in the celebration of Women Voters Week.

"WE ARE HOPING all women will join with us observing Women Voters Week and learning more about local government in the process," said Mrs. Frank Moore of Arlington Heights, president of the local LWV.

To encourage this, Mrs. Moore said, the league has planned a "go-see" series of events for area women.

With the village providing the bus and the tour guide, leaguers and their guests will take a tour of Arlington Heights boundaries on Monday, Sept. 13, at 9:30 a.m Emphasis on the tour will be the village's newly annexed or soon-to-be-annexed areas and the gains and problems that annexation brings.

THE WOMEN are also being urged to attend meetings of local government bodies—village boards, library boards, and the like—during the week.

The leaguers will attend the District 214 board meeting on Monday, Sept. 13, at 7:30 p.m.; the Arlington Heights Village Board meeting on Monday, Sept. 20, at 8 p.m., and the Mount Prospect Village Board meeting on Monday, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m.

Area woman's clubs were invited to share in all these events and were told that leaguers will be at the door to guide them if they a e n d the Arlington Heights or Mount Prospect village board meeting or the meeting of the District 214 board.

The bus tour will also be open to the public. Reservations may be made by calling 392-1535 or 392-7952.

Mrs. Moore said that the designation of Sept. 13-19 as Women Voters Week is particularly apt since that week is also Constitution Week nationally and Friday, Sept. 17, is Citizenship Day. In Illinois, the week will be designated League of Women Voters Week by Gov. Otto Kerner. (ACM-E

BOLI Rejects Plea

When Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hood, 604 W. Campbell, complained in July about damage to their garden and sweet corn stand, that was merely the beginning of their problems.

Since then, two trees have been felled and a third damaged because of the work on Campbell Street.

The Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) has expressed sympathy but refused to make compensations.

THE TREES AND the garden were on the public right of way, the commissioners learned, and thus were the village's property.

Last week BOLI members heard a report from the village engineering department which found no grounds for compensating the Hoods.

The third tree, damaged by the Public Service Co., was repaired at the village's request. It now stands, slightly crippled.

The Hoods demanded compensation for the two trees removed as part of the Campbell Street improvement project. BOLI members observed that three or four property owners had received $50 compensations for tree removal, even when the trees were on public right of way.

THOSE TREES were chosen for removal before the project began. Since the village had neglected to designate the Hoods' trees beforehand, no compensations could be made now, BOLI members agreed.

The garden and stand were damaged in July by a falling branch from a felled tree. (A —with no stock investment!

Ordinarily, you look with envy on the directors of a rapidly growing corporation. Their intelligent policies produce good corporate earnings and their investments in the corporation soar in value.

But the directors of Arlington Heights Federal Savings, for all their enterprise, don't own a single share of stock in this Association.

They don't because they can't. This is a mutual institution; nobody owns it. Or more exactly, everybody does who has a savings account or a home loan with the Association. The directors get no more from their dollar investments in this Association than anybody else does.

Except for one thing: the special satisfaction of watching over a thrift and home-financing institution that they themselves created as it grows in service to their neighbors and the entire community.

VIRGINIA TERRACE

A two-week tour of the west was a vacation recently enjoyed by Bill and Bonnie Misch and son, Teddy, 1329 N. Wilke. They visited Bonnie's parents, the Norman Mitchells in Arizona; they also visited Bill's sister, Mrs. Marianne Osborn in Phoenix. Las Vegas was the next stop. Camping for several days at Grand Canyon was one of the highlights of the trip, as was viewing the Painted Desert and Petrified Forest. On the way home, they visited friends in Oklahoma.

David Alan, son of Robert and Diane Peterson, 1210 N. Yale, was baptized Sunday, at Bethel Lutheran Church, Rolling Meadows, by Pastor Olson. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mueller of Rolling Meadows. A buffet dinner for 30 relatives was hoted by the Petersons after the ceremonies.

Arlington Heights

CALLING ALL RESIDENTS OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Twenty trained census takers are calling all residents for the census of the new Paddock Directory for Arlington Heights THERE IS NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION TO BE LISTED!

THE PADDOCK DIRECTORY . . .

FASTER AND EASIER TO USE

. . . HAS ADDITIONAL USEFUL INFORMATION TOO!

No listings will be included without consent of the householder. No non-published or non-listed telephone numbers will be used unless authorization is given to do so. If we are unable to reach you by phone we will mail a postage-paid census card to you to be completed and returned to us.

WHY?

The Paddock Directory for Arlington Heights will be faster and easier to use. It will contain ONLY information about Arlington Heights.

And it will also contain information found only in the Arlington Heights directory—such as wife's name, children's names and year of birth, plus husband's place of employment.

Consider the new family down the block. Their 8-year-old daughter is playing with the Anderson children a couple of blocks away. An emergency arises and Mom wants to call her daughter home but she only knows the Anderson children's names and not the father's name. Her Arlington Heights directory will give the information she needs in a hurry—and her problem is solved.

Or, remember the time you met "Mr. Johnson" at a club meeting. You forgot his first name and never did ask where he lived. All you remember is that he worked for a big city insurance company. Now you want to reach Mr. Johnson about some important business. One quick look at your directory and you've located the missing "Mr. Johnson."

New Courses Added To Night School List

A number of new courses have been added to the fall adult education program offered by Township High School District 214.

Classes will start the week of Sept. 27.

New offerings will include computer programming for data processing, computer technology and maintenance concepts, Japanese flower arranging, psychological theories, and the art of rearing children.

In addition, Northern Illinois University, the University of Illinois and National College of Education are bringing new college credit courses to the area.

IN AN EFFORT to broaden the scope of the program, new sections in organ instruction, office practice and ballroom dancing are being given at the new Wheeling High School. The district is cooperating with the Tool and Die Institute by providing related training for the apprentices in the tool and die industry who live in the northwest suburban area. The same is true for the Illinois Institute of Banking.

Over 36,000 brochures announcing the varied offerings are being mailed to taxpayers in Elk Grove and Wheeling Townships. Included in the brochure will be descriptions of the courses, dates, places and time of meetings and tuition charges.

THE FIRST QUARTER of the computer programming class will include training in computer mathematics, introduction to data processing and accounting for business data processing. Computer technology and maintenance concepts will develop an understanding of the transistorized equipment used in data processing operations, its maintenance and care.

Psychological theories is an in-service training program for teachers and will deal primarily with educational psychology, but professional people other than teachers will find the course most interesting, according to Dr. Thomas, coordinator of the program. The child-rearing course will deal with disciplinary measures, understanding your children, and problems inherent in growth.

Rebistration for fall classes will be held at Arlington High School Sept. 20, Prospect High School Sept. 21, Forest View High School Sept. 22, and at Wheeling Sept. 23.

All schools will register from 7-9 p.m. For classes that have limited enrollment, it is advised that registration be made through the mail as soon as the brochure is received.

Registration forms may be found on the inside of the back cover.

For further information concerning the adult evening program, interested persons are invited to call CL 3-1700.

THERE ARE POSITIVE ANGLES TO RETIREMENT HAPPINESS

There are positive angles to retirement—things you must do if the promise that comes with your pension is to be fulfilled.

The first angle is that you must find something to do.

You must find something beyond loafing, something beyond fishing, taking pictures, seeing the Grand Canyon. This is no platitude. In every retirement area of America are men and women by the thousands who did not believe it, but who are living and dying proof of it.

You have accomplished something with your days since you were about 18 years old. After forty or fifty years of it do you think you can stop? You cannot. Your mind, your body, and your heart are attuned to working. Your hands, no matter how big the pension they hold, must have a job to do.

It is nature that people work. It is contrary to nature that a fit human machine gives up and quits.

You have talents—you would not have survived on a job until retirement age unless you did have. Somebody somewhere—even if it is in the hills of Dakota—can use you. But if you have talents your lifetime career did not need—if you like figures and your job required that you tend an assembly line; if you liked mechanics and your job required that you sell draperies—somebody somewhere can use you.

A classic case of what retirement is and is not, and what must be done with it, is a man who is unknown outside his small circle of friends. His name is Eugene R. Gray.

"I was loaded for retirement," he says. "I saw it coming fifteen years before I reached 65, and with the instinct of a squirrel began gathering nuts.

"I switched my insurance policies to annuities that would start paying off at 65. I saved everything Mom and I could scratch from the budget.

"We weren't going to be poor folks."

And they weren't. When he went into retirement from his thirty-eight years in the oil business he had a pension, Social Security, the annuities and savings. He and his wife fondled their little strongbox of treasures and felt rich indeed.

League Wins Praise For Government Guide

The League of Women Voters received a commendation from the Arlington Heights Plan Commission last Wednesday as commission members received the first delivered copies of the LWV's new "Local Government Guide."

Copies of the free local government directory were taken to the commission meeting by the LWV president, Mrs. Frank Moore of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Moore is official LWV observer to the plan commission.

Her delivery of the yellow-backed guide provoked complimentary remarks for the booklet—and for Mrs. Moore's "faithful attendance" at plan commission meetings from both commission member Charles Catlin and Plan Commission Chairman Harold Carlson.

MEMBERS OF other boards and commissions included in the league booklet will receive copies of the guide in the coming weeks, in most cases being delivered by the LWV observer to that board.

Eight thousand copies of the free booklet have been printed by the league for distribution. Organizations and individuals may request them by calling Mrs. Donald Krezek of Arlington Heights, 392-7716; Mrs. Ralph Waterhouse of Mount Prospect, 437-1298; Mrs. Herbert Andersen of Wheeling, 537-4117, or Mrs. W. Keith Atkins of Elk Grove Village, HE 7-4385.

Mrs. Krezek, who as LWV voter service chairman was in charge of the booklet's publication, says the league is providing the free pamphlet as a citizen service. "We hope area residents can use this booklet as a guide for attending public meetings and reaching local officials with their comments, criticisms and compliments," she added.

THE BOOKLET lists names and phone numbers of public officials of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Wheeling and Elk Grove Village; Wheeling and Elk Grove Townships; and High School District 214 and its feeder elementary districts. A special section provides voter registration information.

While dozens of league members pitched in to help with the booklet, stenciling and mimeographing was a Krezek family project, the voter service chairman said.

Assisting in collecting the information for the booklet were Mrs. Andersen, Mrs. W. Justin Davidson and Mrs. Bruce Bremberg of Mount Prosppct and Mrs. Frank Hines of Elk Grove Village. (ACM-E

Planners Submit Two Subdivisions

Arlington Heights village trustees will be asked, at their meeting next Tuesday, to approve final plats of two subdivisions.

Plan commission members last week approved the final plats of both Berkley Square Unit 2 and Peter Peterson's Orchard Manor.

THE Orchard Manor plat was approved by the plan commission as submitted, but an adjustment in lot sizes was included in the motion in which the Berkley Square unit was approved.

The change would bring up to standard square footage requirements two Berkley Square lots which had been submitted with substandard size. (A

Eastwood Events

Yvonne Koch — 392-6064

A group of Eastwood boys travelled by train to Chicago Saturday. There they spent the day on a boat that took them on the Chicago River through the locks. Lake Michigan was too rough, so they couldn't ride past the breakway. The lucky boys were Jack and Glenn Larson, 623 Beverly Lane; Brian and Garth Petzold, 706 Miner; Matt Cockrell, 905 Euclid; Robert Pelsa, Eastwood Apts. on Miner, and Brian Byrnes, 701 Beverly Lane. Mrs. Mae Baske of E. Clarendon returned mid-August from a month's vacation visit with her sister and spouse, the Harry Coffeys in Rome, Ga.

August was birthday month in the Herb Weidinger home on N. Belmont. Eight-year-old Anita observed the occasion on the 17th with an afternoon party for the Bergren twins, Stephanie and Stacy, Donna Lett, Linda Koepfer and Ruth Jahnke. Kathy, 5, and Dave, 4, celebrated their birthdays Aug. 26. Guests at their luncheon party were Caron Klingner, Sherri and Freddie Damiano and Eric Koepfer.

The end of August brought an end to residence in the Greens for two N. Dryden families. The Robert Williams who lived at 1122 for the past 12 years moved to Mount Prospect to await completion of their new home in Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and daughter, Linda, also 12-year residents at 1134 N. Dryden, moved to their new home in Sherwood.

EARLIER IN AUGUST, the Jack Summers family ended a more than 10 year residence at 308 E. Oakton.

New residents at 308 are the J. Zolp family, Shirley and sons, Rick, 11, and Greg, 9, former residents on E. Clarendon. They returned from Kirkwood, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis, where they lived for the past four years.

Newcomers are Donald and Marilyn Bark, with David, 11, Debbie, 9½, and 6 month-old Kimberly Ann. Formerly of Rolling Meadows, they moved to 1160 N. Hickory on Aug. 21.

Mr. Bark is a certified public accountant.

The George Olson family of E. Oakton spent the first half of their two-week holiday visiting the farm home of an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kurth near Denmark, Wis. and numerous other relatives in the area. Joining the family for the second week was a niece, Miss Blanche Haney of Racine, who enjoyed trips to the beach, Starved Rock, sightseeing in Chicago and Milwaukee. Family birthday parties for 2-year-old Terry and Janet, 10, were squeezed into the busy schedule.

It was attended by more than 35 relatives and friends from Chicago, the suburbs, downstate Peoria and Florida, where the couple's son, Thomas, resides. Missing from the golden wedding anniversary celebration for his grandparents was Wayne who left for St. Petersburg College on Aug. 15 to begin second year classes.

ommends that a new term — that of "intermediate collector" —be used to the list of designations.

That designation would be used, Ainslie said, for streets which now act as collector streets but which do not need major widening. "Intermediate collector streets should be improved as 28 feet wide, he said.

AINSLIE cited Dunton north of Northwest Highway as an example of a street that should be termed an intermediate collector. It is 33 feet wide to 21 feet wide now, although it carries a great flow of traffic from the north side of town. When resurfaced, it should be widened to 28 feet, said Ainslie.

Miner from State Road east to Waterman should be designated an intermediate collector, Ainslie stated. Vail between Sigwalt and Kirchoff should be similarly designated said Ainslie, adding that between Sigwalt and South Streets Vail needs full collector designation because that area is zoned for multi-family dwellings.

"It is our recommendation at this time," added Ainslie, that Kennicott between Oakton and Northwest Highway be an intermediate collector.

SUCH DESIGNATIONS, the committee chairman said, allow "reasonable street widths" within already built-up areas "not only for pleasure but to keep from knocking down trees." Parking should be permitted on only one side of such 28-foot-wide streets, he added.

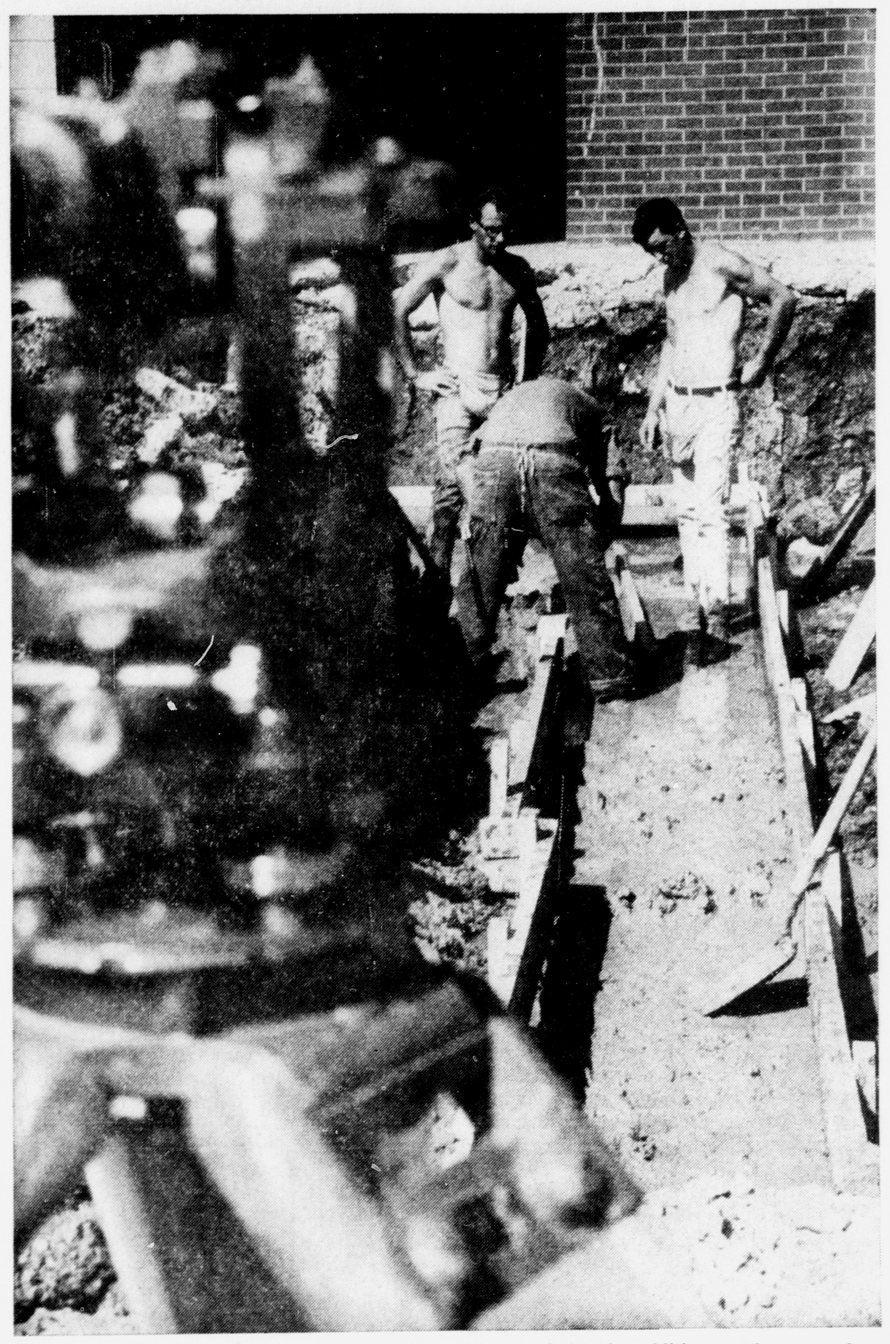
Commission member Charles Catlin asked if a timetable for street improvements was to be included with the thoroughfare plan amendments. "No," he was told by Carlson.

No formal approval of the committee's recommendations was made by the plan commission at last Wednesday's meeting. Cause for the delay was indecision over which street should be designated as an at-grade crossing of the North Western Railway tracks east of State Road.

THE AINSLIE committee recommended that the at-grade crossing be across from Wilshire Drive in Stonegate. This location was challenged by commission member Charles Bennett, himself a resident of Stonegate.

Bennett said that if the railroad crossing were at the recommendation point, narrow Wilshire would surely get a great deal of cut-through traffic.

Commission members agreed to look over the area and talk the matter through again at another meeting, perhaps Sept. 15.



FOUNDATIONS ARE POURED for new addition to Thomas Junior High School, State Road and Thomas Street, Arlington Heights. Junior College Awaits Ruling on Financial Aid

Interpretation of the new junior college bill remains clouded on whether a junior college must be actually holding classes before becoming eligible for 75 per cent state and federal construction funds.

District 301 now faces a basic decision in planning for classes in temporary quarters in September, 1966, or continuing its plans to open in a new plant in September, 1967.

The law will be interpreted by the newly-appointed state junior college board which is to meet Labor Day. Because of the holiday, the board chairman was reported that it might take several meetings before the board was ready to set criteria for junior college operation in Illinois.

BOARD ATTORNEY Frank Hines said most opinions did not agree that college operation was a prerequisite for building construction aid. Both Lyman Glenny, executive director of the state Board of Higher Education, and Rep. Eugenia Chapman, who sponsored the junior college bill, stated this was not the intent of the law. Aim of the law is to help establish new community college districts and to enlarge existing junior colleges, Hines reported.

Most opinions supporting the "in operation" interpretation came from community or junior colleges now in operation, Hines noted.

The college board previously had discussed tax rates at length. The maximum rate is 15 cents per $100 valuation, with 11 cents for educational purposes and 4 cents for building and maintenance. This rate compares with tax rates of approximately $2 per $100 valuation for area elementary and secondary schools.

The board members had previously said they would support an average total tax rate of 11 cents per $100. Some board members felt the rate should be less, while others felt the college should tax the maximum for a "cushion" in its first taxing year. If the board had to open classes in temporary quarters in September, 1966, the maximum rate probably would be used.

In seeking advice from other colleges which had faced similar problems, board secretary Mrs. Jessalyn Nicklas said that all other schools had started operations as soon as possible, most in temporary, rented or donated buildings. All of the schools contacted recommended a maximum tax rate from the beginning, she said.

Mrs. Nicklas, Board President John Haas and Richard L. Johnson had said at the last meeting that public support for a bond referendum — even for only 25 per cent of the total cost — might be lost if the maximum rate were used when the college was not in operation. With the 75 per cent state and federal grants, the total bond issue of an estimated $7.5 million would require less than $2 million in locally financed bonds. This would produce a tax rate of about 2 cents per $100 valuation because of the four-township area of the college district. (B10

Litter No Problem

Report Good 'Housekeeping' In Village Downtown Areas

by DAVID J. HANKS
Staff Writer

Litter in downtown areas of most northwest suburban communities doesn't seem to be much of a problem.

Most government officials and business leaders say they experience some problems, but none of major consequence.

Mount Prospect, where about a year ago the litter problem was acute, is much improved today. Village Pres. Dan Congreve agreed that trash and litter were scattered about in the course of a day, but added that it was all swept up early every morning.

"People are pretty good about putting litter in the trash baskets we have," he said.

IN SOME FORM or another all villages have ordinances on file which make it unlawful to scatter litter in public places.

But Congreve said the ordinances are very difficult to enforce. "To my knowledge we've never actually caught anyone or the police have never arrested anyone for littering," he added.

In Arlington Heights John G. Woods, village president, said, "We have no major problems." There might be some minor ones, he continued, "but they haven't come to my attention."

Mel Gaare of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce pointed out that the main problem is "people—we've had some kids break pop bottles and other minor things, but recently we've had no problems."

Gaare believes most of the credit for tidiness in the village must go to the officials. The village provides a lot of receptacles and maintains the streets, parking lots, and other areas downtown and in the shopping center pretty well.

IN ELK GROVE Village, Pres. Jack Pahl indicated that his community had difficulties with litter. "We have a great pride of ownership in the village," he said, and therefore take care of the place.

Palatine has always had problems with litter in the streets, said Charles Neal, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Neal blamed no one except the "general public." According to Neal it's just human nature to litter streets, parking lots, and other areas.

Baskets are provided, he said, and are used pretty much. But kids, commuters, and others still scatter a certain amount of trash. Merchants sweep their particular areas daily, but Neal said it is literally impossible to keep the area clean all the time. "We have a lot of problems in areas around eating places," he said.

Neal indicated he would like to see a project "to keep Palatine clean" involving the merchants, the village and the Boy and Girl Scouts.

THE PALATINE fire department washes down the streets often. Both the village and the merchants constantly keep after the problem, said Neal.

In Itasca, Village Pres. Wilbert Nottke stated, there are very few problems with littering. Merchants in the village do a good job of taking care of their property and allow very little littering, he said.

Commuters have never been guilty of littering the area around the railroad station, Nottke said. "They're high type people," he added, and maintain the area as they would around their own home.

At the shopping center in Itasca, there was some problem when it was being built. But Nottke said the situation had been rectified.

MOST VILLAGE presidents believe it is almost impossible to strictly enforce ordinances against littering. Police could arrest a few people, one said, but others would go unpunished. It would take a larger force just to strictly apply such laws.

The officials also agreed that if the problem got worse that enforcement would then be pushed, but until that time it would not be.

They indicated that the one way which could tell whether stricter enforcement was needed was if they had a great number of complaints from citizens.

Fewer Attend Church

Forty-nine per cent of the adult population were attending church in 1958. Last year, the figure had declined to 45 per cent.

School Bus Contract Approved

A new three year contract with the Cook County School Bus Co., 3040 S. Busse Road, Arlington Heights, has been approved by the High School District 214 board of education.

The company rents 30 older buses to the district for $21 per day per bus and 33 new buses for $30 per day per bus.

One major change from previous contracts takes away a reduction allowed the district for buses for which the company had completed payments.

However, the district will be allowed to continue use of the 30 original buses at the $21 rate.

Another change provides for seven rather than six standby buses. The district will be charged $10 a day per standby bus. The previous contract made no charge. But in the contract previous to that, the district had paid $30 a day for standby buses.

COOK COUNTY will add nine buses for the 1965-66 school year. It has served the district for nearly five years.

While Cook County has not returned a signed contract, District 214 Business Mgr. Frank Coleman expects its return soon since initial problems have been resolved.

Finance agencies demand a three year contract before they will extend credit for purchase of new buses, according to Coleman.

3 TRACK - ALL WEATHER ALCOA ALUMINUM
DURA-CHROME WINDOWS

Utilizing a special aluminum formula consisting of seven distinct operations (including anodizing and sealing) gives the metal a beautiful, hard, ever-wear chrome-like finish. This method was engineered by the automobile bumper and trim manufacturerers who found DURA-CHROME not to oxidize or pit. Extreme simulated weathering tests indicate DURA-CHROME to be far superior to chrome plated steel, so called "stainless steel" products. For simple easy cleaning, use soap and water.

Delectable Dishes

Luncheon favorite bound to win over guests uses toast buttered and spread with deviled ham. Top with canned, drained asparagus spears and a hot cheese sauce.

Frozen filet of sole is easy enough to broil or bake. Serve with another frozen food accompaniment: heated shrimp soup as a sauce with sieved hard-cooked egg garnish.

Macaroni and peas with celery and mayonnaise is an old fashioned favorite, but it can be rediscovered if you add to it sliv ered canned tongue.

Turkey goes easily into hash with chopped cooked potatoes and a binder of mushroom soup. Place in muffin pans, make a hollow with the back of a spoon and break an egg in each. Bake in a moderate oven until eggs are set. It will take only about 15 minutes if the hash is heated first.

Add some herbs to your vegetables when they cook to see how wonderful they taste! One-half teaspoon of rosemary can be added to four cups of shredded carrots, for example. Try mint with peas, too.

Helen's Favorite:

Anchovy Dressing
(Makes 2 cups)

2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons anchovy paste
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
2 cups dairy sour cream

Mix together mayonnaise, anchovy paste and onion. Gently stir into sour cream. This is excellent for green or fish salads.

Play, Fashions Signal Return to Classes

By BEVERLY AIRTH

"O show me East, show me West, 'till I find the child that suits me best! Today I brew... tomorrow I bake, because "Rumplestilskin" is my name."

Now, everyone knows the fairy tale of "Rumplestilskin" don't they? I have to admit it—I didn't! But luckily I found a little girl who was nice enough to tell it to me. It is a very beautiful story and like many of them, the "good guys always live happily ever after" and the villian has to suffer.

Like all villains, "Rumplestilskin" is a shifty, crafty, little fellow and "he gets it in the end!" And, what's a fairy tale without a beautiful princess and a handsome prince? It probably wouldn't be a very good story if it weren't for these three main characters — the princess, the prince, and the villain.

YOU AND your family will have a wonderful opportunity to meet all three of these characters Friday and Saturday. Randhurst is bringing a children's play to its mall with professional actors and actresses. This is one very special Randhurst event you will not want your children, grandchildren, neighbors, and visitors to miss.

The cast has been rehearsing every day since the fourth of July to make it a very special event for everyone. There will be two shows daily at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. These shows are absolutely free to the public and everyone is welcome to attend as no tickets or reservations are needed.

I AM SURE you mothers will enjoy the pre-teen back-to-school fashion shows presented at a short intermission during the "Rumplestilskin" play. This children's play and fashion show are brought to Randhurst through the fine efforts of DuPont. The fashions in the back-to-school show are all products of the wonerful DuPont fibers and may all be purchased in many of the stores at Randhurst.

This is a wonderful opportunity for mothers to help select their family's wardrobe for the coming school year and to see what is expected in the way of new fashions for school.

Randhurst has selected 35 young models for this special occasion. It will be a very nice time for your youngsters to see a fashion show that will be of interest to them. Usually the younger ones are not interested in Mommy's fashion shows, but this one would definitely appeal to the younger set.

HAVE YOU noticed any new signs around you — that is, signs of the coming school season? I have, and am I thankful. School zone signs are being cleaned and refurbished by the school departments, school-crossing guards are getting out their safety belts, mothers are looking forward to leisurely coffee breaks. The new merchandise is in all the stores and shops in Randhurst, no more summer clothes on the store racks, fashion boards in the stores are modeling the newest of fall fashions and the latest campus look. Even the store mannequins have a new exciting air as they just stand there and show off their lovely garments. Beautiful colors and textures of the autumn fashions are seen throughout the center as the new fall lines make their first appearance.

And, so summer is almost over — just one more weekend and the children are in school again. It's school time and the morning breezes quietly whisper, "thank goodness!" (Rh

Save That Nickel! It's a 1913 Liberty Head!

Coin Collecting Becomes Pastime

by MICHAEL HESS
Staff Writer

You too can be a numismatist!

Simply reach into pocket or purse and extract all coins. Now examine that loose change.

Find any liberty-head nickels minted in 1913? Find any silver dollars minted in 1804? No? Too bad . . .

If either had been among those scrutinized, you could be rich, famous, AND a numismatist. Of course a numismatist is nothing more, or less, than a coin collector.

In the past decade, coin collecting has become nearly a national pastime. U. S. Mint officials estimate that there are over eight million collectors today compared with two million in 1955.

ONCE COMMITTED to numismatism, the devotee soon learns that value of coins depends upon five variables: number minted, condition, date, mint marks and mistakes.

Number minted refers to the volume of coin put out at the various U. S. Mints. The fewer in circulation, the more each is worth. It's a simple law of supply and demand.

There are nine difefrent classifications of condition.

Proof coins are perfect and especially minted for collectors. They include one coin of each denomination, with a total face value of 91 cents, and are sold for $2.10. They are polished to a high gloss and never meant for general circulation.

Uncirculated coins are made for general circulation but never enter it. Of those in circulation, extra fine, very fine, fine, very good, good, fair and poor describe their degree of preservation, their condition.

DATE IS, obviously, the year stamped on the coin indicating the time minted. Age in itself means little as number minted and condition are more important. However, more coins were minted recently so older coins will probably be more valuable.

Mint marks tell where the coin was made: "D" means the coin was struck in Denver, an "S" in San Francisco, an "O" in New Orleans. No initial indicates Philadelphia, the main mint.

Errors at a mint are usually scarce, so mis-struck coins are more valuable. Some 1937-D nickels, for example, show a three-legged buffalo and are worth, if uncirculated, over $175.

One collector who started at the inception of the coin boom is Ray Collins of Collins Barber Shop, 38 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, He operates a "Coin Corner" in the rear of his shop.

"Two customers first got me interested," says Collins. "It was something different, I like older things and so I began. I've sold most of my personal collection since I became a dealer, however."

ONE COIN HE recently sold was a 1909-S "VDB" Lincoln penny. There were only 484,000 minted with the "VDB" on the back side. The initials stand for the designer of the coin. Selling price of the "VDB" was $160.

Other coins in the Collins collection awaiting buyers are a 1936-D quarter ($45), a 1931-S penny ($32) and a 1914-D penny ($58). He also carries rolls of uncirculated pennies which sell for 10 to 50 cents apiece.

In addition to the thousands of coins, Collins also carries accessories for numismatists.

The "Coin Corner" offers coin albums, coin tubes, coin holders, coin books, coin envelopes, coin wallets, coin wrappers, coin glasses, coin cloths and brushes, and fluid coin cleanser.

For the oddity seeker there are also some 1852 three-cent pieces and foreign coins including some from Lebanon with holes in the center. "Coin World," an 80-page numismatic newspaper, is also available.

NUMISMATIST RAY COLLINS displays a portion of the coins available in the "Coin Corner" located at the rear of his Collins Barber Shop, 38 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights. Coin collector and dealer Collins has over 1,000 coins for examination and sale in his shop. Among them are quarters worth over $40 and pennies worth over $50. Collins began collecting 10 years ago because he "liked older things." (Staff Photo) (A15

AMONG FUTURE ventures of the Collins "Coin Corner" is a coin club. Over 25 people have already signed up for the first meeting. Collins himself is a member of the West Suburban Coin Club.

Another member of the WSCC is Romeo Capodagli of the Village Toy Center, 115 W. Main St., Bensenville. He has dealt in coins for over three years and has an extensive collection of his own.

Capodagli owns a complete series of nickels, dimes, quarters and silver dollars. He also has Indian head and Lincoln pennies but still needs a few to complete his collection.

"I'd like another 1914 D Lincoln," states Capodagli. "The one I have is in poor condition. I also don't have a 1909-S "VDB" and I'd like to find one at a reasonable price."

To round out his Indian head assembly, Capodagli will have to find an 1877, which will cost over $100, and a 1909-S for $40. In his collection he does have a 1928 dollar worth over $90.

"THIS STARTED as a hobby with me," Capodagli relates. "It's very interesting and educational. I like to show the coins to my boys and explain the history connected with them."

The club Capodagli belongs to, the WSCC, meets the fourth Friday of every month in the Bensenville Fire Hall. At present, Capodagli estimates, the membership is 100 to 150.

Meetings in Palatine and Elgin attract Tom Robinson, 363 Cherry Lane, Palatine.

Near his residence Robinson meets with the Monticello Coin Club of 20 members. They meet once a month in the library of Gray Sanborn School. The Elgin Coin Club also has regular meetings and puts on a coin show. The next one is in October.

ROBINSON'S collection, which is kept in a vault, is dominated by foreign coins. He specializes in the largest coins from any country. Pride of his display is a 1954 proof set from South Africa valued at around $80.

"I started collecting because of my son," Robinson explains. "He wanted to get a Boy Scout badge and they offered one for coin collections. I became interested and have been collecting ever since."

Someone who started 10 years ago is John M. Eltzroth, 30 Weymoth Lane, Schaumburg. His collection, composed mainly of U. S. coins, is kept in a bank and shown by appointment.

Top piece in the Eltzroth collection is a coin minted in 1879 in British Columbia. "It's a one dollar piece minted in private gold and worth about $4,000," Eltzroth said.

WHAT ABOUT the future of coin collecting?

Answered Eltzroth, "The market is rather low. You used to be able to start a collection with a small investment, but not any more."

Replied Robinson, "Because of the scarcity of coins and the increased prices, collecting has faded a bit recently. It's hard now to start a good collection."

Said Capodagli, "The bottom has dropped out of the market recently. The higher prices will keep interest down."

Offered Collins, "It's hard to find a lot of coins now. That may discourage some people thinking of doing any collecting."

AND WHAT about the 1913 liberty-head nickel and the 1804 silver dollar? It's not surprising that you didn't locate one on a random search through your pockets.

At this time there are only five or six of each in existence anywhere in the world. Should you want one, the asking price on that liberty-head nickel is $25,000; the 1804 silver dollar goes for $40,000. (A15

Septemberfest to Feature Auction

Rolling Meadows' Septemberfest, the northwest suburban answer to Munich's Oktoberfest, is already attracting area shoppers with a lucrative supply of "Auction Bucks."

The auction bucks are being saved for an auction of prizes which will climax the Septemberfest festivities set for Sept. 23-25. Shoppers receive $1 worth of auction bucks for every $1 they spend.

AUCTION PRIZES are to be both large and small. Two children's auctions will be held the two weekends before Septemberfest.

Other highlights of the festival include a return engagement for the third year of the Arturo aerialist troupe. Their high wire act has drawn thousands of spectators both of the last two years. (B 10

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK
Sports Editor

HE HAS A STOP WATCH in one hand and a black book in the other.

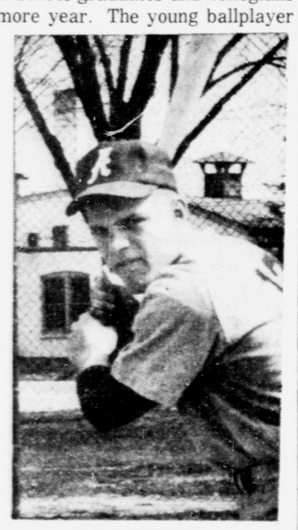
He's paid to watch baseball games, but he's more interested in the individuals involved than the game itself.

His job is to evaluate young baseball talent.

He's a Major League scout, and he has this recurring dream of strolling to a ball park one day and spotting another Sandy Koufax or Willie Mays or Mickey Mantle.

The scout has an interesting but complex job. Under the new free agent draft he is engaged in a more intensive search for young talent.

Organized baseball last winter adopted the free agent draft and eligible to be drafted are high school graduates and collegians who have completed their sophomore year. The young ballplayer today may not be looked over by more scouts, but more clubs will get reports on him if his play warrants a report in the first place.



RICH HOPPE

The scouts have been extremely busy in the past few weeks following American Legion tournament activity and have assembled in Aberdeen, S. D. this week for the Legion World Series.

The first appearance in Legion championship play of a player who was later to become a Major League star was in 1931. Kirby Higbe, who hurled the complete game for Columbia, S. C., lost the final contest in the 14th inning of the Legion World Series, 1-0. Ten years later Higbe was the National League's top pitcher.

Exposure in a national tournament has led to a handsome contract for many young players previously missed by the professional scouts.

If you have some talent but are on a club that's not going anyplace, you could get overlooked in the mad scramble. But when you reach something the proportions of the Legion World Series, you go on display for the top bird-dogs in professional baseball.

When the summer campaign opened, the professional scouts were aware that the Arlington Heights team had a swift left-hander on its pitching staff who reportedly had the "big league arm." Tommy Lundgren was drafted by the Cleveland Indians and continues to impress, but he isn't the only player on this Arlington entry, one of eight finalists in the Legion World Series, who has been giving the scouts something to talk about.

In our coverage of the state and regional Legion tournaments we had the opportunity to talk with several scouts and they were almost unanimous in the opinion that in addition to Lundgren two other boys "certainly worth watching and keeping a card on" were third baseman Rich Hoppe and pitcher Paul Splittorff.

Hoppe, they emphasized, "had the arm for third base and also showed some ability at the plate." In the opening regional game with Ohio Hoppe back-handed a hot smash over the bag at third and fired a perfect strike across the diamond for the out. He repeatedly came up with some sparkling maneuvers at the hot corner.

Although Rich didn't show the big bat at the regional he exhibited in the state finals, he still slapped out six hits in five games and drove in three runs. In the state and regional action with the pressure building up in each game Hoppe collected 16 hits in 46 trips to the plate for a healthy .347 average and he drove home eight runs.

Hoppe, who is heading to Northern Illinois University in the fall, has been a .300-plus swinger all summer for Manager Lloyd Meyer's outfit after a .245 senior year at Arlington High. Actually, those high school averages can be dismissed in most cases because the weatherman played havoc with the schedules and practice sessions.

Splittorff, a 6-foot-3 southpaw pitcher who was a 1964 graduate of Arlington High School, was sharp as he dumped Ashland, Ky., 5-1. in the East Chicago Regional and drew particular praise from George "Pat" Dery, a scout for the Detroit Tigers.

We were sitting next to Dery at the game, and he kept busy taking notes as Splittorff pitched. Dery's biggest contribution to the Detroit organization was signing Hal Newhouser when the southpaw was a prep phenom in the Michigan area. Newhouser went on to become the finest left-hander in Detroit history.

Splittorff was an all-conference selection at Arlington High School in '64 and posted a 6-1 record over-all with a snappy 1.52 earned run average. He then went to Quincy College but an injury sidelined him, and he was a little slow rounding into form this summer. But he had a strong outing against Rockford at the state finals and had probably his finest stint of the season against Kentucky in the regional.

Also overheard at the Legion tournament was praise for the work of Arlington's Jerry Fink around first base. "That kid has as much finesse around first as any I've seen in a long time," one scout praised.

Mark Newman, Arlington's leading hitter this summer, is one of the most versatile players on the club, and his big bat (.520 for six games at the state tourney) raised a few eyebrows among the scouts in attendance.

"Newman's best chance may be at third base," one scout pointed out. "He doesn't have that real good leg speed, but you can't deny that he has a strong arm and good wrists. "He's a real competitor too and only 16 years old."

Draws Area Pros

Four local - area golf pros will compete Sept. 16 in the second annual Tom Coward Continental Invitational Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

The tournament will be held at Arlington Heights' Rolling Green Country Club, and will start at 1:30 p.m. with a "shotgun" tee-off: foursomes starting simultaneously from each of the 18 tees.

Pros entered from this area include Jack Bell, Medinah Country Club; George Capoun, Inverness Golf Club; Chuck Malchaski, Brookwood Country Club, Addison, and host pro Charles Pedersen of Rolling Green Country Club.

Defending Champs Head Field

Fifth Mixed Doubles Tennis Tournament to Open Saturday

Marjorie and Bob Fink of Palatine will be seeking their fourth straight Paddock Publications Mixed Doubles tennis championship this weekend at the Arlington High School courts.

The talented husband and wife entry will head a field of approximately 20 couples in the fifth annual tennis headliner staged by the chain of suburban newspapers with cooperation from the Arlington Tennis Club.

Competition is slated to get under way Saturday morning and run through Labor Day if necessary.

Tennis players may enter individually or as units. Tourney officials will assign partners in case of individual entries.

Deadline for entries is tonight (Thursday). Anyone interested should contact Donna Cunningham at CLearbrook 3-9092.

YVONNE FLOEY of Mount Prospect and Bill Thompson of Arlington Heights won the first tourney title in 1961 with a 6-4, 6-2 conquest of Ruth Rees and Larry Brown of Arlington, but since then the Finks have dominated play.

Ousted in the semi-finals of the 1961 event by the eventual champions, the Finks rebounded in 1962 with a 6-3, 6-4 title victory over the top - ranked Mrs. Foley and Brown.

The Palatine duo repeated in 1963 with a 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 victory over Mrs. Foley and Don Johnson of Elk Grove. This marked the third straight year that Mrs. Foley, former Danish Women's Junior champ, had played in the title match.

LAST YEAR the Finks battled back in the third set to pull out a victory over Jean Made and Rodger King.

The champs had won the first set 6-4 but fell in the second 8-6 to set the stage for the dramatic showdown. They trailed 5-2 in that third set before staging a rally that gained a 9-7 win.

The Mixed Doubles tournament is open to all tennis players living within the area served by the Paddock newspapers.

Trophies are presented by Paddock Publications to the man and woman on the championship unit.

HELP WANTED

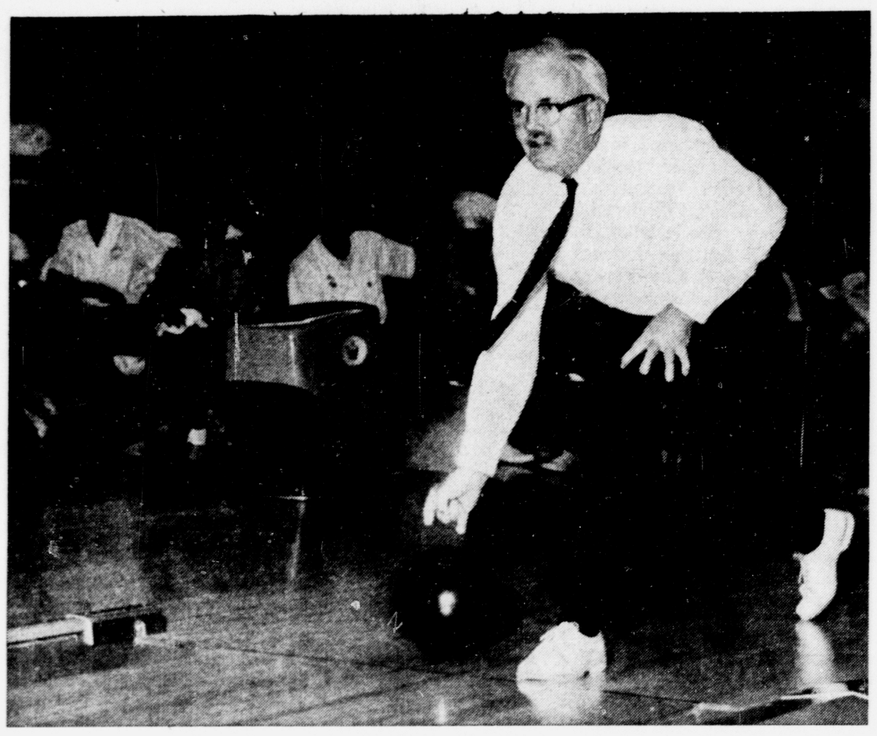
There are three openings for sports stringers in Paddock Publications' sports department.

Anyone interested in covering high school football and basketball games for the 1965-66 school year should contact Bob Frisk or Ken Knox (CLearbrook 3-1520) any day but Wednesday.

Home-Grown

The Ohio State football roster for the coming season includes only four out-of-state products. Three of the four are from Pennsylvania.

First Ball of New Season



DANIEL CONGREVE, Mount Prospect Village President, rolls the first ball to signal the start of another Paddock Classic Traveling League season. The 1965-66 campaign got under way last Saturday at Striking Lanes in Mount Prospect with a sweeper for the eight teams of the PCTL and six squads of the Paddock Women's Classic League. The bowlers will begin rolling in earnest on Saturday evening, Sept. 11, with the official opening of the schedule.

As Grid Practice Opens . . .

Prospect Rebuilds With 'Thin' Squad

by MICHAEL HESS

Rebuilding champs with champs is the 1965 chore of Prospect High School's varsity football coach, Don Williams.

Last year's Knights shared the Mid-Suburban League title with a 6-1 record. But, all members of that squad have graduated.

Stepping in for the departed winners however, are members of the 1964 junior varsity. That JV group also took an M-SL crown with a 6-0-1 mark.

Only flaw in the potential conversion from JV to varsity champions is numbers. Just 32 gridders showed up for Prospect's first practice.

"WE HAVE MANY good boys out," states coach Williams, "but we're awfully thin. There were over 45 out one year ago. We'll just have to keep our fingers crossed and hope for no injuries."

Practice for the "thin" turnout began with once-a-day sessions Aug. 25. Last Monday the workouts increased to twice-a-day, a pace which will continue through this Saturday.

Though it's very early in the tune-up schedule, Williams is able to make a tentative evaluation of his charges.

"Inexperience may be our chief problem this season," the headman offered, "especially on offense. Defensively we could be quite strong since the JV team last year only allowed two touchdowns in eight games."

One major ingredient missing, according to Williams, is a punter. Bruce Castle, counted on for booting duties, is missing due to injuries.

THUS FAR the possible senior replacements for last year's champs have lined up as follows:

In the backfield—At quarterback are Gary Gueirin and Bob Mutert. At halfback are Nick Rutigliano, Jim Kolberg, Bob Grady and Rich Froemling. At fullback is Fred Wesley.

At end—Tom Beard and J. D. Thorne.

At Arlington Drills Co-Captains Missing

by BOB FRISK

The co-captains, a standout lineman, and a promising junior are among the missing this week as Arlington High School's varsity football Cardinals engage in three sessions daily under head coach Al Allen and his staff.

Co-captains Thad Woodward and Tom LeStarge, senior guard-tackle Mark Frase, and junior Doug Fink are in Aberdeen, S.D. for the American Legion World Series and may not return home until next Tuesday.

"As long as they're back by Tuesday, they'll be eligible for our first game with Barrington," Allen reported this week. "They do have some practices in already so should be okay for the opener."

Players must have engaged in a minimum of ninety minutes of actual field practice for 14 days preceding the first interschool game.

ALTHOUGH the loss of the boys undoubtedly has created some problems in the Arlington camp, Allen emphasizes that "we're pulling for the Legion team to go all the way in the tournament and will just have to make the necessary adjustments until they return."

Woodard, a tough 180 - pounder, was a standout in the defensive backfield last fall and also works some at offensive fullback.

LeStarge was the regular safetyman as a junior who also operated at offensive quarterback. Tom will work at both quarterback and halfback this fall.

Frase is able to go at either tackle or guard and packs 200-plus pounds.

IN ADDITION to the trio of seniors currently engaged in the Legion tournament, Arlington High boasts eight other returning lettermen from a club that won three of eight games in 1964.

Loser Bows Out of Meet

Omaha Edges Heights in Tournament Opener, 1-0

(Special to Paddock's Sports Department)

Arlington Heights and Lyndhurst, N. J., two Legion baseball teams extremely interested in extending their visit to South Dakota by a few days, will square off tonight (Thursday) at 8:30 in the American Legion World Series.

The winner is assured of remaining in Aberdeen, S. D. for at least two more days, gaining a slot in the 7 p.m. contest Saturday.

The loser will bow out of the double elimination tournament.

Arlington and Lyndhurst dropped contests Tuesday on opening day in the Legion World Series. Omaha, Neb. nipped Coach Lloyd Meyer's Arlington nine, 1-0, and Ontario, Calif. belted the New Jersey outfit, 8-3.

In contests yesterday (Wednesday) Charlotte, N. C., national runnerup in 1964, was slated to tangle with Berlin, N. H., and Portland, Ore. was hooked up with Memphis, Tenn.

A run with two outs in the sixth inning was all Omaha needed to bump Arlington Heights Tuesday, 1-0.

THE NEBRASKA entry used a walk, wild pitch, and single to the left of short for the decisive run in the Series cliff-hanger.

Southpaw Tom Lundgren, who worked eight innings for Arlington, got out of an earlier jam in the sixth when Jerry Fink turned an attempted sacrifice bunt into a double play to clear the bases.

Lundgren pitched creditable baseball for the losers, fanning 13 and allowing only three hits over eight frames.

Paul Splittorff worked the ninth for Heights and got the side in order on three infield grounders.

Arlington had trouble with the offerings of George Stilen, Omaha's big left-hander.

THE LOSERS picked up only two safeties off Stilen, a first inning single by John Loughman that went off the second baseman's glove and an eighth inning smash by pinch hitter Splittorff.

Stilen, who had worked 40 innings without issuing a walk, did issue two free passes Tuesday. He struck out ten.

Loughman singled to lead off the first inning, but Stilen got Thad Woodard and Mark Newman on strikeouts and Rich Hoppe on a tap to the mound.

HOWIE WINKELHAKE walked to lead off the third, but once again Stilen escaped without any damage. He got Lundgren on a pop to third, Loughman on a drive to center, and Woodard on a pop to first.

Arlington had another base runner in the fourth when Hoppe reached on an error with one out, but a strikeout and infield grounder checked this threat.

Lundgren walked with two outs in the fifth, but Stilen got Loughman to pop to first. Arlington went down in order in the sixth and seventh and picked up its second and final hit in the eighth when Splittorff batted for Lundgren and slapped a safety between third and short.

SPLITTORFF'S ONE-base knock came with one out, but once again Stilen, the Omaha southpaw, pitched out of trouble.

Arlington went down in order in the ninth.

The loss was only Arlington's fifth in 46 games this summer and second in 15 tournament outings.

Score by innings:

Omaha	000 000 100—1-3-1
Arlington	000 000 000—0-2-1

Statistics Show

Collins, Donahue Head Lions' Nine

Pitcher-third baseman Tom Collins topped the Lions of Arlington Heights in batting for the 1965 season, official team statistics revealed this week.

Collins rapped out 42 hits in 142 trips to the plate for a team-leading .296 mark. He also drove in 18 runs.

The Lions didn't play any games last week and concluded the extensive summer campaign under Coach Larry Nomellini with a 22-30-1 record. They were 10-6-1 in the Winnemac Park league.

NEXT IN line behind Collins in the offensive totals was shortstop Tom Epperly with a .277 standard. Epperly was the club leader in runs-batted-in with 24.

Other boys who batted more than 100 times this summer were Tom McDonald (.230), Jerry Donahue (.224), and Dan Collins (.219). Dan topped the team in runs scored with 27.

Donahue was the mound leader with an 8-8 record and 2.63 earned run average for 102 1/3 innings of work. Jerry worked in 19 games, struck out 125, walked 75, and allowed 67 hits.

Collins toiled in 18 games and finished with a 5-8 record and 2.88 earned run average. He struck out 61 and walked 35, allowing 94 hits in 85 innings.

MARK WALINSKI, who will be a freshman at St. Viator, was a pleasant hill surprise with a sparkling 1.92 earned run average for 51 innings. He posted a 3-3 record, striking out 38 and walking 10.

Other pitchers who were used in more than 30 innings by Nomellini were Tom McDonald and Mike Miller.

McDonald worked in 38 innings with a 2-3 record and 4.23 earned run average. Miller was 1-6 over 38 1/3 frames. He had a 5.25 earned run mark.

$100,000 Added Lassie

Two-Year-Olds in Arlington Feature

An assembly of the nation's finest two-year-old fillies are set to go postward in Saturday's $100,000 added Arlington-Washington Lassie over 6½ furlongs at Arlington Park.

The annual event, which carries the largest purse of any juvenile filly race in the country, should find at least 10 visiting the starting gate.

Also riding in the spotlight during Washington Park Jockey Club's fourth week of activity at the Northwest Side oval is Thursday's (today) $15,000 added Prairie State Stakes, at six furlongs for Illinois-foaled two-year-olds.

Trying to get back on the winning trail in the Lassie will be Abraham I. Savin's Native Street, gray daughter of the famed Native Dancer, who suffered an unfortunate break and wound up third in the Lassie Trial Aug. 18.

AFTER BREAKING fourth in the Trial, Native Street, who went undefeated in her first three starts, including the Astoria and Monmouth Sorority, started her move on the outside over the rain-drenched oval, when a clump of mud hit the speedster in the eye.

She recovered well enough to get show honors, but deserved a much better gate. And jockey Manuel Ycaza will again make the journey to ride the Florida-bred filly' who has earned $103,918.

Waiting in anxiousness to oppose Native Street are C. W. Smith's Pride's Profile and Bloomin Hills, Forrest and Gordon's Ole Liz, winner of the Lassie Trial, C. V. Whitney's Silver Bright, Clifford Lussky's Justakiss and Miss Quickstep, J. Kell Houssels' Cute Rita, Sidney C. Gray's Neat 'N Sweet, Llangollen Farms' Nancy, T. I. Harkins' Perfecto Mia, J. Graham Brown's Olive Oil, and John M. Olin's Azeez.

HAVING RACED throughout the East and West, Pride's Profile has won the Schuylerville at Saratoga, and been third in the Cinderella at Aqueduct, Hollywood Lassie and Adirondack.

Her presence may also bring an appearance from Don Pierce, well-known New York rider.

Three-time stakes victress Ole Liz, whose three-length romp in the Trial came as somewhat of a surprise after a trio of bad performances, will have to be supplemented by the dual owners at a cost of $15,000, but remains a more than likely starter.

STARTING OUT HER juvenile campaign with a flourish, Ole Liz won the second division of the Bewitch Stakes and the Debutante at Churchill Downs this spring before suffering the setback.

Now back on the win groove, Ole Liz will again be ridden by Bill Shoemaker if made eligible. She has won $55,225.

Having dominated the local filly stakes crown until Ole Liz took over, Justakiss won the Mademoiselle and Majorette, both in very impressive style. However, she was a disappointing fourth in the Trial.

THE IRISH LANCER distaffer will again find Ray York in the irons. She has won the first division of the Bewitch and was runner-up to Ole Liz in the Debutante in Kentucky.

A come-from-behind runner, Justakiss owns a potent stretch kick, and is especially tough when rated properly. Stablemate Miss Quickstep showed a great amount of speed in races earlier here this summer before bucking her shins and being forced to the sidelines. However, she's now back in serious training, and may also be started.

Silver Bright, a daughter of the powerful Barbizon, was runner-up finisher to Ole Liz in the Trial, while making only her fourth career start. She ran out in California, then broke her maiden at Arlington about a week before the stake.

The $71,000 yearling purchase Azeez looked very good in recently breaking her meiden, and may be entered here.

R. J. Sabinske's fine juvenile Porter County, who equalled the track mark for five furlongs with a :57 4/5 clocking earlier this year, is a probable starter in the Prairie State, open to both colts and geldings as well as fillies this year for the first time. A good field is anticipated.

FOR THE CHAMPS. Bob Paddock, vice president and sports promotion director of Paddock Publications, Inc., unwraps the trophies that will be presented to the winners in the Fifth Annual Paddock Publications Mixed Doubles tennis tournament. The tourney will get under way Saturday morning at the Arlington High School courts. Bob and Marjorie Fink of Palatine have taken top honors for three straight years. (Staff Photo)

Line Needs Rebuilding

Gliwa Starts Third Year At St. Viator

by BOB FRISK

Joe Gliwa, who is starting his third year as head football coach at St. Viator High School, sees an "interesting" season for the varsity Lions and an "evenly matched Chicagoland Prep League."

"Most of the teams in the league lost several seniors by graduation and will have to fill some holes," Gliwa said. "St. Patrick (the unbeaten champ) and DeLaSalle both lost over 20 seniors."

Gliwa sent his Lions through their paces for the first time last week with the opener scheduled for Friday, Sept. 17, against Glenbrook South at the Glenbrook North stadium.

Gliwa is one of those Chicagoland coaches who saw several talented seniors pick up their diplomas last June. He'll have to find replacements for standouts like Steve McNamara, Tim Walinski, Andy Orgler, Gary Drabant, Chuck Heinrich, Gary Forston, Paul Carroll, and Larry O'Keefe among others.

REBUILDING the line will be of major concern for Gliwa, who could put a seasoned backfield against Glenbrook in the opener.

Lettermen up front are tackles Jack Helmer and Denny Forston, end Jim Hawley and guard Mike Valentine. Helmer was an all-conference selection on defense.

It's in the backfield where Gliwa has the experience.

Bob Stevens, the southpaw who fired a no-hitter for St. Viator in the state baseball tournament, and Mike Campana saw varsity action at quarterback last fall and are bidding for the No. 1 slot. Junior Bob Lehnert is also in the fight for the vital quarterback position.

Sun., Nov. 7, St. George (Forest View) 2 p.m.
Sun., Nov. 14, Bishop McNamara (Forest View) 1:30 p.m.

DENNY Wilkinson and Larry Snyder give Gliwa two veteran halfbacks and Bob Rogowski is available at fullback. Rogowski had a bout with injuries last season.

"It will take a couple weeks yet before we can really see how things are developing," Gliwa says, "but they've been working hard. We're not discouraged by any means. We have several new faces on the team this year."

Gliwa started out with 68 boys on the varsity and has trimmed the squad to 55. He doesn't contemplate any more cuts unless the situation dictates.

JOE GLIWA

ASSISTING Gliwa with the varsity is Len Sparacino, the man who guided St. Viator to second place in the state baseball finals. Tom Hansen is working with the sophs and John Zidd with the freshmen.

St. Viator was 6-2-1 last year and now stands 12-5-1 under Gliwa's tutelage.

The Lions will play six home games in the 1965 campaign with contests at the Arlington, Prospect, and Forest View stadiums. The home opener is Friday, Sept. 24, against Farragut at Arlington High School.

Cards' Football

Other monogram winners available are backs Steve Allen, Steve Ewart, and Dave Lockwood and linemen Bruce Hubbard, Don Lindmark, Kim Markshausen, Tom Reid, and Ron Thompson.

The major graduation losses were captains Mike Frase and Scott Somers and all-conference selections Charley Hood and Jim Stueber.

HOOD AND Frase ranked 1-2 in ground-gaining for '64, combining for 756 yards in 157 carries. Ewart, who is one of the returnees this season, was next in line with 107 yeards for 42 cracks.

Arlington poured in over 15 touchdowns in its first five contests last fall but was blanked in the final three outings.

The varsity Cardinals will play four home games this year and will conclude the season with two night tilts against Downers Grove (Oct. 29) and LaGrange (Nov. 5). Five of Arlington's eight contests will be played under the lights.

Arlington will travel for the season opener to Barrington (Sept. 19) and attempt to avenge a heartbreaking 26-20 setback that kicked off the 1964 slate.

The Cards open the West Suburban Conference schedule on Saturday, Sept. 25, at Glenbard West and then entertain Riverside - Brookfield (Oct. 1) in the home opener.

Knight Football

On the interior line—At tackle are Bill Dax, Ray Kleinhuzen and Kim Schier. At guard are Doug White, Jim Herod and Dan Agard. At center are John Jantec and Rick Bertoglio.

Othere being given a long look by Williams are Rick Furst and Steve Thompson, in the line, and Craig Peterson, at end.

JUNIORS with chances of making the varsity are Tom Lundstedt, at quarterback, and Bob DeStefanis, at fullback.

None of those aspiring candidates is a letterman, none has any varsity experience. No matter how well they do, they'll have a tough time matching the 1964 titlists.

Offense for last year's crew was led by Wayne Kuklinski, Bill Phillips, Rick Lytle, Tom Clow and Mike Spencer.

Kuklinski, an all-conference and all-state halfback selection, gained 358 yards rushing and caught six passes for 99 yards. He scored 42 points, third best in the M-SL. Big "Klu" also punted 33 times for 1,062 yards.

From the quarterback spot, Phillips completed 18 of 55 pass attempts for 439 yards and four TD's. He added 14 yards rushing to his offensive total which was tops among the Knights.

LYTLE, CLOW and Spencer racked up combined totals of 692 yards rushing, 75 yards pass receiving and 55 points. Clow's 24 points was 10th best in the league while Lytle's 5.9 yards per carry was Prospect's best.

Other pass catching duties were performed by ends Jim LaRocco and Greg Kowal, who snared 11 tosses for one score and 257 yards. LaRocco averaged 35 yards per reception.

In the line, six solid standouts held 1964 opponents to just 93.5 yards rushing per game and an average of only 6.5 points. Chief battlers in that forward wall were Dave Nelson, Mark Pasdiora, Steve Mestilow, Earle Smith, Wally Leutz and Steve Johnson.

Assisting Williams with varsity coaching are Gary Seymour and Dave Ziemek. Seymour, who is backfield coach, was trainer last year. Ziemek, head frosh coach in '64, is assistant line coach.

New trainer for the Knights is Tom Porter.

JV coaches are Chuck Aldrich and assistant Don Arseneau. They have 35 boys out seeking to repeat the junior varsity championship.

Dick Mudge is the headman at the sophomore level. His assistant is Fred Gaines, who is in his first year as football coach at Prospect. Those two will direct 32 soph candidates.

Over 65 boys came out for the Knights' frosh grid program. Earle Benoche and assistants Rick Farris, Don Berrett and Tom Shirmang will direct them through their "A" and "B" schedules.

Initial varsity football game of the season will be September 18 at North Chicago.

Chin's Restaurant Tops Red Division In Softball League

Chin's Restaurant toppled defending champion Jake's Pizza 9-2 to take the Red Division championship in the Mount Prospect Park District Men's softball league.

With the victory Chin's earned a berth in the Northbrook Tournament of Champions scheduled for August 31.

Chin's and Jake's battled three times during the season with Chin's taking two. The loss ended a long string of championships for Jake's Pizza.

In the White Division Friedrich's Funeral Home had an easier time and was in little danger of losing the title after the season was half over.

D & S Sport Shop and Harris Pharmacy battled to the wire in the Blue Division with D&S winning by one game.

Conley Gets Low Net in Roselle Golf

Con Conley and Joe Rand took the big honors last Dunday as the Roselle Men's Twilight Golf League wrapped it up for 1965.

The players took part in their annual individual handicap trournament at Golden Acres Country Club, and Conley and Rand took low net and low gross, respectively.

CONLEY WENT around Golden Acres in 95, but his 28 handicap gave him the net prize with 67. Rand fired an impressive 78, and his eight handicap gave him a net 70. That tied him for third with Gene Ernsting, who had 82-12-70. Second low net was the 68 recorded by 34-handicapper Jim Meshes.

Illini Launch Drills With Young Squad

Accent was on youth when Coach Pete Elliott welcomed the 1965 University of Illinois football squad for opening of fall practice yesterday (Wednesday). Twenty-nine sophomores are on the tentative 65-man invitation list.

Although the entire 1964 starting offensive backfield returns, Elliott has a total of only 12 lettermen. One of them, end Eddie Russell must be considered doubtful because of a knee injury suffered in last season's finale against Michigan State.

Proven backfield stars such as All-America Jim Grabowski, Fred Custardo, and Sam Price, plus several exciting new runners, will be operating behind an almost entirely inexperienced line.

The defensive wall, too, will be relatively untried. Linebacker Don Hansen, tackle Gary Eickman, and end Bo Batchelder provide some experience for a nucleus, and the "three deep" of Ron Acks, Dick Kee, and Phil Knell showed capability in off-season drills.

Russell, Grabowski, Custardo, Price, Hansen, Eickman, Acks, and Kee were regulars on either offense or defense last year.

One promising sohpomore, guard Lou Ambeac, New Orleans, La. (Xavier), has been ruled scholastically ineligible because of summer school grades.

By position, the squad includes 14 tackles, 10 guards, 11 ends, 10 halfbacks, seven fullbacks, five centers, five quarterbacks, two linebackers, and safetyman Acks.

The Illini assembled Tuesday when a picture session for news at 2 p.m. Workouts will be held twice daily.

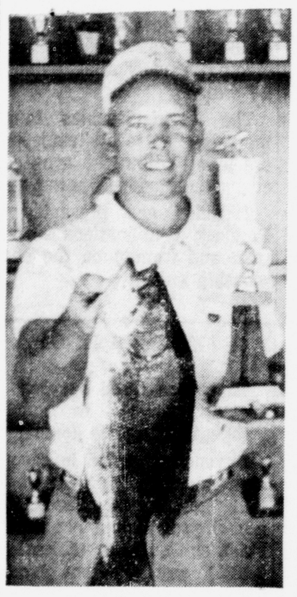
Just 17 days later, on Saturday, Sept. 18, the Illini open their home schedule against Oregon State, 1965 Pacific Coast representative in the Rose Bowl, now coached by former Illinois assistant Dee Andros.

Arneson Conquers Big Bass

A hefty catch was one of the rewards of a summer vacation for Ken Arneson, Forest View's varsity basketball coach.

Using a lure, Arneson hauled a four pound, five ounce smallmouth bass out of Lake Chippewa at Hayward, Wis.

For Arneson, of 741 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, it meant a "Fisherman of the Week" award from the Hayward Lakes Resort Association. And it may mean a little more. The association—at season's end—will hand out 40 trophies and a grand prize for the anglers with the most impressive catches.



KEN ARNESON

Another Paddock area resident in the running for the prizes is Bill Page of 150 Prospect, Roselle. He landed a three pound, two ounce smallmouth with live bait on Grindstone Lake near Hayward, and he too was designated a "Fisherman of the Week."

Panthers In Protest Of Loop Loss

An official protest has been filed with the Central States Football League by the Chicagoland Panthers, according to the team's general manager, Marty O'Connor.

The protest—following a wild 39-33 loss to the Lake County Rifles—was based on a Panthers charge that the Lake County squad had the wrong numbers on its backs and ends. League rules specify that halfbacks should be numbered in the 40's and the ends in the 80's.

COACH CHICK Jagade said he protested before the game, asking that officials see that the numbers be changed, but was ignored. He said the numbering hurt his team because he had drilled his defensive unit to cover certain numbers, and they had to change strategy during the game.

Northwestern Opens Drills

Seventy-two candidates for Northwestern's 1965 "new look" football team reported to Dyche Stadium yesterday (Wednesday) to start practice for the Wildcats' 78th season of varsity football.

Most of the first day's workouts were devoted to physical exams and picture-taking. Two-a-day workouts follow as the Wildcats prepare for their season's opener against the University of Florida at Dyche Stadium, Sept. 18.

Coach Alex Agase, in his second year in charge of the Wildcats, will build his team around a nucleus of 20 lettermen. Giving his team a new look offensively will be the shift from the pro-type passing offense of the past three years to an attack in which the quarterback is expected to run as often as pass.

KEY FIGURE IN the revamped offense will be senior Dave Milam, a scrambling type quarterback who earned two letters as relief man for the graduated Tom Myers.

However, Milam may face heavy competition from three sophomores who could be in the battle for the starting assignment. They are: Denny Boothe, who was awarded another year of eligibility after a hand injury prevented his varsity debut last year; Rick Venturi, the starting quarterback on last year's freshman team, and Bill Melzer, one of the pleasant surprises of spring practice.

All three made headway when Milam missed most of spring practice after suffering a shoulder separation in a skiing accident.

THE REMAINDER of Agase's likely starting backfield appears well set with veterans. Returning at halfback are last year's starters, Ron Rector and Woody Campbell, both 200-pounders, while 220-pound letterman Bob McKelvey should give Northwestern its biggest starting fullback in many years.

Anchor man of the offensive and defensive lines, which were revamped in spring practice, is All-American candidate at end, Cas Banaszek. Cas, who caught 27 passes last year to set a record for Northwestern sophomores, is likely to see action on defense as well as offense, and is described by Agase as "certainly one of the outstanding two-way players in the nation."

Other key returning veterans include tackles Jim Burns, Mike Beinor, Ken Ramsey and Jerry Oberdorf; offensive ends Mike Donaldson and Dick Smith; guards Jeff Brooke, Jim Haugsness and Dennis Yanta; linebacker Bob Otterbacher and defensive backs Phil Clark, Mike Buckner and Bob Hampton.

ONE OF THE main rebuilding jobs facing Agase is at defensive end, where no veteran returns. However, Alex was encouraged by the spring practice performances at that position by three juniors — John McCambridge, Bob Tubbs and Walt Geister. Geister was shifted to end after lettering at guard last year.

Among the sophomores expecting to play prominent roles, in addition to the three new quarterback prospects, are guards Bruce Gunstra and Bob Reeder, tackle Sandy Smith, end Don Anderson and defensive halfback Tom Garretson.

Sportsman's Notebook

KEN KNOX
Outdoor Editor
CLearbrook 3-1520

ASK SUBURBIA'S OUTDOORSMAN what's troubling him, and he may tell you this: There's nowhere to go. Not, at least, without a pilgrimage.

The complaint is being voiced more each year by sportsmen in search of places to hunt, fish, camp, hike or whatever. It's a product, mostly, of the very expansion—the land-gobbling migration—that brought the sportsman to the suburbs. And it's a problem especially acute for the hunter.

Common indeed is the plight of the hunter who sets out with shotgun and game bag on his day off in search of a little sport and meat for the table. That "setting out" is increasingly becoming a major project, with the staking out of a hunting plot more demanding than flushing a ringneck or ferreting out a rabbit.

The hunter needs land with room to walk and room to shoot, land with enough cover and food to sustain nature's sporting creatures. What the hunter is apt to find—on land that boasted a rich bounty of game a few years back—is a row of split-level nests, or a covey of warning signs from farmers reluctant to have outsiders tromp on and shoot up their territory.

If you've experienced the problem—and I suspect most of us have—take heart. There is at least a flicker of hope, evidence that someone knows and cares.

THE U.S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE is giving more than a little attention to the challenge. The latest in a continuing series of department attacks is a direct appeal to the good sense and pocketbook of the landowner. You may never have heard of it, because it's a provision tucked away in what is called Title VI, Cropland Adjustment Program, Food and Agriculture Act of 1965.

That program is the one by which farmers are paid by the government to keep some of their land out of production. The new wrinkle—the one that holds some hope for suburbia's sportsman—is this: there's more money in it for the farmer if he then opens up the land to hunters, fishermen, trappers, hikers and the like. The only stipulations are that the land be opened to the general public, and that there be no charge. The only restrictions are the usual state and federal hunting and fishing regulations that may apply.

The plan—OK'd by the House of Representatives in the past two weeks—is heartening because it recognizes a nub of the problem, and proposes to do something about it. The same legislation in which it's contained also provides for buying up land and setting up programs for the preservation of open spaces, natural beauty spots, wildlife and recreational resources.

It's part of what seems to be a growing responsiveness by the agriculture department—and certainly the Department of the Interior—to the need for the saving of some hunting ground, some fishing holes, a few green spots in bustling and burgeoning America.

We hear a lot these days about big government, and the cry that it's reaching its hand into every hamlet and home in the land. But let's not overlook the times that hand is trying to help, when private citizens are too busy or too shortsighted to care. The sportsman—if not the wildlife—ought to appreciate the efforts in his behalf.

HAVE YOU NOTICED the immense number of birds—especially blackbirds and grackles—that have been packing up to check out for the more southerly climes? As early as two weeks ago—mid-August—the birds were swarming by the hundreds and feeding heavily, with some apparently already flying in those long processions south. It's one of nature's unmistakable signs, and were I given to the leanings of Waukegan's bearded prophet of perch, I might predict hard times are coming early.

One thing does seem certain. Dove season, which opened yesterday, may be a fairly fruitless affair this year, despite its long duration and liberal limits. The mourning dove, that most fickle of migratory birds, has been showing his discontent with the dreary and chilly weather in the only way he knows: with a whirr and by the dozen, he's saying goodbye.

An Irish Family

Nick and Kevin Rassas give Notre Dame a brother combination for the 1965 season. Nick (6-0, 180, senior) was the safety-man last year, handled punt and kickoff returns, and played as an offensive halfback. His younger brother, Kevin (6-1, 190, sophomore) is an offensive end candidate. Their Dad, George, now a contractor in Winnetka, Ill., was a monogram end on the 1940 Irish team.

TIM JILEK, a sophomore at Prospect High School, proudly displays the trophy he won at the National Bicycle Championships held at the Encino Velodrome, Los Angeles, Calif. Tim finished eighth in total points in a field of 65 junior riders which included 30 state champions and runnerup qualifiers. He was the leading scorer from the Midwest. Jilek, who lives at 20 W. Sha-Bonee, Mount Prospect, is wearing the silver medal he won in cycling competition during the Illinois Sports Council Summer Pentathlon. The award was presented by Governor Otto Kerner. Five Lettermen Return

Strong Nucleus for Falcons' Football

by MICHAEL HESS

Only five football lettermen are back at Forest View, but those five may be enough

There are 40 candidates for coach Bob Scott's 1965 FV grid squad. Just five earned emblems during the Falcons' 4-4 season last year.

Pat Dunnigan, Steve Mueller, Chuck Boesenberg, Jim Rennhack and Jim Baumgardt are the returnees. That quintet may be all that's needed for Forest View improvement.

Leading the Falcons one year ago was halfback Dunnigan. He rushed for 592 yards, passed for 38 yards and scored 30 points. He was also a standout in the defensive backfield.

MUELLER and Boesenberg split the 1964 quarterbacking chores.

Most of the field generaling was performed by Mueller. He scored 12 points, completed 34 passes for 328 yards and three touchdowns and rushed for six yards.

Boesenberg rushed for 24 yards and connected on five tosses for 33 yards. He was also the Falcons' place kicking specialist and hit on eight PAT's.

Pass catching duties last season were done by ends Rennhack and Baumgardt. They'll be back at the same posts when FV opens its season Sept. 18 against Downers Grove South.

Only other player back who has varsity experience is halfback Tom Coskey. He was promoted from JV ball for the final three games last year and gained 49 yards.

IN THE LINE, other former JV players will fill the gaps. One guard position might be taken by Mike Severns while Bruce and Brian Lampert and Alan Gildemeister will argue over the tackle spots. Jerry Adams is getting a tryout at center.

Defensively the only names coach Scott mentioned were Pete Phillips and Bob Walther. Either or both may open in the defensive end positions.

"The team has worked very hard in practice," offered Scott. "They seem dedicated and have a lot of spirit. They're willing to give everything they've got."

Missing from the line-up this year are several key performers from 1964.

Bob Coon, Bob Kohn and Chet Lowiec were all in the backfield last year. They combined for 360 yards rushing and 13 points scored.

THE ENTIRE interior line has graduated. Al Inzerello, John Edie, Mike Colovos, Bill Grunwald and Steve Carponelli formed a forward wall which held opponents to under seven points in four different games one year ago.

Edie was also the FV punter. He averaged 30 yards per kick on 28 attempts. His is another gap which headman Scott and his assistants will have to fill.

Hal Henson, line, and Dick Ohl, backfield, are helping Scott with the coaching duties for the varsity.

On the junior varsity, Paul Jordan assisted by Norm MacGregor are the coaches. There are 35 out for JV ball.

KEITH NORTH is the director of sophomore grid activities. He will be aided by Randy Dowell in putting the 40 soph performers through their paces.

Over 60 freshmen turned out for football this season. The frosh "A" coach is Bob Adams assisted by Dave Theesfeld while Ken Arneson and Gay Hughes will handle frosh "B" direction.

Seniors Should Help Wheeling's Grid Team

by MICHAEL HESS

"Senior" is a word Wheeling High School's football team could celebrate.

One year ago, when the gridiron 'Cats were composed of juniors and sophomores, their record was 0-8.

This year, with an additional class, coach Bill Daletski's eleven is looking confidently toward a start up the winners' ladder.

Wheeling is now a four-year school. Having seniors, older, bigger, more experienced, should improve the Wildcats' football efforts.

OF COURSE NOT improving on Wheeling's 1964 record would be difficult. The 'Cats were hammered 26-0, 48-0, 52-0 and 61-6 on the way to eight straight defeats. They were outscored 256 to 32 in all contests.

Counted on to bring improvement are many who played on last year's outmanned entry. Coach Daletski has 19 lettermen back for another try.

How have the Wildcats performed since practice started? "We're two weeks ahead of last year," answered Daletski. "We've made tremendous progress."

In the Wheeling backfield there will probably be three seniors and a junior.

At quarterback could be Rick Haddock. He performed there for the sophomore team last year. The fullback spot may go to Ken Traversone, who has shifted from end where he played in '64.

All games will be preceded at noon by a junior varsity preliminary game.

THE RUNNING BACK will be Tom Manderscheid while Tom Neukrantz and Jerry Kerr could go at wingback. Neukrantz is also capable of playing in the quarterback spot.

Missing from the backfield picture is senior Mark Newman. Newman, who may miss the opening game against Maine South Sept. 18, is currently traveling with Arlington's Legion baseball team. He played quarterback last year.

Wheeling's top ground gainer one year ago was Jim Bowker. He'll be used as a split end-pass receiver this season.

BILL DALETSKI

Along the line, those slated for duty are Ryan Sarti, a junior, Mike Guiney, Steve Zasadny, Jim Whittington, Ted Armstrong, Jim Hatfield and Tony Stoik. Linebackers will be Tom Traversone, Mike Henley and John Hitman, all juniors.

AND HOW DOES the team compare with last year's aggregation? Responded Daletski: "The line should be much faster and heavier than last year. With Haddock our passing could be much stronger. He has looked good so far and he's a good runner.

"Also, we didn't have any linebackers one year ago. The three we have now should help us a lot there and improve our defense."

Assisting Daletski with his varsity coaching are Steve Chernicky and Bob Schulze. Chernicky and Schulze handle the line while Daletski takes care of the backfield.

HEAD JUNIOR varsity director is Frank Miller. He is aided by Dave Casey. Bob Tipsword, assisted by Wayne Selvig, coaches the sophs.

Nat'l Conveyor Takes Title in Twilight Golf

Though its final margin slipped to three points, National Conveyor held on to take first place in the Arlington Heights Twilight gold league.

Harris Pharmacy and New Emerald Cleaners vaulted past Lauterburg & Oehler into a second place tie at 114 points. Five teams ended within 5½ points of the top spot.

In closing play, a low gross 36 and low net 34 were posted by John Andrup. As the number one man of National Conveyor, his scores kept NC ahead of the pack.

Harris Pharmacy was led by the round of Ralph Danek. Leading New Emerald Cleaners, which jumped from 9th to 2nd place, was Charlie Kleinofen.

Two birdies were posting on the last night by Andrup and Joe Wundsam. Others with single birdies were Kleinofen, Ken Seeger, Chuck Jevne, Bud Horcher, Don McGowan, Stan Luczak, George Blaar, Len Haines and league secretary Hank Styczykowski.

Tennis Team 3rd, 4th in Chicago District Action

The Arlington Heights Park District Tennis Team captured a third and a fourth in the recent Chicago District Tennis Association Tournament at Hinsdale.

Rick Tindall and Paul Stevens sparked Arlington's third place finish in the 14 and under class by capturing the number one doubles crown.

Tindall and Stevens defeated Salt Creek's Bernard and McGorman, 6-1, 6-3 for their victory. Greg Harris, Bill Stelling and Bob Crockett also registered impressive wins.

Arlington's fourth place finish in the 18 and under class was made possible by the play of Jim Esser and Dave Milligan.

Esser won the number five singles championship by defeating Robinson of Hinsdale in the finals 7-5, 7-5.

Milligan, despite a sprained ankle, advanced to the finals of the number two singles only to be beaten by John Alden of Brentwood, 6-1, 8-6.

Bob Galagher teamed with Esser, and Brian Burke teamed with Milligan to register a victory apiece in the double events.

Playoff Coming

Only one more night remains before the playoff between the first and second half winners in the Northwest Suburban YMCA golf league.

The two playoff teams probably will be the Mount Prospect State bankers and the Novak and Parker outfit.

A "head on" battle marked last week's play between Eidamiller Realty and Novak & Parker with Novak topping the previous leaders for a two and one-half point advantage.

Although the weather was warm and humid, the scores were not record-breakers. Ed Then of Ladendorf Oldsmobile came in with a neat one-over-par 36 for low gross honors.

Other low gross leaders were Max Pemoller and Ed Nixon with 40s and George Silianoff and Dick Dixon with 41s.

Low net honors went to Then with a 33 and Bart Kenny and Fred Heisler with 34s. Pemoller had a 35.

Webber Paint Claims Title

The Rob Roy Tuesday night league wound up its season with Webber Paint in first place and Stone Perforating nailing down second place with a 5½ to 1½ victory over the first placers on position night.

The Paint squad was fortunate to have a big lead as the Stone gang, led by Mike Spinello with a one under par 35, Marsh Balling 42-4-38, Joe De Michele 43-6-37 and Clare Reed 46-8-38, ended up only 4½ points back of the winners.

Mike had birdies on 12, 13 and 17 in racking up another one of his par shattering rounds and helped insure his team their second place finish.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS Barber team ended up in third place after having held the lead and/or second place most of the season. The Barber team was held to a 3½ to 3½ stand off by Prospect Heights Pharmacy mainly due to the fine play of Ken Miller, No. 1 man for the Pharmacy, who tied Spinello for league low gross with a 35-2-33 for his best round of the season.

Art Bradley, shooting in the No. 2 slot for Kirchhoff Insurance, clubbed around the back nine in 39-6-33 to tie Miller for league low net.

The league trophies will be distributed to the first and second place teams and also to the flight winners and alternate winner. The flight winners were: No. 1 men — Wally Strack; No. 2 men — Vince Hoffman; No. 3 men — Bill Asher and No. 4 men — Ken Keppen. The alternate winner was Elmer Frelk.

Birdies for the night were shot by the following players: Kelly 12; Zanini 1,3; Strack 10; Pruyn 13; Spinello 12, 13, 17; Bradley 18; C. Peterson 12; Erven 18; Miller 12, 16, 18.

Mt. Prospect Electric Co. Takes Honors

Capping an amazing stretch drive with a final night grand-slam victory, Mount Prospect Electric Construction Co. last week wiped out Carter Music Shop 10-0, dropping the musicians into second place in the final standings and earning the electricians the 1965 first-place trophy in the Mount Prospect Tuesday league.

The electricians' drive toward the Tuesday division championship began June 15 when they won a modest 6½-3½ victory over Keefer's Pharmacy. Since that date they amassed an amazing total of 72 points, climaxing the drive with victories of 10-0 over Licht's Paint Store, 9-1 over Morton Pontiac, and the final 10-0 match against Carter Music.

The position night scheduling of Paddock tourney winners, Carter Music Shop against second place Mount Prospect Electric had promised to be an exciting match. Unfortunately, Carter's players were tight while the electricians, with second place already cinched and with nothing to lose were loose.

CARTER'S NEVER knew what hit them. The defeat was only their third one this season, the best record in the league, but while Carter's was winning points since the middle of the season at a rate of 5½ to 7 points per night, the Electricians were piling them up at a 7 to 9 rate.

The one-sided result of the final night's match surprised everyone and was the first time in league history that the championship was decided by a grand-slam shut-out.

Rather appropriately for the league's silver anniversary year, Walt Peterson, the electricians' "A" player, is one of the original members of the league, and a past president. Other team personnel are Howard Ross, captain and "B" player; Dick Elliott, "C" player; Joe Danna, "D" player; and Jim Dick, "E" player.

IN THE CLOSELY contested final night battle for third place, Keefer's Pharmacy came up with a timely 7½-2½ victory over incumbent Morton Pontiac, which gave the pharmacists the third place trophy.

The remaining matches were more closely contested. The Kersting Garden Center — Kirchhoff Insurance match ended in a 5-5 tie, as did the Busse-Biermann-Moler Barber Shop match, and the Thunderbird Bowl vs. Licht's Paint Store match.

Kruse's Tavern and Restaurant wound up the season on the up-beat, with their second victory of the year, a 5½-4½ squeaker over Wille Lbr. & Fuel. It wasn't enough, though, to lift the Schlitzers out of final residency in the basement.

Low shooters for the night were Ron Scherer, 36, Len Johnson, 37, and Jim Driscoll, 38.

Birdies were reported by Don Snyder on 4; Pat Danna, 10; Jim Viger and Jim Driscoll, 13.

Bainbridge's Entry Tops Friday League

by ELMER BLASCO

The new champion of the Mount Prospect Friday Night Twilight Golf League is the Bainbridge Apartment quintet led by Captain Dudley Hartman who, last Friday night, climaxed a season-long climb toward the championship by soundly trouncing the Meeske Super Marketeers of Captain Ed Berset 9.5 to 2.5.

And, they did it the way champions are supposed to do it. In second place by a mere 1.2 points before the evening's firing opened up, they took on first place Meeske and bombed them into second place by taking four of the five matches and halving the fifth.

With the standings juggled during the week by a final audit of the season's scores, the season-long leaders — the Mount Prospect State Bankers led by Captain Dick Piehl — though seven points back of the lead made a final run at the lead with a 7.5 to 4.5 win over the third place William-Gray Company five of Captain Ray Felitto, but the Bainbridge Apartment margin of victory was just too much to overcome.

WITH A 1.2 point deficit to make up in the standings, the Bainbridge Apartment five of Captain Dudley Hartman, Holmes McLendon, Jim Insolia, Don Quigley and Ed Deringer went to work on the Meeskemen in earnest over Mount Prospect's front nine.

Captain Hartman opened up their "now-or-never" crack at the title by leveling substitute Captain Cass Holda with a two up card that included a bird on the par four 349 yard fifth. No. 2 man Holmes McLendon then followed suit with a three and two win over Meeske's Jim Scott, and the Bainbridge men began thinking about where to put the trophies.

Bainbridge's Jim Insolia then nailed down the win by adding three points to the scoreboard with his three and two win over Al Glover, and Don Quigley posted another win to the Bainbridge total by downing Marnel Veleta.

ONLY BILL Mottweiller could save face for the ex-leaders by using a bird on the par three 160 yard seventh to halve his match with Ed Deringer, but the damage had long since been done and the Bainbridge five owned the championship.

The final win, and the championship of this tough Mount Prospect league, was all the more sweet for the Bainbridge crew in the light of their 16 week climb to the title.

On May 7th, they were in eighth place. On June 11th, they had managed to climb to seventh. Their big move came in July byw hich time they had scrambled into third place, and then they spent the rest of July and August in second or third place until the final evening when they took home all the marbles.

FOR THE Mount Prospect State Bankers of Captain Dick Piehl, it was a disappointing finish. They had led the league for almost all of the season only to stumble for one night during the last three weeks of the season left without enough time to recover.

But they tried! Only 2.4 points out of third place, and a slightly longer seven out of first, they went after Captain Ray Felitto's William-Gray Company quintet, who were hoping for a Bainbridge-Meeske dead-lock and a lop-sided win of their own to make up the five points they were behind the leaders.

Piehl got his Bankers off to a good start when his bird on the par four 343 yard eighth gave him a one up win over Felitto. But the title began to slip when George Miscevich could do no better than a halved match with W-G Ed Kerkert.

JOHN BURCK then went all out for the Bankers as he dropped a five and four win on Hank Koht with the low net of the evening, 41-9-32. Williams-Gray Jack Buyers held Banker Ken Arnold to a halved match, and it had now become a struggle for third place for the Bankers.

Bob Rinehart insured the third place finish by winning the last hole from Walt Rutkowski after Rutkowski had dropped a 15 foot birdie putt on the par four eighth. This final win enabled the Bankers to finish the season in third place by only six-tenths of a point.

Fifth place in the fourteen team Mount Prospect loop was buttoned up solidly by Captain Bill Harner and his Arlington Cameramen. Harner and his Cameramen took all five matches from Captain Joe Wylie's F.B.K. Realtors to post an 11-1 win and end the season as the only other team over the 100 point mark.

ARLINGTON Cameraman Dick Stone ended the season without a putt. He carded the final bird of the season by dropping a chip shot from off the edge of the green for a three on the par four eighteenth.

Other bird performances for this last night of the 1965 season were turned in by Carl Campbell of the Kruse five when he dropped a long putt for a three on the par four 268 yard thirteenth; by Don Campbell on the par five 485 yard fifteenth; and by Hal Leigeber on the par four 336 yard eleventh.

And just one more. This one by Ed Pool when he stroked a putt into the thirteenth hole for a three on the par four.

Last event on the schedule for Mount Prospect's Friday Twi-nighters will be their annual awards and prize banquet to be held September 25 at the Salt Creek Country Club.

For the also-rans in the 1965 season, there is only one thought upper-most in their minds . . . "now just when does the 1966 season open?"

F. J. Die Mold Tops St. Colette Golf; Beverly 2nd

F. J. Die Mold powered their way to the top in the final round of the St. Colette Golf League. One win and two ties were all that was needed to allow F. J. to take the top spot in the second round of the league. Bill Austin and Russ Niesen eked out ties, while the steady man, Ted Austin, won his match.

The second round winners meet the first round men in an 18 hole play-off for the final league winner. Quadriga Mfg. Co. had won the top spot in the first round and they are busy arranging matches for the play-off.

Second place went to Beverly Lanes on tallies by Jim Houldsworth and Bob Duffy. Third place was captured by E. J. Ryan Plumbing. Ryan's golfers whipped Quadriga Mfg. Co. 4 to 3. Ted Zielinski, Rod Peltier and Louie Pryby all defeated their opponents. Quadriga picked up their markers on wins by Oscar Dolleslager and Don Larson. Larson also picked up the low net with a fabulous 66-39-27.

All other matches were strictly anti-climactic since all other teams ended up in the second division. Lortie Plumbing downed Jim's Service 4 to 3. Ralph Swett, Phil Jarczyk and Glen Herbst won their matches for Lortie while Ed Cremerius and Dick Ulbrich scored for Jim's. Ulbrich's 51-19-32 took the low net.

Imprinting Service took everything from Interstate Steel. John O'Connor, Bob Wirth, John Gens and John Bryant all tallied for Imprinting. Low team and individual net also went to the Imprinters. Interstate's only marker was one-half point picked up on a tie by Len Bronke.

Monday Crown to Winkelmann Team; Illinois Range 2nd

Winkelmann's Shell Service defeated Busse Motor Sales 6-1/6 to 3-5/6 on position night to take the crown in the Monday night Mount Prospect Golf League.

The daylight hours had ceased to exist as several players from the Winkelman and Busse teams crowded around the green of the 9th hole to witness the conclusion of the match between Vern Schneider and Ed Luebcke.

As the two men sank their last putts, someone called out, "Who won"? Vern then replied, "We don't know — it's too dark to see the score card!"

As it turned out Vern had won the match which enabled Winkelmann's to wrap up the season at the top of the heap. Illinois Range slipped into the second place position by downing Picket Paint 8 to 2. Busse Motors will receive the third place trophies.

George Koehler played his usual fine game to come up with three points and win the most valuable player award with 20¼ markers. Paul Barnes and John Tate came in second with 18½ points each.

Birdies were ecorded by Chester Spak on hole 11, Paul Seleski on 13, Dick Wistar on 13, Ron Scherer on 15, and Carl Benrud on 18.

In Scratch Play

Keeley's 36 Tops Leaders

444 Press moved back into first place in the Old Orchard Scratch League last Friday, thanks to the excellent shooting of the team's sponsor, John Keeley, whose one over par 36 took the low gross honor and was mainly responsible for a large share of the points in a 5-3 win over Arlington Realty.

Only two matches were won by the Pressmen, but they still managed to have what it takes to come out on top, and in so doing they opened up a two point lead over Busse's Flowers with only one more night to play.

Bsuse's Flowers could have had a very disastrous night, but Dan Musser came through to win the only match for his team, and that, plus his low gross 37, salvaged 2½ points in their loss to L-Nor Cleaners.

MILES & MILES Inc. kept their hopes alive with a 5½-2½ win over Peters & Co. Realtors which left them in third spot only three and one half points behind the leaders. The feature match pitted Len Arnold against Mike Spinello, and Mike kept his undefeated record intact, although Len parred the last hole to halve the match.

This week will find them opposing each other again, as the schedule calls for a position round, and Peters will be trying to edge them out of third place.

Baird & Warner scored the most points of the night as they romped to a 7-1 win over Robert L. Nelson Realtors. Jim Neubauer's even par 36 that included an eagle three on the 14th was the highlight of this match, and No. 4 man Bernie Magneson came through with a very creditable 38.

Despite a one over par 36 by Bruno Waara, Pitzen Cartage was held to a 4-4 draw by Lohr's Pharmacy, and as a result of the 6-2 win scored by Haire Funeral Home over Bob Burrow Chevrolet, they find themselves in the league cellar all by themselves.

59ers Hold Fun Event

The Hoffman 59ers ladies Golf League held a "3 Club Fun Event" last week at Golden Acres Country Club.

Players were permitted to take along only a wood, a putter, and an iron. They were also asked to guess their scores on two of the holes.

The winners with two points each were Shirlee Griffith and Eleanor Schuster. Runners-up with a score of one point each were Mary Sayad, Ann Walder, Barbara Ross, Sharon Koppari, Kay Wojeik, Dorothy Pfeiffer, Sibyl Mann, Doris Morrissey, Lorraine Howe, and Ricki Grover.

Despite the disadvantage of being able to use only three clubs Shirlee Griffith posted a low gross of 58.

Despite the rain 40 golfers turned out Monday night at Old Orchard as the Arlington VFW Golf League closed out its season.

The Demarets walked off with the championship as they withstood the challenge of the Sneads, who trailed the leaders by only one point as play began.

The third place Walls had no trouble holding their position since the fourth place Hagens had only one member of its team show up for the final round of play.

Best round of the night was a 37 fired by Bob Pendergast. Don Chartrand's 44-10-34 and Bud Kreusch's 40-6-34 enabled them to share low net honors.

Paddock Bowlers In Season Warmup

The bowlers have warmed up—some to a scorching degree—for the 1965-66 Paddock Classic bowling season.

Striking Lanes in Mount Prospect was the site last Saturday night as the men of the Paddock Classic Traveling League and the women of the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League crashed through sweepers to christen the new campaign.

The big news among the men was the team from Jeffery Lanes, which won everything but its match. For the women, there was a familiar story: defending champ Steve's Restaurant Marge dazzling again. All of it was to introduce the bowlers to the public, and get them in the groove for the new PCTL and PWCTL grinds, which will begin Saturday evening, Sept. 11.

Jeffery Lanes, led by the flashy performance of Don Christensen, knocked down 2,994 pins in its set with Karlsen Pharmacy, a newcomer to the league that will bowl out of Striking Lanes. That was the best team total of the night. Jeffery also had the best team score for the one game, 1052 in its second game win over Karlsen's. And Christensen, soaring with 279 and then tapering to 243 and 169, had a 691 total, best of the evening, for individual game and series.

BUT THE Karlsen team, with close victories in the first and third games, actually ruled the match four points to three.

The series boasted some of the night's most impressive bowling. For Jeffery, in addition to Christensen, there were series of 631 from Paul Zubak and 601 from Hec Healey.

Karlsen's awesome brother act— Joe and Herm Simonis — stood out on their side. Joe, with remarkable consistency, put together a series of 232-220-230-682, while Herm made it 206-220-215—641.

THE BILL Cook Buick squad, bowling out of Rolling Meadows Bowl, took on another newcomer to the PCTL — City Welding from Thunderbird Bowl —and made it a clean sweep. Sparked by young Al Haase and Paul Borvig, the Buick men took all three games and the point for most pins in the series.

Haase was the best, getting 234-228-180 — 642, while Borvig had 226-200-202—628. For City Welding, Bill Smith's 247-205-192—644 was easily the best.

Another whitewash was authored by Morton Pontiac of Beverly Lanes, as it took everything from Sports Chalet, the representative from Jack Gunnell's. The story of the victory was one of amazing consistency, a balance that gave Morton a team series of 2957, second best of the night.

NOT A MAN among the victors was over 600 in his series, but the scores went like this: Les Zikes, 598; Bill Radunz, 598; George White, 593; John Miller, 589; and Ernie Koche, 579. The best for Sports Chalet was Tom Kouros' 579.

Pioneer Lanes, defending titlist among the men, was jarred by River Rand Bowl. With a big win in the first game, the Pioneers held on to win the point for most pins in the series, 2816—2752. But River Rand eked out victories in games number two and three and claimed the match.

George Schmidt of Pioneer, last year's individual average king, topped all the keglers in the series with 208-195-215—618. For River Rand, it was Ted Zimmerman with 170-209-233—612.

WHILE Pioneer was having its troubles, the Steve's Restaurant quintet from the ladies' loop showed it still has the classy touch. It took all the points for games and match in a 4-0 triumph over the Lattof Motors team. Winnie Lohse was high for Steve's—and the match —with a 203-191-171—565. Bonnie Kuhn contributed a 559 series to Steve's total 2622, best of the evening. The best for Lattof was the 539 aggregate of Rose Kraft.

Morton Pontiac, another power from last season, lost its first game to Rolling Meadows Bowl, but came back to win the second and third games and the total pins point. Ruth Baurhyte and Nancy Dietz, each with 513, led the Mortons. Tops for the losers was Jean Ladd, with a 521 total.

The hottest hand of the evening belonged to Evelyn Elarde of newcomer Striking Lanes, as she paced her team to a 4-0 blanking of River Rand Bowl. Evelyn, with a 221, 194 and 196, finished with a hefty 611 total. The next closest on her team was Marge Duffy's 519, while the best for River Rand Bowl was the 512 of Gloria Lucchesi.

DON CHRISTENSEN

The bowling meant nothing in terms of the Paddock Classic standings, but for the men and women, it will all begin for real in little more than a week. It will end, with the traditional rolloffs, next spring.

Les Zikes to Head Paddock Classic League

Les Zikes was elected president of the Paddock Classic Traveling League Saturday night as the high flying loop opened the new season with a sweeper.

Other officers selected by the bowlers included Ed Duff vice president, George Schmidt secretary and Hec Healey treasurer.

The league will open its regular season of competition Saturday, Sept. 11.

Sports Shop Planned for Striking Lanes

Strike-King Sports Shop is scheduled to open at Striking Lanes, routes 58 and 83, Mount Prospect, about Sept. 6, according to Herman Simonis, proprietor.

Simonis is a member of the Paddock Classic Traveling League, and formerly competed in the Chicago Classic loop.

The new sports shop will feature the Gil-Mac drilling machine, and a complete line of Brunswick and Hilton equipment

Luebcke Gains Spot in Public Links Golf Meet

Warren Luebcke, a sophomore at North Texas State University who prepped at Prospect High School, will vie with 20 other players Saturday in the Chicago Tribune's 22nd annual All-Star Public Links golf tournament at the Jackson Park course, 63rd and Stony Island.

Luebcke earned a spot in the links headliner with a semi-finalist position in the 51st annual Cook County men's amateur at the Columbus Park layout.

He was the sixth golfer with Paddock area affiliations to qualify for the public Links tourney.

Art Melnikoff of Arlington Country Club and Mike Spinello of Rob Roy gained tourney positions by finishing in the top four in the Midwest Amateur. White Pines in Bensenville has three players in the field thanks to high finishes in qualifying tournaments: Jim Urban, John Norton, and Bob Augustine.

Road Paving Cost Tops Estimate

A contract was tentatively awarded last week for paving Grove Street from State to Belmont and extending Pine Street south across Grove.

Although the low bid was $966 more than the $28,600 alloted for construction, the Arlington Heights Board of Local improvements received tentative authority to spend the additional amount.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson indicated the village board would be requested to make a supplemental appropriation, said BOLI president Sam Rudder.

MAYER PAVING Co., Skokie, outbid two other firms with an offer to do the work for $29,566. Rock Road Construction, Arlington Heights, bid $31,328 for installing the pozzylanic base. Allied Asphalt, Bensenville, bid $32,328.

The contract calls for completing construction within 40 days of its award. The award was made contingent upon village trustees alloting the additional money.

Bike Purchased For Two Cents

Purchase prices ranged from 2 cents to $45.25 in Arlington Heights' police bike auction last week.

According to Village Finance Director Stewart Grant, 510 bids were received on the 40 lost and abandoned bikes auctioned off by police. Brian Blix, 15 N. Reuter, submitted the successful 2 cent bid and took home a model that had been badly stripped before abandonment. Glenn Temko, 833 S. Cleveland Ave., took home a 10-speed racer with his $45.25 bid. Take it for a test drive. See if you pass.

The real test in a Volkswagen is to see if you know what driving really is. (If you think you're driving in other cars, then what you do in a VW is something else.)

Most cars give you all the lively moving sensation of sitting on your living room couch. But the VW isn't sprung like other cars. Its 4-wheel torsion bar suspension (the kind they have in racers) gives you the feel of the road. You always know what's going on because you know what your car's going on.

And you know what's coming, because you'll see more road than you ever saw before. (Our sloping hood doesn't cut off your view.)

When you twist the steering wheel a little, you can feel the front wheels turn a little. So you know the car's doing just what you told it to. (Doesn't that sound satisfying?)

We can tell you that the VW parks shorter than other cars, and maneuvers more easily.

But we can't tell you how it feels to drive one. So take the test.

Maybe you can tell us.

Want Ad

Each day I help dozens of your neighbors place their ads. I help them choose the best words to use, and make other suggestions so that their ads will do the best job at the lowest cost. I have helped people place ads to sell everything from automobiles to xylophones. I have written copy for help wanted ads, room for rent ads, lost and found ads, and I even prepare ads for people who want to buy hard-to-find items. My experience has taught me that Want Ads can do amazing things . . . things which sometimes can't be done any other way, or at such low cost. I want to help you too! If you have questions about Want Ads, I'll be happy to answer them. Won't you please call me soon?

Accelerates By Mistake, Hits Store

An 82-year-old Arlington Heights man was charged with failure to keep his vehicle under control and damaging village property after his car knocked down a meter stand at Dunton and Campbell and crashed into Flaherty Jewelers.

He is William F. Steffen, 128 S. Walnut Ave.

The incident took place at 6:25 p.m. last Thursday. Three display windows in the store were smashed, and their frames were damaged.

Steffen told police he was sitting in his parked car and thought the motor was off. He moved his foot to the brake pedal but hit the accelerator instead. (A

Hasbrook Residents Will Prod Township Board on Road Work

Hasbrook subdivision residents will have to call a special meeting of Wheeling Township electors to force improvement of Thomas Street.

The residents had hoped that the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) would enforce a state statute allowing municipalities to assess for improvements on contiguous unincorporated property.

Thomas Street, in North Arlington Heights, lies partly in the village and partly outside corporate limits, under township jurisdiction.

BOLI MEMBERS last week agreed with their attorney that testing the law would involve a great risk. Passed in 1963, it has never been tested in court.

Attorney Kenneth Stonesifer expressed doubts about the law's constitutionality. He said Illinois Supreme Court decisions have restricted the definition of local improvements to those enacted within corporate limits.

"What if they waited until the work was completed, and then went to court and we lost the whole thing?" asked BOLI member Harold Klingner.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Hasbrook Civic Association were urged to draft a petition and acquire the 15 signatures necessary for the calling of a special township meeting. A majority vote of the residents attending the special meeting would force the auditors to undertake special assessment proceedings for their section of the road.

(Hasbrook Civic Association president W. E. Morrison said Tuesday his group will present a petition to the township for a special meeting of electors after consulting with attorneys on its legal form. He said the association expects "many more" than the required 15 signatures.)

BOLI members assured the Hasbrook residents that once the township acted the village would initiate special assessment for its section of Thomas Street.

Since the Hasbrook subdivision contains 518 homes, BOLI commissioners were confident of the results of a special meeting.

The BOLI members have met with township officials to discuss the problem and found little enthusiasm for entering special assessment projects. The township officials indicated they had never undertaken the complicated assessment proceedings.

"THEY WANT it to go away," suggested BOLI member Russell Colvin.

According to a village engineering department study, the cost of improving Thomas Street from State Road to Wilke Road would be $167,840. The township's share would be $99,564, and the village's $68,275.

Abutting residents who benefit from the improvements would be assessed, but both the village and township would bear a "public benefit" share of the cost.

Thomas Street is a major thoroughfare into Hasbrook subdivision. For a considerable length only the village's portion is paved. It, Euclid Avenue and Palatine Roads form the only east-west streets in the village north of the railroad which extend to Rand Road.

IN A LETTER to BOLI, the civic association had written that "the road condition continues to deteriorate, contributing to dangerous safety factors, expensive and ineffective maintenance, decreased property values and unnecessary inconvenience."

The letter cites Village Atty. Jack Siegel as rendering an opinion that the law passed in 1963 is legal and enforceable.

Stonesifer, the BOLI attorney, said the section of the state constitution giving municipalities the right of special assessment and Supreme Court rulings do not establish a clear precedent for assessing unincorporated areas.

He added that the 1963 law did not establish a definite procedure for a municipality to involve non-resdients in a public hearing for a special assessment.

IMPROVEMENT OF Thomas Street "with all possible speed" was one of the pledges of the winning village Caucus Party slate in last April's elections.

Prowler Frightened

An Arlington Heights woman scared off an apparent burglar early last Wednesday.

Mrs. Donald Van Gorp, 538 S. Newbury, told police she heard a pounding noise at about 2:45 a.m. and went downstairs to investigate. A rear door was ajar, and there were pry marks on it.

Apaprently nothing was disturbed — except the intruder.

Drake Urges Safe Driving

Arlington Heights Safety Commission Chairman James L. Drake has urged residents taking to the highways during the holiday to use caution.

DRAKE noted that "most of the nation's 87 million vehicles are expected to be on the roads, traveling a record 8.9 billion miles from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday."

National Safety Council has predicted 500 to 600 traffic deaths, he noted, compared with the typical 440 deaths in a three-day period. Another 20,000 to 24,000 persons will suffer disabling injuries over Labor Day, Drake noted. (A

Pearl Harbor Survivors Group Plans Reorganization Meeting

The local chapter of the national Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, Inc., (PHSA) will meet in Joliet Sept. 12 to elect officers—the first step in the reorganization of the chapter.

"We are one of few organizations where all branches of the armed forces are welcome," explained Elmer H. Boehm of Buffalo Grove, membership chairman for the local chapter, which serves the northern part of Illinois.

PHSA, explained Boehm, is open to all members of the armed forces who served on the island of Oahu, or three miles off shore at the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

NEARLY A dozen men from this area are members of the association now, said Boehm, and the number of men eligible for the northern district chapter could amount to 150-300.

PHSA was founded in 1958 in California by a group of the survivors with the help of a local newspaper. Since that time more than 30 states have organized chapters, and the membership is growing constantly.

Much of the growth of PHSA has been experienced in the past two years, but Boehm was unable to offer an explanation for it.

Boehm said it would be hard to break down the number of service men who could be members because at the time of the attack Pearl Harbor was the center of all military activity in the Pacific.

A MEMBER OF the engineering section of the USS Curtiss, a sea plane tender, when the Japanese attack was launched against Pearl Harbor, Boehm said the national office of the association has a listing of the various units and as many members of the units listed as are known.

The Buffalo Grove resident said the Curtiss was hit on the boat deck during the attack and half the crew was knocked out by a second hit on the boat deck as the original fire was being fought.

Boehm said each chapter will prepare a history of the day from the experiences of the chapter's members.

A MEMORIAL service is held each year by the chapters on Dec. 7 and work is being started to make the day one of a national memorial service.

The Pearl Harbor Gram—the association's newspaper—is issued to members every three months from the national headquarters in Jefferson City, Mo.

Seven objectives of the association are listed in the national constitution and bylaws; among the aims are to keep alive the memory of those who perished in the attack and foster true patriotism.

"Remember Pearl Harbor—Keep America Alert" is the slogan on all the material sent to members.

BOEHM, WHO HAS been in the association nine months, said the Illinois chapter was organized in 1960. Meetings are held in various locations in the northern district to make it easy for all to attend.

"It would be unfair to hold all the meetings in this area when the district extends to Joliet," he explained.

The association is making plans to return to Pearl Harbor in 1966 and this will be one of the topics covered in the business meeting in Joliet in September.

Additional information on the association can be obtained from Boehm at LE 7-0370. (A-15

Social Security Manager Explains Larger Benefits

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of articles by Henry T. Williamson, Northwest Social Security district manager, 4255 N. Milwaukee, telling what the social security amendments of 1965 mean to you and your family.)

In my ifrst column on the many changes made in the Social Security law, I told you about them in a general way. In this and later columns, I will discuss each of the changes in more detail.

Today, I will tell about the increase in the benefit rate and how it will affect 20 million people who get monthly benefits.

First, the monthly rate was increased seven per cent for most people effective January, 1965. This means that starting with checks due in October, Social Security beneficiaries will get their first full increase in the September check. In late September, people will get an extra check. This check will be for the difference between the new and old benefit rates for January through August.

THERE IS NO need for anyone to come into the district office in order to get his benefits increased. This will be done automatically.

The minimum rate for workers who start getting benefits when they are 65 or older was increased from $40 to $44 a month. The maximum monthly payment for those now getting benefits was increased from $127 to $135.90.

Since the minimum increase was $4 a month, those people whose benefit was between $40 and $56 a month actually are getting more than a seven per cent increase. Those now getting benefits of $57 or more a month will receive a seven per cent increase.

A WORKER WHO now gets $60 a month will get $64.20; one who now receives $75 will get $80.30; a person receiving $100 will have a new rate of $107, and a person now getting $120 will get $128.40 each month.

Family groups now get maximum benefits between $60 and $254 a month depending on the worker's rate. Under the new law, families will receive maximum benefits between $66 and $309.20.

The wage base on which social security taxes are paid and on which benefits are figured will increase to $6,600 in 1966.

The changes made in the law will permit workers who retire in the future with average earnings of $550 a month (equivalent to $6,600 a year) to get $168 a month, but this amount will not be payable for some years.

AS THE WORKER'S rate increases because of the new $6,600 wage base, so the maximum amount payable to a family will increase to as much as $368 a month.

Another change made provides for the automatic refiguring of a worker's benefit if he works after he has become eligible for benefits and has additional covered earnings which may increase his benefit.

It will no longer be necessary for a worker to file an application to have his benefit refigured. Each year, after earnings are posted to a person's record, it will be checked. If, with the additional earnings, the benefit can be increased, this will be done automatically, effective with January of the year after the amounts were earned.

HOWEVER, BECAUSE of the necessary time lag in posting items to a person's earnings record, the actual refiguring of the benefit will not take place until several months after the end of the year; any increased benefit amount, though, will be payable retroactively to January.

Another feature of the 1965 amendments to the Social Security law will be discussed in my next column. (A15

Draft Dodgers Face Immediate Induction

A few youths are failing to register with the draft within five days after their 18th birthday as required by federal law, according to John H. Hammack, state director of selective service for Illinois.

Such men may be reported to draft authorities and declared delinquent and ordered for immediate induction into the Armed Forces.

Any person having knowledge of an unregistered youth is urged to report his name and address direct to Illinois Selective Service Headquarters, 405 E. Washington St., Springfield 62701.

IF A YOUTH registers promptly at age 18 he will avoid being drafted as a delinquent ahead of his regular turn, said Hammack.

All registrants married on or after midnight Aug. 26, 1965, no longer are exempt from the draft and will be processed in their regular birth date sequence, the oldest under 26 years of age first, he said.

In this area the Selective Service offices are at 1563 Ellinwood St., Des Plaines, and 210 W. Front, Wheaton. (A15

SUNDAY'S SERMON

CHALLENGE

A study of American history impresses upon us the fact that our ancestors lived a life of challenge. This great United States was carved from wilderness and the earliest settlers faced danger virtually every day of their lives. Should some venturesome soul decide to look for greener pastures "over the mountain" he knew he would face not only the challenge of the wilderness itself, but the prospect of a clash with native Indians, who considered him an invader; and with the wild beasts of the forests and marshlands.

Today, we live as much "softer" life: at least most of us are unfamiliar with any manner of physical hardship. We have machines and appliances that work for us. We work more with a pencil than we do with our hands.

Yet ours is not a world without challenge. We do not need to learn how to defend ourselves against hostile Indians or marauding wild beasts; we must learn to get along with our neighbor—the one across the street and the one next door.

Our expanding population is concentrated in cities, villages and communities. How do you get along with the folks who live in your own particular little part of this great country? If the answer is "not so good", there is your challenge. What are you going to do about it?

THE DISTINCTIVELY-styled "Bonus One" is among the attractive models now showing in Plum Grove Countryside, located on Route 53, at Euclid-Lake Avenue south of Palatine. The Cape Cod home features a separate owner's suite with large master bedroom, private bath, huge closet and dressing room with extra-wide vanity.

Riley Home Featured In Builder Magazine

The "Bonus One," Cape Cod model now showing in Plum Grove Countryside at Euclid Lake Avenue and Route 53, just west of Arlington Heights, was recently chosen for a feature article in the July 1965 issue of American Builder Magazine.

The home, built by Albert Riley, was selected as the magazine's "Blueprint House" for July — with an actual fold-out blueprint, showing exact layout, elevations and dimensions, accompanying the illustrated article.

The eye-catching "Bonus One" is a story-and-a-half Cape Cod design in the distinctive traditional concept which marks the overall plan for Plum Grove Countryside. The exterior is accented by the high-gabled roof lines.

VIA THE DOUBLE Colonial front door, the visitor is invited into a spacious foyer. The wide stairway is railed in wrought iron and rises past decorative planters to the distributing corridor of the second floor.

To the right of the front entryway, the large living room offers plenty of decorative wall area, plus much natural light via the wide view window with Colonial diamond panes. Immediately beyond is the dining room with a large view window almost filling the far wall.

In the kitchen, between dining and family rooms, matching cabinets, work counters and appliances are in a convenient U-layout. A further step-saving feature is a handy pass-through opening into the family room, which is located at the rear of the house and boasts its own entrance from the garden-patio area. An interesting option in the kitchen of this home is a table-high, open-hearth Early American fireplace designed for charcoal broiling.

THE FIRST FLOOR owner's suite occupies almost one entire wing of the "Bonus One" and includes bedroom, dressing room with vanity, full bath, two clothes closets and a utility closet. The spacious second floor, in an attractive dormer concept, contains the family bathroom, five large closets and two bedrooms, one at each end of the house. These are planned particularly for use as children's rooms or guest rooms.

The "Bonus One" and other Plum Grove Countryside models are open to public inspection daily from 10 a.m. till dusk. (10BB

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL DAILY 392-3060

The most important part of your landscape is the lawn. If it looks poor, the entire homegrounds look bad. Even the best arrangement of trees and shrubs can't make up for a poor lawn.

Fortunately, most poor lawns can be improved by some extra management at this time of year. This is the time of year when weather conditions are ideal for stimulating grass growth. This goes for installing new lawns as well as reconditioning old ones.

If you have a poor lawn, the first decision to make is deciding on renovation or reinstallation. Seldom is the expensive, drastic operation of reinstallation required. However, if the lawn is heavily infested with tall fescue or bentgrass, reinstall. Reinstallation should also be considered if less than half the green is composed of bluegrass or some other desirable grass. Rather than quick chemical burning and seeding into existing dead turf, rework the soil. This means roto tilling or plowing the area and preparing a new seedbed.

If, however, renovation and improving are all that are required, start by power raking or verticutting and follow with a fertilization program. A soil test will tell you precisely the amount of fertilizer or lime needed. This test may be obtained by sending a soil sample with $1 to the Cook County Extension Service, 201 N. Dunton Street, Arlington Heights. The sample should be obtained from a four-inch depth at 10 locations in the lawn. A pint of this soil is then mixed and placed in a plastic bag for mailing.

If a soil test is not used, you may follow some general recommendations for lawn fertilization. Apply 10 to 20 pounds of a fertilizer with a 10-6-4 or similar analysis to each 1,000 square feet. On the basis of hundreds of soil tests performed in Cook County, we find that lime is very seldom needed. Application of too much lime is harmful. It can cause certain essential elements such as manganese and iron to become unavailable to the grass.

After power raking or verticutting and fertilization, seeding is next. Contrary to custom, general or broadcast overseeding is not recommended. Instead, concentrate on spot reseeding those bare or dead areas that are six inches or larger in diameter. Smaller bare areas will be quickly knit together by dozens of underground rhizomes that reach out from the bordering bluegrass.

BEFORE SEEDING the bare spots, scratch up the soil with an iron rake and prepare a seedbed. One teaspoon or less of seed per square yard is all that's required.

When seeding an entire new lawn or just touching up bare spots, it's important to buy the right kind of seed. In sunny areas, use a Kentucky bluegrass such as Merion Delta, Park, Arboretum, or Newport alone or in combination. It is especially important that you do not buy a mixture that contains redtop, bentgrass, or tall fescues such as alta fescue, or Kentucky 31 fescue. All become weedy and uneven in appearance in Chicago area bluegrass lawns.

After seeding, roll lightly to smooth the surface and firm the seed into the soil.

Water the reseeded areas lightly several times a day until two weeks after the seed is up. The new grass should be apparent in a little over a week. It is usually not necessary to water after the middle of October.

Keep the established grass cut to its regular height. This will not interfere with the establishment of the new seedings. (15BB

Asperity; harshness; roughness; rigor; inclemency. "He treated his followers with asperity."

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS BY LINDA NORRIS

BY LINDA NORRIS

Donna Loren, popular young vocalist, is heard singing 10 songs from the new American International Picture, Beach Blanket Bingo, and oddly enough the name of her album is the same as the pix . . . Her first for Capitol, it is being released simultaneously with the AIP picture... Donna, a regular on television's Shindig, has been featured in four other AIP Beach pictures besides Bingo . . . Among the tunes in the picture that are heard on the LP are Cycle Set, It Only Hurts When I Cry, Freeway, Fly Boy and the title tune.

Long-time Guy Lombardo vocalist, Kenny Gardner, steps in to the spotlight to sing some of the sweetest music this side of heaven on Capitol's new LP, Guy Lombardo and His Royal Canadians Present the Voice of Kenny Gardner . . . Gardner, a 25-year veteran with the Lombardo band and a singer who is known as the voice of the Royal Canadians, is heard on such tunes as Stardust East of the Sun, Enjoy Yourself, Just in Time and Coquette.

Last December, Sebastian Temple caused quite a stir with his first Capitol single, Great Day in Bethlehem . . . Several stations refused to play the Christmas-oriented tune, claiming it bordered on the sacrilegious . . . The great majority, however, welcomed the song and Temple's new approach to music . . . Now in his first Capitol album, the native South African who once walked across South Africa so he would better know his land and the people who lived there, offers a collection of 12 of his own songs . . . The ideas behind each one range from Zulu bogemen and jungle lovers to atom bombs and the love of mankind.

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

The three words HENCE, THENCE, and WHENCE all include the idea of FROM, and it is therefore incorrect to use the word "from" with any of them.

Do not say, "He was nowheres to be found." Say, "He was NOWHERE to be found."

Do not say, "He alluded at great length to his adventures." You can't allude "at great length," since the word means to refer to something indirectly. Say, "He SPOKE at great length of his adventures."

CRISES is the correct plural form of CRISIS, and not "crisises."

Do not say, "There's no use in me trying." Say, "There's no use in MY trying."

Distinguish between ILLEGIBLE and UNREADABLE. The ILLEGIBLE is not plain enough to be deciphered, while the UNREADABLE is not interesting enough to be perused.

Officials Criticized for Action on Backyard Swim Pool

We would like to say thanks to Paddock Publications for their unprejudiced reporting of the matter concerning our backyard built-in swimming pool that has been held up for seven weeks, but we also have more to say.

What good is a city council that, before it comes to a vote, the mayor can say he is against an issue, so the minds are all changed to the safe side?

I have had several Rolling Meadows aldermen come to my yard and see this partially finished pool, which was started two months ago when a permit was secured due to the inefficiency of Building Commissioner Lortie. The mayor has to back up his man, right or wrong.

As one alderman said when I asked if Lortie was ever wrong, "Not since he donates hours of his time free. At that price, he can't be wrong."

FOR TWO months we have tried to get this seven-year code changed so it would be fair to the pool builder and the citizen as well who, after all, is spending the money. They have pushed us around all this time saying they would get an engineer to give an unbiased opinion. This is the man who wants to build the city library. Unbiased? No — unfair.

The best one is that one alderman who had never attended a city council meeting involving this matter, said he had a solution to the whole thing. It was a recommendation to make the pool all concrete. This puts us right back where we started from. I think if a man can't do a job, he shouldn't take it. This was one of the men that came and looked at our half-finished pool and said he liked it and could see no objection.

Another one of these brave aldermen advised me to sue, but our mayor also helped him change his vote.

THERE WAS one alderman that refused to even come and look at the pool on the grounds that he was not a qualified engineer and therefore not able to judge its quality — but he thinks a plumber, the building commissioner, is capable.

I am satisfied that Cascade Pool has a good product and that they are being treated unfairly by our city. They guarantee their pool for 10 years and there isn't a concrete man that will guarantee concrete against cracking.

If this one-man city council wanted to do something, how about the concrete sidewalk and driveway code, as mine and several neighbors have cracked. They are not reinforced, but they are according to the code, says the builder. But maybe a little thing like that is not important enough for our building commissioner to donate his time to.

WE KNOW this sounds bitter, but how else can a citizen feel when he can be dictated to so harshly and he has no other recourse?

If anyone can tell us a good way to explain this mad situation to our two heartbroken, swim-loving children, we would appreciate it.

See you at the polls.

The Fence Post

Letters to the Editor

'We Are All Members of One Race, the Human Race'

The recent rash of letters to the Fence Post in favor of or opposition to various phases on integration, plus those which express an ambiguous point of view, have if nothing else, drawn a clear picture of the confusion which exists in suburbia.

Certainly there is a slow but obvious acceptance of the fact that isolation is no longer possible; that for any number of reasons neither individuals nor communities can enclose themselves within impenetrable walls, (even the Berlin Wall of concrete, barbed wire and armed guards is regularly violated.) As a result many of us are being forced to consider, often for the first time the rules and principles we thought governed our way of life. For many, it is obvious, this is a painful process—self-examination always is.

Do we really believe our form of government is good? Should all our laws apply equally to all citizens? What is the difference between freedom and anarchy? Does the Judaic-Christian system of moral and ethical behavior apply to all people of goodwill? And just what is goodwill? To whom should it be extended? What is individual responsibility? Webster's "obsolete" definition of "individual" as "not divisible; inseparable"? Or its modified version, "a group"? What group? One could go on and on in this vein, ad nauseum.

For me, the answers are simple. I do believe our form of government is good, and that our guaranteed freedom to discuss, debate and work for change is assurance of improvement as well as a safeguard against calcification. To me the difference between freedom and anarchy lies in obedience to laws which are applied equitably, tempered with mercy and understanding, and above all, subject to orderly development to meet prevailing conditions for "the greatest good of the greatest number" and ample protection for the few, whoever or whatever they may be.

And what of goodwill and individual responsibility? Merely that I must "do unto others as I would have them do unto me," recognizing that I and others are human beings and thus incapable of absolute, unwavering perfection.

I believe further that it is my duty, my individual responsibility (in the obsolete sense) to resist being taken in by slogans, myths and unsupported supposedly factual statements, however authoritatively presented. Rather, I must take thoughtful action based on my own moral and ethical principles, accepting of course the consequences of such action.

I believe individual peace and freedom can never be gained by denying peace and freedom to others. Nor that it can be achieved by silence. That it can be ours only if each of us is willing to stand up and be counted, to work unceasingly and openly with conviction and dedication and sympathy, understanding that with all our differences of backgrounds and goals and personalities, we are all members of one race; the human race.

Different though we may be in many respects, we share to the same degree the need to be clothed and fed and sheltered; to give and receive love; and to self-respect—in a word, to be human beings.

Charges Taxpayers Group Is Front for Birch Society

Fact No. 1 — Robert Welch, fuhrer of the John Birch Society, has instructed his followers to form "little fronts, big fronts, temporary fronts, permanent fronts . . ." Mr. Welch prefers, however, to use the term "ad hoc committee" instead of "front."

Fact No. 2 — The Birch Society brags about its role in distributing bumper stickers proclaiming "Support Your Local Police," a laudable enough goal normally but as employed by the Birchers, an obvious anti-Civil Rights demonstration ploy.

Fact No. 3 — The Birchers acknowledge their opposition to the Civil Rights movement in this country.

Fact No. 4 — Robert Welch instructs his followers to oppose all federal aid for education programs.

Fact No. 5 — R. A. Franzen was (and may still be) chairman of the Northwest Suburban Chapter of Americans for Constitutional Action, an ultra right-wing group.

Fact No. 6 — The young Americans for Freedom, another extremist group, gives out the name of Mrs. C. Jerome Sullivan as a leader of their group locally. The same Mrs. Sullivan led the recent take-over of the Mount Prospect Human Relations Council meeting.

No single one of these facts by itself is particularly significant. Any citizen might independently arrive at any one of these positions. However, when the entire group of facts converge at a single point in time and space, only the most politically naive can avoid the obvious implications.

At the Aug. 23 school board meeting of High School District 214 at Prospect High School, the above facts all fell neatly into place.

An "ad hoc committee" calling itself the "Taxpayers Association" showed up at the board meeting in force (about 50 people) to oppose the acceptance of any federal aid to cope with the high school "drop-out" problem. The parking lot was liberally sprinkled with "Support Your Local Police" bumper stickers and several Confederate flags were in evidence. Two of the leading spokesmen for the group were Mrs. C. J. Sullivan and Mr. R. A. Franzen. Coincidence? Hardly.

The truth is that the so-called "Taxpayers Association" is a John Birch front and the group attending this meeting, some of them perhaps unwittingly, was participating in a pressure group formulated, organized and led by John Birch Society members and sympathizers. The disturbing fact was that only five or ten independent citizens were present to voice any disagreement with the extreme positions of Robert Welch's minions.

In the past four months this group has come very close to taking over our Junior College Board, has completely disrupted and captured a local Human Relations Council and are now exerting extreme pressure on our high school board. They even went so far Aug. 23 as to jeer and ridicule practically every statement made by Mr. Slichenmyer who has devoted his lifetime to educating American youth.

How many more community groups must this little band of fanatics disrupt or destroy, how many more dedicated public servants must it ridicule and villify before some of our complacent, self-annointed, community "leaders" leave their T. V. sets and start fighting back?

Roster Grows For Audited Circulation

It is my pleasure to send you the enclosed copy of the 1965-66 ABC Membership Roster — a documentation of the continuing importance of audited circulation facts to the advertising and publishing industry.

Among the 4,046 Audit Bureau members included in this listing are 2,764 publishers, 816 advertisers, 308 advertising agencies, and 158 associates. The totals surpass even last year's all-time high Roster count.

On one hand, the publisher total is a tribute to your willingness to make accurate and objective circulation figures available or comparison. On the other, the advertiser, agency and associate totals are testimony to the demand for such circulation data and the unique nature of ABC service.

Take time to leaf through the pages of this year's Roster and you will find your name to be in good company. Your comments concerning the publication are invited, and additional copies are available for distribution to others in your firm.

Glad Critic Treated Teen Drama Honestly

Recently a woman disagreed with Michael Hess, drama critic for Paddock Publications, on his review of a musical produced exclusively by teenagers. This woman seemed to think that teenagers should not have been criticized.

Mr. Hess did not criticize teenagers; he criticized a play and its performers, as it is his job as a critic to do. That the cast and crew was composed entirely of teenagers was totally irrelevant to him, as indeed it should be. The production staff worked to make the show a professional one, and the result was enough so to deserve a professional review, rather than a pat on the head and a "How nice."

A critic who discriminates for or against a performer because of the performer's age is not a true critic; an artist who expects the critic to grant him more or less than his due for the same reason is not a true artist. I am glad that Mr. Hess treated the production with the respect and honesty that it deserved.

Amplify Stand For Mobile Classrooms

All of us in the Greenbrier school area appreciate the emphasis you have to the "double-shift" problem in your Aug. 19 edition. We might add that the first indication we had of the double-shift proposal was in the Herald. Since the mobile classroom vs. double-shift alternative has significance for everyone in District 25, it would be helpful if we could clarify our position, as presented to the board on Aug. 16.

1. We are paying for, and expect to get, a first-class education or our children. This means among other things, full-day sessions and uncrowded classrooms.

2. Mobile classrooms are only a temporary solution and not a substitute for an adequate building program. They are preferable to double-sessions.

3. Double-sessions are unacceptable from an educational standpoint and can be avoided.

Argumants to the effect that "some voters might rationalize a no vote on future building referendums if mobile classes are substituted for double shifting" do not hold water in light of "before-and-after" experience other districts have had with mobile classrooms in relation to referendums.

We would like to emphasize that we think the District 25 board was very concerned with the problem and very cooperative. The thing that shocked our delegation was that this was the first time the board had been aware that the crowding was not temporary and would last a minimum of three years. It therefore behooves all of us to make sure that the information our school board is operative with does not get out of date.

One final point: Mobile classrooms can be installed and operating within two months of order date. They provide a perfectly satisfactory classroom space and we want them now. We do not intend to tolerate a partial education for our children.

If you live within Wheeling, Elk Grove, Schaumburg and Palatine Townships You Are Qualified to

Last Chance! VOTE

for your choice for a name for the District 301 Junior College

In an effort to perform a public service, Paddock Publications assumed the responsibility to elicit many suggestions for names for the District 301 Junior College slated to serve the needs of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine and Schaumburg Townships.

Over 100 names were suggested by readers of Paddock Publications.

Paddock Judges have selected what they consider 'The Ten Best' suggestions, and are now asking readers to "Vote" for their choice.

Board of Education is NOT obligated to eventually select the name chosen by Paddock readers. The board's choice will obviously be the ONLY official decision, and it could well be many months before such decision is made.

If the decision of the Board of Education coincides with one of the suggestions made to Paddock Publications in its recent search, the first person making such suggestion will receive $25.00 in Cash from Paddock Publications; plus suitable honors at dedication of the Junior College.

If the decision of the Board of Education does NOT coincide with one of the suggestions made to Paddock Publications in its recent search, then the person first suggesting the name judged "Best" in the "Voting" will receive the $25.00 in cash from Paddock Publications.

Paddock Publications records of receipt of suggestions will determine which person "first" suggested the name involved.

Official Paddock "Ballot" to Name the Junior College

ELKSPAW
This name incorporates the names of four townships to be served by the college — Elk Grove, Schaumburg, Palatine and Wheeling — and also recognizes this area as site of the largest elk herd in the U.S. outside of Yellowstone National Park.

EUCLID
By honoring the educational dignity and inspiration of the great Greek scholar as well as an important tree-lined roadway serving the heart of the junior college district, Euclid represents both the dignity of higher learning and a relationship to the northwest area.

LAFAYETTE
A distinguished French general and statesman who made a triumphant visit to Illinois in 1825, Lafayette was an avid supporter of the American Revolution. He served with distinction under Gen. George Washington and was instrumental in securing aid for America from neutral France.

PADDOCK
One of the most recognizable names in northwest suburbs, this name would honor H. C. Paddock, founder of the newspaper chain which since 1872 has served all townships in the district, and Arlington Park race track, best known landmark in the area whose beautiful paddock area is part of that image.

PIONEER
The spirit of those who first settled here — the pioneers — is kept alive as the area grows and plans for the future.

NATHANIEL POPE
Without the efforts of Pope, the area to be served by the new college would not be located in Illinois. As delegate from the Illinois area, he convinced Congress the proposed boundary be moved from its original point at the southern tip of Lake Michigan northward to include the area now occupied by northwest suburbs.

PRAIRIE
This name pays tribute to Illinois, "The Prairie State," and to the original topography of the area now encompassed by the junior college district.

SALT CREEK
One of the main waterways serving the northwest area, Salt Creek winds from Schaumburg Township through Palatine and Rolling Meadows, then near the proposed college site and down into Elk Grove Village.

SHABBONA
The Shabbona Indians, part of the Potawatomi Tribe which first inhabited this area, were of great service in keeping relations friendly with the early white settlers. Of mixed white and Indian blood, they knew both languages and were invaluable in promoting understanding.

ADLAI STEVENSON
One of Illinois' most distinguished sons and famous suburbanite, Mr. Stevenson as governor was a dedicated supporter of public education and a devoted statesman striving for world peace and understanding in his work as ambassador to the United Nations.

Mother-in-Law Image Deserves a Facelifting

Women Describe Warm Relationship

by PAT ADAM
Staff Writer

Do mothers-in-law necessarily spell only trouble for their sons' wives, as the old story has it?

Not according to several northwest suburban homemakers who willingly and freely commented on their own mothers-in-law.

"My mother-in-law is a real credit to her family. I hope I can be as smartly dressed and as alert and interested in what's going on when I'm her age," said Mrs. Donald Gardner, 1002 Pendleton Place, Mount Prospect.

"She's always treated me like her own daughter, and I've always loved her," said Mrs. George Sladek, 2305 George St., Rolling Meadows.

"WE'VE ALWAYS gotten along very well," commented Mrs. Melvin Helsper, Plum Grove Road, Schaumburg. "My mother-in-law has been very good to us and would do anything for us."

"I learned how to cook almost entirely from her," said Mrs. Harold Bates, 20 Crestwood, Streamwood, of her late mother-in-law.

"She was a wonderful grandmother, had so much patience, but she never criticized or gave advice unless she was asked," observed Mrs. Erwin Hahn, 27W100 Schick Road, Bartlett, whose mother-in-law now is deceased.

"She let us make our own mistakes," said Mrs. Richard Bayer, 488 Creekwood Drive, Palatine.

THESE WOMEN believe there are several reasons for the warm relationships they have enjoyed with their husbands' mothers.

A major one is that they don't live under the same roof.

"It's easier to overlook the things you don't like if you don't live together," declared Mrs. Helsper, whose widowed mother-in-law lives in Wood Dale.

It's also helped that their mothers-in-law have outside interests, they said.

Mrs. Gardner's mother-in-law keeps busy in her church, and she's also very interested in world affairs. Mrs. Bayer's mother-in-law taught for many years and didn't have time to interfere. Mrs. Helsper's mother-in-law is handy with needles and has kept the families of her seven children supplied with quilts and baby clothes.

"And that's quite a few clothes," laughed Mrs. Helsper. "She has 18 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren."

THEY'VE ALSO found that health plays its part. When older women feel well, they're not so likely to be a problem.

If mother-in-law and daughter-in-law share mutual interests, their relationship benefits.

Mary Gardner and her mother-in-law spend many happy hours shopping together, especially for hats for the elder Mrs. Gardner.

"My mother-in-law is noted for her unusual hats," she commented.

"MY MOTHER-in-law is a very good gardener," said Mrs. Bayer. "She's given us many helpful hints, but we don't do so well even with her advice," she added with a chuckle.

Another pair who enjoy shopping together are Mrs. Sladek and her mother-in-law. Recently the two went to the racetrack, the first time for the elder Mrs. Sladek, who is 73.

"She had a big time," laughed the Rolling Meadows homemaker.

WERE THEY ever plagued with unsolicited advice on how to keep house, how to rear the children or how to handle family finances?

All said they never got advice unless they asked for it.

Mrs. Albert Weidlich, 216 S. Wheeling Road, Prospect Heights, admitted she was a little on the defensive as a bride and first-time mother.

"I was a little touchy about suggestions with the first child," she confessed. "But with the others — and we have five — I wasn't so fussy."

Her mother-in-law is now dead, said Mrs. Weidlich, but "she was very good to me." Wife of a pastor, Mrs. Weidlich said her mother-in-law, coming from a German background, could never quite adjust to all the help her son gave his wife.

ALL THESE women admired their husbands' mothers and at times even sought their counsel.

"My mother-in-law did a wonderful job in bringing up her family, and I hope I do as well," said Mrs. Gardner, who particularly has appreciated her mother-in-law's tips on rearing teenagers.

"She's fair and can be objective because she's at a distance."

Mrs. Hahn recalls admiringly the energy and determination of her late mother-in-law, who, though crippled with arthritis, never complained, she said. Mrs. Hahn also remembers that her mother-in-law baked bread.

"That was a real treat for the children."

The generosity of her now deceased mother-in-law is a memory cherished by Mrs. Bates. She also appreciated that her husband's mother never came for a visit without telling her first.

WHILE THESE women have only words of praise for their mothers-in-law, others have experienced a less than congenial relationship with theirs.

One Buffalo Grove homemaker lamented that her mother-in-law "won't trust people. even her own son." The two women haven't had a good relationship as a result, she said.

Another woman said she feels older persons can't conform to the younger generation and this creates tensions. The problem is aggravated if the two women live together.

"NO TWO women living in one house can do things the same way. The only solution is to have the mother-in-law in a separate dwelling" was her opinion.

An Arlington Heights woman, who makes a home for her mother-in-law, admits the biggest problem is loss of privacy. It is especially hard on the children, she said.

"But I remember my mother-in-law as she was when she was younger, and then she was a big help to me. Besides, she's lonesome and her health is no longer what it was," she commented.

"HOW DO YOU LIKE this turban?" Mrs. Mary Gardner of Mount Prospect, right, asks her mother-in-law, Mrs. Inez Gardner of Oak Park, as they participate in one of their favorite activities, shopping. Mary, who has known Mrs. Gardner since childhood when the families were neighbors in Oak Park, thinks her mother-in-law is tops. (Staff Photo)

Moving Tip

Remove all breakable items from your china cabinet and breakfront in advance of a move to new quarters, advise packing experts.

Unbreakable items normally stored in the drawers of these furniture pieces may be left intact. However, do not add extra items that will add appreciably to the weight. The extra weight could cause damage to the furniture.

Heat Loss

Studies show heat loss is less in houses that have windows with wood, rather than metal, sash.

Starting School Can Be Fun for Child

The first day of school can be quite an experience for the child — and for the mother. The casework staff of the Family Service Association of DuPage County, 444 Main St., Glen Ellyn, has come up with some tips to help the mothers get their pre-schoolers launched into the whirl of education without too much grinding of nerves.

"The first experience at school, away from home with new children and new adults, can be exiting and fun for the youngster if the parents use a positive approach," said Mrs. Margery Whitcomb of the FSA staff. "When you talk to him, accent the positive—that this is a happy, important part of his life now."

Frances Barry added, "Assure him that he is not expected to know how to do everything before he goes to school. He is going to learn how. This is the first time mother's work for five years will be judged by an outside authoritative person, the teacher. She must not let her anxiety or tension flow over to the child."

MISS BARRY added that the teachers are not judging the mother through the child as much as she often thinks they are.

The caseworkers agreed that it is most important that the child knows what the mother will be doing while he is in school.

Don Yohe, a staff caseworker who also conducts the agency's family life education programs, suggested, "Let your youngster talk about his fears and be sympathetic. He may go to school the first day, then refuse to return.

"When he gets these second or third day blues, the parents must be firm without anger. In a friendly way, let him know that he is going to school just as Daddy has to go to work."

SOME TIME should be spent outlining to the child what will be happening in school, the caseworkers advised. Help him understand what he will be expected to do. This removes the confusion and uncertainty that is normal in a new venture, they explained.

"I think most parents know," said Mrs. Anne Ross, "that many of the things a child needs to know cannot be taught the week before he enters school. These are the disciplines that shocld have been started years before. The teacher cannot work a miracle on the child who has never learned to obey at home."

"The 'works of art' that your child brings home from school should find a place of prominence in your home," advised Juanita Thorn. "Because they can be so important to the youngster, they should be important to the parents."

THOSE CRAYON scrawled pictures represent quite a bit of effort. The effort, not the artistry, should be appreciated, she said.

Margaret Bates, casework supervisor, summed up the following guidelines for parents:

Parents should take the child to see the school and get him familiar with streets and crossings if he is to walk. If he takes the bus, he should be instructed on where to wait and how to prepare for the return trip.

The child should be able to wash his hands and face before eating and after going to the toilet. He should know how to dress himself and put on his boots.

HE SHOULD know by heart his name, address, and phone number; he should also have his information with him, because it is easy for a youngster to forget.

Label all of his belongings.

Prepare him for "emergencies" such as your not being on time to meet him after school, the lost lunch or getting on the wrong bus. These things can seem catastrophic to the new student.

If your child is hurt or becomes sick, be sure that he knows he should tell his teacher. If he has to come home, be certain that he knows someone should go with him.

The youngster starting school needs plenty of rest and a change from his new routine, although carrying over some of the school routine is helpful, such as putting his books and lunch box in a set place to prevent the mad scramble in the morning while the school bus is honking for him to come.

"IT IS NORMAL for some youngsters to talk on and on about what happened at school," said Miss Bates, "while others merely give a non-committal shrug."

"Relax — don't be too anxious," she added. "It's a new experience for parents and children, especilly if it is the first child. A good relationship with school personnel can be most helpful."

The Family Service agency works closely with the schools in the DuPage area. In 1964 the highest number of cases referred to the agency came from the schools.

"The best salesman for school can be the youngster's older brother or sister who enjoys it," concluded Miss Bates.

Hundreds to Attend Paddock News Clinic

A down-to-earth session on how to write club publicity releases and the plain facts on the use of pictures will be explained to all club presidents and news chairmen submitting copy to the Paddock Publications' newspapers during a morning coffee and publicity clinic set for Friday, Sept. 10.

Designed to help publicity chairmen write releases of interest to all readers and therefore perform a greater service to area clubs, the clinic will be held from 9:15 to 11:30 a.m. at the Arlington Carousel Restaurant, Euclid and Rohlwing Roads, Arlington Park.

Served with the coffee will be Danish rolls baked by the Post and Paddock chef, Max. The 11:30 closing hour has been set so that busy homemakers can be home with their school children by lunch time.

THE CLINIC, conducted by Marianne Scott, Paddock Publications' Women's Editor, will include important data on copy preparation, what is "news," hints on writing style, deadlines, the need for accuracy, the use of names and an explanation of Paddock Publications' news and publicity policies.

Of special value will be a discussion of news photos and a helpful talk by Paddock Publications' photographer, Tom Grieger. Slides and posters will aid in both the news and photo discussions.

Valuable pamphlets will be passed out to those in attendance, and it is expected that there will also be time for a question and answer period.

INTERESTED CLUB presidents and news chairmen are requested to make reservations for the clinic by phoning Mrs. Shaughnessy between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at Paddock Publications, CL 3-1520, Extension 261. Nearly 300 area women attended last year's clinic, many without reservations. So that comfortable seating accommodations can be made for all, Mrs. Scott asks that reservations be made as soon as possible.

That Cheated Feeling

'Look, Lady, You Get A Special Bargain...'

by BETTY AINSLIE

I dislike being cheated or even having the feeling of being cheated—and I've that feeling right now.

In the middle of lunch my doorbell rang. Some man with a small truck load of humus and a couple bushel baskets wanted to spread some of this on our lawn.

At nine cents a pound or $3.60 a bushel basket he would distribute the humus around and then sprinkle grass seed over the whole business. And our lawn would regain new vim and vigor minus weeds and crabgrass.

Betty Ainslie

Now I'm not very rapid at figures and when I went out to the truck to inquire just how many bushels would make a covering for our lawn the man was evasive.

"I'll spread this basket around," he declared and before I could get my tongue loose from my teeth the entire basket was sprinkled over a small patch of side yard.

"You would need a few baskets, but, boy, your lawn sure needs it," he continued, as a helper with him spread another basket and then another.

"But I'd like to ask my husband," I announced, firmly moving my feet away from an onslaughter of brown humus being whisked around.

I'd lost count of the baskets as they were filled and spread and the man could see the dollar signs in my eyes.

"I guarantee all my work for three years and we'll include all the evergreens. You've a lovely place here," he continued smoothly, "and it's a shame to let the crabgrass take over. This will kill out the weeds and at only nine cents a pound you couldn't even buy seed for that!"

I agreed you couldn't and I tried to multiply at least eight baskets by $3.60 and they'd barely scratched the surface of the side yard.

"Now wait a minute!" I suddenly found my temper as I started roughly to multiply three by forty or fifty bushels.

"Until I talk to my husband I don't want any more spread on the lawn." I grabbed the man's hand with the nearest full basket.

After all, I reasoned, you just don't spend a hundred dollars without thinking twice.

"I'll do the whole lawn—and do you know your evergreens are worth about a thousand dollars and they need help too. Just go ask your neighbors. I've been up and down the street and no one objected before. I'll do the whole lawn for —" he paused and brightened suddenly.

"Today's my birthday, so I'll do it special for you. The whole lawn, evergreens—everything—and three year guarantee for $140. That's rock bottom if you do it today while I'm here and that, lady, is a good price."

"But," I insisted. "I must call my husband." I knew Pop had been planning the usual spring and fall idea of getting a load of black dirt and spreading it around. We'd have to seed that too and do the work ourselves —maybe, just maybe this was a good price.

But 25 years of married life came to the foreground.

"I must ask my husband," I insisted. "How much do I owe you for what you've spread so far?"

The man did some mental arithmetic. "I won't charge you for that one basket and you're really getting two extra pounds in each basket as we fill them so full and I won't charge you for that. So it will be $28.80. You call your husband and I'll tell him what a good bargain he'd be getting if I can do the whole lawn."

I figured Pop wouldn't appreciate a hard-talking salesman over the phone, and I already felt guilty about the $28.80 spent willy nilly.

"No, I'll call him after lunch and you can stop by later."

"But, lady, my rock bottom price only holds for today. I'm giving it to you as I feel good. It's my birthday."

So I wrote a check for the man and you know what? Pop wasn't impressed by it being the man's birthday at all. Who knows, maybe we will have a beautiful side lawn this fall, free of weeds and a lovely green.

But down deep I feel kinda cheated. Nine bushels sure didn't cover much of the lawn.

I know I'm no match for a fast-talking salesman even if the product proves to be good but Pop is—he just flatly says "no."

Slimnastics Class To Begin at YMCA

Weight-conscious women who wish to wear the new slim-line fall fashions are offered a chance to shed extra pounds in the new 8-week reducing course at Northwest Suburban YMCA, 300 E. Northwest Hwy., Des Plaines.

Classes will start Friday, Sept. 17 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., and Monday, Sept. 20 from 7:30 to 9:45 p.m.

SESSIONS INCLUDE proper menu planning, calorie counting, "slimnastics" for those who wish them, posture and walking techniques, skin care and makeup, hair care and fashion selection.

Instructor Gerry Moynahan said: "We don't try to break anyone's habits. We just build around their problems."

MISS MOYNAHAN also said that past members enrolled in the course have lost as much as 24 pounds in the 8-week program. To date over 16,000 members have taken the course with a total weight loss of over 40 tons. The largest individual weight loss was 165 pounds.

Membership enrollment and further information can be obtained by phoning the "Y" at 296-3376 between 9:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 296-3376.

Camouflage

Uneasy about traveling with an expensive camera? Make your own portable, "thief-proof" carrying case.

Buy an inexpensive small weekend suitcase, and a thick slab of foam rubber to size. Trace, on the foam, around your camera fittings. Cut slits for the small items, holes for the large ones.

The final product will screen heat, dust, bumps and jolts; it's easy to carry, and it looks too ordinary to steal.

SONNY HAS A TREEHOUSE, Susan a playhouse and mom a sewing corner, but what about dad? In this pleasant basement den, surrounded by his memoirs and mementos, he has a hideaway for relaxation, homework or hobbies. Placed in a corner, this space was made inviting by covering the walls with pegboard and paneling in a warm wood grain. Overhead pipes were boxed and paneled, lights installed and an old desk refurbished with paint. Now dad can be as happy as Junior in his tree house!

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

Happy Sock Hop Is Good Late Summer Fun Party

Tick Tock — The Summer Clock is slowly ticking away the last days of school vacation. But don't be sad, clear your "pad" and have a Happy Sock Hop to get acquainted with the new gang at High School, Junior High or just to swap ideas on clothes, and brush up on the latest dances, like, oh no, I just can't name them.

INVITATIONS

You may wish to have this as an all girl gab-fest or you may wish to ask the boys over but clear it with Mom first. And Mom, a word to the wise, stay home out of sight, perhaps, but don't forget to make it known you are there and Dad, too. Seems today some parents are more interested in their own dates than in their teenage kids so when they are home, stay with them. It gives them confidence to know party crashers will think twice and also that there is a helping hand around. This applies only in case of emergency because otherwise the party, including before and after clean up, plus serving should be the responsibility of the party giver.

We will treat this as an all girl party — just for fun in the column. For invitations, cut the sole outline of a foot from white construction paper and make sure it fits a legal sized envelope. Make it double fold so that when open it looks like a pair of feet. Make lots to be cut apart for decorations and games. Open them up and draw a face in crayon or tempera on each foot. On the opposite side write the following:

Put on a pair of heavy sox,
The white ones if you please,
They'll not go home quite the same,

Oh, later you'll find the reas.

State time, place and if it is a pj party ask each girl to bring her "necessaries" and also ask them to bring anything from their vacation, some records and of course, their socks and be prepared to dance in them.

DECORATIONS

Loads of soles, all with happy faces will be the theme. Footprints also go back to school, so maybe the faces won't be so happy? Well, use your school colors for the table, blue and white, red and white but mainly, the dark color of the cloth with the white sock prints and white paper cups, plates and napkins. Cut a large cake, made in a long flat pan in the shape of a sock, or use your invitation for a pattern, leave the cake white, lay the white paper soles on the cake and dcst the rest of the top of the cake with sugar in your school color—you can make this by tinting sugar with food coloring, or you may find it ready-made in the store.

MENU

Most of the eating will start immediately so you will want to have bowls of apples, popcorn and potato chips around the room and have it cleared for action. The record player should be set and ready and your own record album covers can make excellent background decor for the wall.

For fun, if you have a punch bowl, use it. Punch bowls always make a party a little more festive, and canned fruit punch and ginger ale makes a simple punch. Freeze a small jello mold with ice and let it float on the top. Fill it with cherries, orange slices and pineapple.

If you plan a supper, keep it simple with Sloppy Sox, (alias Joe) sandwiches, shoestring potatoes, happy face jello and Coke.

ENTERTAINMENT

Perhaps some of these gals won't know each other so have a good footprint mixer game, such as sign my sock, uppers that is, not soles.

Provide nametags and also use paper soles on the table for later sit down eating if you prefer it to a buffet. Then also have a record walk placing foot prints on the floor with numbers and when music stops the one on the number drawn (this means similar numbers on prints and in a box) wins a record. If you have an album, the one who wins three times may win the record.

Contest for drawings on the bottoms of the socks is the highlight of the evening, so give each girl a box of crayons or a laundry pen (if you don't want to buy one for each girl, ask them to bring them) and then let three girls sit in a row on the floor at one time showing their sock faces. Naturally they will not take the socks off to draw the faces, and they should be with the mouth towards the heel. Award prizes for the funniest pair of faces, the cutest and also the wierdest.

Prizes may be new sox, headbands, Madras belts, or new pens. Any of the above may be given as favors to take home also. So put on those work socks and get busy for a really "socko" party that's different, and above all comfortable, cuts down the patter of "little" feet, but the noise of voices, well, have ear plugs for Mom and Pop! (S

WASH-AND-WEAR APPAREL made of blended fabrics has taken a giant step forward, due to the development of the "durable press." This process, which insures exceptional wrinkle resistance, crease retention and unpuckered seams, works best on fabrics containing a high percentage of Dacron polyester, Orlon acrylic or DuPont nylon. The children's fashions shown above are examples of durable-press clothes for school. The boy's pants have been washed 10 times and look as neatly pressed as before the first washing. The little girl's jumper has inverted pleats with locked-in sharpness.

Jumpers Are Rated 'Tops' For School

Jumpers in season-spanning cottons have joined the ranks of classics in the schoolgirl's wardrobe. They're fashionable and flattering for all ages from kindergarten to college.

If you sew, you'll find these simply-cut garments are easy to make, too.

Top-rated cottons for back-to-school jumpers include crisp woven checks, colorful plaids, and ribbed corduroys.

In sewing with checks or plaids, match pattern pieces line for line at seams before cutting. With corduroy, cut all pattern pieces in the same direction with fabric pile running up.

"URSALA," THE BRIDE'S helper, is a delightful decoration for a kitchen shower and is made from the utensils normally given to the bride. Attractive Fiesta-patterned cookware helps form the hat, feet and hands of the little maid. A broom upside down, is held in place by filling the percolator with rolls of paper toweling. Ursala's face is created with pieces of felt. The apron, hot pads and other utensils hang from a yardstick and are attached by string. All will give the bride a good start on a well-equipped kitchen.

Bathrooms Require Careful Planning

Modern bathrooms require just as much or more careful planning as any other part of the house.

Before buying a new home or modernizing an older one, families should take careful stock of their bathroom needs. How many prefer tub baths and how many showers? What provisions should be made for guests or domestic help?

FAMILY COMFORT and an agreeable home atmosphere depend to a surprising extent on how efficient the plumbing is. Inadequate facilities mean overcrowding, irritated tempers and impatient waiting in line.

A survey of home buyers shows that six out of seven who bought single-bath dwellings now wish they had two or more baths. Most said they would be willing to pay for the additional facilities.

BATHROOM planning should be based on a realistic appraisal of the amount and type of traffic they'll be called upon to handle. For instance, in a family with several male members, it's a good idea to have twin lavatories to speed rush-hour shaving. And twin lavatories in their own bathroom will delight teenage girls. (S

St. Theresa CCW Opens Club Year

St. Theresa Council of Catholic Women will meet Tuesday, Sept. 7 in St. Theresa School Hall, Palatine, at 8:30 p.m., preceded by the Rosary at 8:15 in the chapel.

Activities for the year will be discussed, including a bake sale in October and a rummage sale in November.

PROGRAM CHAIRMAN, Mrs. Joseph Koenig, has planned a "mixer" game to follow the meeting in order to get newcomers acquainted. All women of the parish are eligible to join the council.

New officers are: Mrs. Victor Zielinski, president; Mrs. Alfred Geisler, vice president; Mrs. John Dols, secretary, Mrs. Donald Vallely, treasurer. Rev. Raymond Sullivan is chaplain for the council. (S

Duplicate Keys

Get duplicate house and car keys made for your vacation trip if you don't already have them. Let another member of the family besides the driver carry the extras, or, if you'd rather, hide the duplicate house keys right in the car — in a small magnetized box that fits under the steering column.

You can buy the same kind of box for the extra car keys. Hide it on the outside of the car, under a front fender, for example.

Clean-Up

Start your fall clean-up job in the attic and work downward. If you have a collection of old newspapers and magazines you will never look at or discarded clothing, broken furniture, trash and other combustibles, throw them out.

They are the kind of things on which fires feed, and if you can dispose of them, you will have eliminated a fire hazard.

Add New 'Golden Rule' For Pre-School Days

Those "dear old Golden Rule days" are here again—with a difference. Since our own school days, a new rule has been added.

That is the almost universally-observed rule that every child entering school for the first time have a physical checkup, by the family physician or by the school doctor. For many children, this is often the first comprehensive physical examination since infancy.

THESE PRE-SCHOOL examinations may provide some disconcerting moments for parents of children in whom a heart murmur is detected, the Chicago Heart Association notes. Yet the doctor will usually tell them their children will outgrow the murmur, and need no special care or restrictions.

These are the well-known "innocent murmurs" of childhood, so common that more than half of any group of 100 youngsters is likely to have them at some time. These heart sounds usually appear between the ages of three and seven and generally disappear in adolescence.

THE TERM "murmur" is used to define unusual sounds produced as the blood circulates through the valves and chambers of the heart and heard through the stethoscope. Doctors speak of two classes of murmurs: "innocent" or functional murmurs, which are harmless; and organic murmurs, which may indicate the presence of a heart ailment or defect.

Hearing what sounds to him like an innocent murmur, the family doctor may sometimes refer the child to a heart specialist for additional checking, to make doubly certain of his diagnosis. Even if the cardiologist should want to re-examine the child from time to time, this is merely conscientious practice, and should cause no anxiety.

The doctor's instruction to "let her play with other children without restriction," should be taken and followed seriously.

A MURMUR diagnosed as "organic" is quite a different matter, however; in such cases, the child should be under the supervision of a doctor who will prescribe treatment to improve or correct the underlying heart condition.

Parents of children with both types of murmurs have an especially important rcle to play in their children's development. Offering reassurance rather than anxiety can make the difference between psychological health or invalidism.

Teachers and other school officials should be kept informed of each child's health status, so that they may cooperate with doctors and parents in the regime prescribed for pupils with all kinds of heart conditions.

Hoffmanite Wins 4 Flower Awards

Mrs. William Wermes, president of Hoffman Estates Woman's Club and a member of its garden group, is receiving congratulations from the clubwomen on her recent honors at the Long Lake Garden Club show. Held Aug. 12 at Fox Lake, the show was entitled "This World of Ours."

Mrs. Wermes won two first and two second place awards in flower arranging. She received one blue ribbon for her entry in "An Adventure in Metal," in which she used a hibachi container decorated with cattails, zinnias and hosta leaves to form a line arrangement.

Her other blue ribbon award was for a dry arrangement on weathered wood, decorated with okra pods, yarrow and dock.

MRS. WERMES' second place red ribbons were awarded for her 3-inch arrangement called "Jewels in Miniature," using baby's breath and dried pfitzer in a crescent form, and for her dried yarrow, cattail foliage and dried lemon leaves in an authentic copper washed pewter tea canister imported from the Orient.

She has been active in the Hoffman club's garden group for five years and is completing requirements to become a nationally accredited amateur flower show judge. She is also a member of the club's gourmet and choral groups. (S

Colored Units Add 'Cheer' to Laundry

There are no statistics on record (that we know of) to prove that time and work go twice as slow in drab and unattractive surroundings as they do in a cheerful place. But homemakers will give their word, that in housework, at least, it's a fact.

Next to cooking, laundering traditionally kept housewives busier than any other task. The ease and speed with which today's homemaker handles the family laundry is a debt to the modern appliances and to the lively design and good location of laundry centers, as well.

LAUNDRY area design may begin with the increasingly popular colors — coppertone, turquoise, yellow, pink.

A well-chosen location, tasteful background color scheme and efficient arrangement of shelves and bins are the factors considered by the homemaker in making the laundry area a center of contemporary decor in the home, and a very pleasant place in which to work. (S

Pass-Through

Handsome way to handle a pass-through between kitchen and dining room is to panel the wall in a finely grained western softwood, then make a matching pull-down door to close off the opening when not in use.

Door should fit exactly into paneling so joints don't show, push up inside wall when pass-through is needed.

Insulating Glass Makes Chores Easy

One way to avoid the bothersome job of putting up and taking down storm windows at home is to install wood windows with insulating glass.

These new double - glazed windows of ponderosa pine, consisting of two panes of glass hermetically sealed at the edges to form a single unit of glass, are available in stock sizes.

The wood sash and the "dead air" between the panes form a natural insulation against heat loss and condensation. Since the panes are sealed, there is less window surface to wash than with storm sash.

Today's insulating glass is available in all styles of wood windows through local lumber dealers. (S

Newlyweds of 2 Weeks Make First Home in East Lansing

A bride of less than two weeks is Mary Rebecca Hutchison, who became Mrs. William John Thomas in a 10 a.m. double ring service Aug. 21. The bride is the daughter of the John Hutchisons of Hudson, Mich. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thomas, 1111 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

Scene of the wedding was Alumni Memorial Chapel at Michigan State University in East Lansing, and officiating was Rev. Tennant. The bride is a June '65 graduate of Michigan State and in the fall will be teaching primary grades in East Lansing. Her bridegroom, a graduate of Arlington High School, is a senior at Michigan State and will receive a degree in package engineering in 1966.

A re-embroidered gown of organza and Alencon lace was chosen by the bride. Fashioned with scooped neckline and elbow-length sleeves, the gown featured appliques on the controlled skirt, which ended in a chapel train. Her elbow-length veil was held in place with a petal headpiece trimmed in seed pearls. A princess cascade of yellow and white baby roses, stephanotis and ivy completed her ensemble.

THE BRIDE'S sister, Martha Hutchison, served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Joanne Smith of Hudson, Mich. and Mrs. Toni Dean of East Lansing. All wore aqua green taffeta gowns made with scooped necklines, bell skirts and elbow-length sleeves. They carried empire cascades of golden garnet roses.

Also in the wedding party was the groom's 6-year-old sister, Deborah Lee, who served as flower girl. Debbie's gown was of aqua green organza over taffeta, and she carried a ribbon covered flower basket of stephanotis and ivy.

Best man to the groom was William Richter of Arlington Heights and groomsmen were Robert Frank and Dennis Wood, also of Arlington Heights. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Lyle and Wesley Hutchison and the groom's brother, James R. Thomas.

THE SERVICE WAS followed by a reception for 75 guests, held in the chapel parlors. The groom's mother received in an avocado green 2-piece suit of lace over taffeta with matching shell, hat and shoes. Her corsage was of yellow garnet rose buds. Illness prevented the bride's mother from attending, but Mr. Hutchison was present to give his daughter in marriage.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Cadillac, Mich. and since Aug. 28 have been at home at 1574 L Spartan Village, Michigan State University, East Lansing. (S

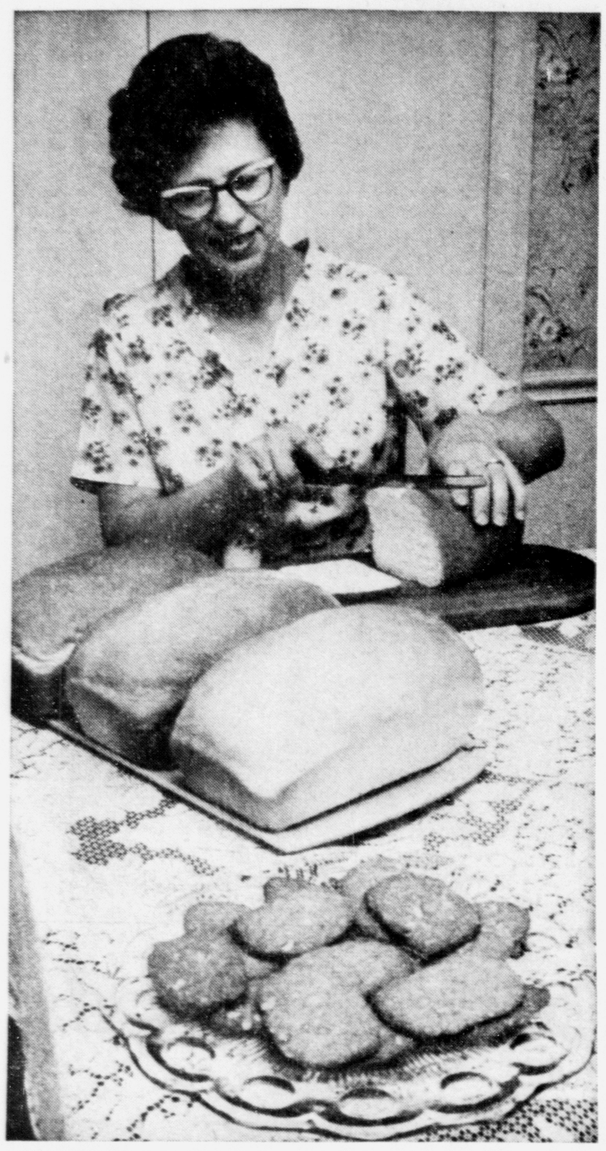
Baking Bread Is Weekly Habit of This Cook



HANDSOME LOAVES of homemade bread and delicious Oatmeal Ice Box Cookies help keep the David J. Quill family well fed and happy. Mrs. Quill has baked bread weekly for years with a tried and true recipe, and her nourishing oatmeal cookies have long been a family favorite.

Recipe Also Makes Cinnamon Rolls

By LOIS SEILER

Being the busy wife of a minister and mother of three doesn't deter Mrs. David J. Quill from baking bread weekly and keeping the cookie jar well supplied.

Her secret is recipes that are quick and easy to make yet delicious to taste.

Rare is the homemaker in a bustling suburban society who bakes bread regularly, but with Mrs. Quill it is a habit established over the years and one that she thoroughly enjoys.

"It only requires about a half-hour's time and a little effort to prepare the dough," said Mrs. Quill. She arranges to do this on a morning when she knows she will be at home so that she can punch down the dough when it has risen and bake it at the proper time.

MRS. QUILL tried several recipes and then experimented on her own until she devised one that suited her best. The recipe makes four loaves of bread, but some of the dough can be reserved and used for cinnamon rolls.

"I often make three loaves of bread and a dozen cinnamon rolls," said Mrs. Quill, "but this can be varied to suit one's needs."

The bread has a very fine and light texture with that wonderful homemade flavor, and the cinnamon rolls are an appealing taste treat!

This good cook's delicious Oatmeal Ice Box Cookies have the advantageous feature that they can be made one day and baked the next. In fact, the dough can be frozen and baked when needed.

DIFFERENT from most oatmeal cookies, the dough, which contains three cups of quick-cooking oats as well as chopped nuts, is shaped into rolls. Refrigerated overnight, it is sliced and baked. These nourishing cookies are crispy and delicious and will keep well for some time.

Mrs. Quill often sends these to son Steve, 19, who is a sophomore at Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, and they are a great favorite of her other children, Charlotte, 16, a senior at Prospect High, and Tim, 12, who is in seventh grade at Lincoln School.

Mrs. Quill's husband is pastor of St. Mark Lutheran Church in Mount Prospect, and Mrs. Quill participates in all of the church's activities, helping wherever needed. Pastor and Mrs. Quill and their family live at 209 S. Wille, Mount Prospect.

WHITE BREAD

2 cups boiling water
1/3 cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
¼ cup vegetable shortening
1 cup warm tap water
2 packages dry yeast
1 teaspoon sugar
½ cup lukewarm water
8 to 9 cups flour

Add the boiling water to the dry milk and stir until dissolved. White hot add the sugar, salt and shortening. Stir until dissolved. Let cool, stirring occasionally. Then add the warm tap water.

While this is cooling, dissolve the yeast and one teaspoon sugar in lukewarm water. The yeast will rise while the other ingredients are cooling. When liquid ingredients are at room temperature, add yeast.

Then add the flour, two cups at a time. Stir thoroughly after four cups are added and until the ingredients are well mixed.

Add about two more cups flour and stir well. Turn out on floured pastry cloth and knead in about two or three cups more flour until dough is smooth and satiny and not sticky.

Place in greased bowl and cover with a warm damp cloth. Let rise until double, about 1½ to 2 hours. Punch down and let rise again until double, about one hour.

Roll out dough to about 1 to 1½-inch thickness. Cut into fourths. Knead each piece towards the center and form into a loaf. Place in greased bread pans and let rise again.

Bake at 425 degrees for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 degrees and bake another 15 minutes or until golden brown.

To make cinnamon rolls, roll out dough to about one-half-inch thickness. Spread with butter. Sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar and raisins. Roll up, slice and bake in greased muffin tins. Have in the bottom of each muffin cup ½ teaspoon brown sugar and ¼ teaspoon butter or margarine.

Bake muffins about 15 minutes at 375 degrees.

OATMEAL ICE BOX COOKIES

1 cup shortening (Spry or Crisco)
1 cup white sugar
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
1½ cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups Quick-cooking oats
½ cup chopped nuts

Cream shortening and sugars. Add eggs one at a time and beat well after each addition. Add dry ingredients (not sifted), then vanilla and lastly oameal and nuts.

Shape into rolls and place in refrigerator overnight. Dough will also freeze nicely. Slice and bake 8 to 10 minutes at 400 degrees. Makes 5 to 6 dozen.

Give Leftovers Gourmet Flair

After a hearty Sunday dinner, why not use the leftovers to good advantage at supper time? Almost any meat can be transformed into a cool, luscious supper.

A light, crisp salad, hot rolls and ice cream for dessert will do nicely as Sunday night supper. The salad can be made extra nourishing by using the leftover meat from dinner. Beef, ham, chicken, pork and even lamb strips help to form a delicious juillene salad.

TO FIX YOUR Sunday salad, select garden-fresh vegetables that have been crisped in the refrigerator. Add juicy ripe tomatoes for color and texture contrast. Then, slice the leftover meat into thin strips. Arrange them prettily on top of the salad greens.

If you like, add strips of hard-cooked egg and strips of Swiss cheese.

Garnish the whole salad with large, creamy crumbles of tangy American blue cheese. This zesty specialty cheese adds a nice texture contrast, and color appeal. The salt and peppery flavor brings out the goodness of the meat and vegetables. Top your creation with your favorite dressing. (SH

Stuffed Peppers Are Outdoor Fare

Cooking on the grill doesn't always have to be steak, hamburgers, or frankfurters. Try a new idea. Beef ravioli stuffed peppers in foil. The green peppers are partially cooked and then stuffed with canned beef ravioli. Use a family size can to take care of six people easily. Close the foil tightly and let the pepper and ravioli throughly heat on the grill.

Each guest can then unwrap his own stuffed pepper. Have marinated vegetables, crisp bread sticks, and iced tea to accompany the peppers. A choice of chocolate cake or iced watermelon would be a favorite finish to this meal.

GRILLED STUFFED PEPPERS

3 large green peppers
1 (2 lb. 8 oz.) can Chef Boy-Ar-Dee Beef Ravioli
2 slices American cheese
2 tablespoons prepared mustard

Remove stem end of peppers. Cut in half lengthwise. Remove membrane and seeds. Cook in boiling water for 8 minutes. Drain well.

Open can of ravioli. Divide ravioli among pepper halves. Cut cheese slices into thirds. Place slice on top of ravioli in each pepper half. Cut 6, 9"x11" pieces of broiling weight aluminum foil.

Place a stuffed pepper half on each piece of foil. Close tightly. Place on grill. Heat. Makes 6 stuffed pepper halves.

Note: If prepared in an oven, preheat oven to 400 degrees and bake foil enclosed peppers for 25 minutes. (SH

'Official' Picnics End On Labor Day Weekend

As Labor Day is the last official "picnic" day, why not make your outing a plush affair? Instead of the usual hot dogs and potato salad served on paper plates, dress up your picnic fare.

Invite several of your closest friends to join you at dusk at a selected picnic site. In the picnic hamper, pack one of your prettiest tablecloths and napkins, sterling, china, and wine glasses. Put in a couple of candles and holders, too. These elegant appointments can be set up in minutes for your party.

NOW FOR THE picnic fare. The day before, prepare a rolled roast. When it is cool, slice it very thin and store in foil. Dainty rolls from the bakery, spread with unsalted butter, will keep well in a plastic bag in the refrigerator. Buy some nice red wine and chill it.

Prepare a gelatin mold that can be carried to the picnic in its mold. If wrapped in foil, it will keep cold in your cooler along with the wine and other foods. An unusual madrilene, such as this one made with piquant American blue cheese, will enhance the flavor of the lean beef and add glamour to your picnic. No dressing is needed because of the pert cheese balls in the madrilene.

A MAYONNAISE sauce, spiced with lemon juice, chopped chives and snips of dried tarragon, will be a nice garnish for the meat. Fresh fruit, sesame crackers and wedges of American blue cheese will complete your elegant picnic.

PLUSH PICNIC MADRILENE

3 beef bouillon cubes
3 cups water
1 cup tomato juice
2 packages unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¾ cup crumbled American blue cheese
1 small package cream cheese
½ cup chopped pecans

Dissolve bouillon cubes in 2 cups boiling water. Soften gelatin in ½ cup cold water. Add rest of water and tomato juice. Flavor with lemon juice. Chill until partially set.

Meanwhile, cream American blue cheese and cream cheese together. Form into various size balls ranging in size from ½ to ¾ inch in diameter. Coat the balls with chopped nuts.

Whip gelatin until fluffy. Gently fold in cheese balls. Pour into lightly-oiled 1 quart mold or into individual molds. Chill until set. Unmold on plate. (SH

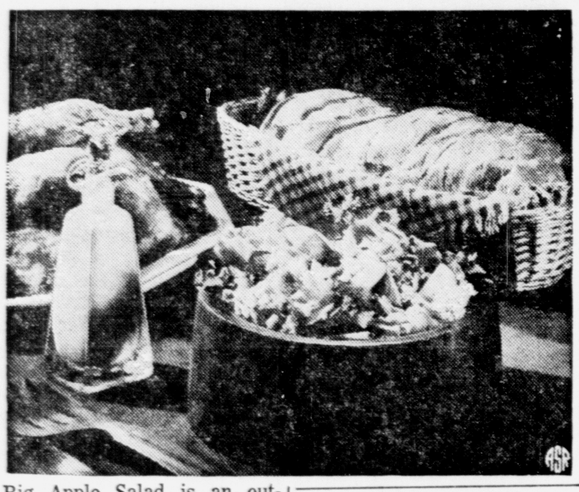
Roast Tips

Roasts and other meat cuts, such as those stuffed and rolled which have been tied with string or secured with skewers, should have these removed before they are brought to the table.

If the meat cut is a large one which may come apart during the carving, one or two strings might be left around the meat, during carving, to help the carver.

Generally, however, strings and skewers slow him down because he has to remove them before cutting and serving. (SH

'Seasonable' Salad



Big Apple Salad is an outstanding example of the exciting menu variety salads offer. There is just no end to the interesting combinations you can create from different greens, vegetables, fruit.

The dressing is of prime importance in setting off the flavors of the ingredients you select. It must have the pleasing flavor and seasoning undertones that will best compliment the salad mixture. With the wide array available of quality ready-to-use salad dressings, you can keep a selection on hand so the perfect one is right at your fingertips.

IN THIS CASE, it's a creamy, rich pourable dressing spiked with the zesty note of Blue cheese—the ideal enhancement for this simple, unusual mixture of greens, tart apple, crisp celery and crunchy croutons. No other seasoning is needed.

Big Apple Salad, with its delightful flavor, color and texture contrasts is a bright summer offering, specially for an easy-do dinner featuring oven-fried chicken and crusty French bread.

Hot Potato Salad With Bacon Duet

One of the most popular of potato salads is a heated variety which uses cooked pieces of bacon and a dressing that just coats the potato slices. It's even more delicious when it's paired with panfried Canadian-style bacon slices.

These two kinds of bacon are quite different in both flavor and appearance. Regular style bacon has some lean interspersed with flavorful fat that becomes crisp on frying. Canadian-style bacon is actually the boneless loin of pork cured and smoked. It has a high percentage of lean with very little fat.

SERVE THIS salad with Canadian-style bacon as the main entree for a quick supper. Round out the menu with raw vegetable relishes and spiced fruits and an ice cream dessert.

GERMAN POTATO SALAD WITH CANADIAN-STYLE BACON

5 slices bacon, diced
½ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon flour
2/3 cup water
1/3 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
1¼ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
4 cups sliced cooked potatoes
8 slices Canadian-style bacon, cut ½ inch thick
1 tablespoon lard or drippings

Cook diced bacon and onion until bacon is crisp and onions are lightly browned. Add flour and stir until blended. Combine water, vinegar, sugar, salt and pepper.

Gradually add to bacon-onion mixture. Add potatoes and mix thoroughly, cover tightly and cook slowly 20 minutes.

Cook Canadian-style bacon in lard or drippings until lightly browned on both sides. Serve potato salad mounded in center of platter, edged with Canadian-style bacon. Six to eight servings. (SH

Bramson's of Chicago will furnish the fashions for the show as well as the models. Fashion co-ordinator and secretary is Mrs. Richard A. Wulfert of Mount Prospect and mistress of ceremonies will be Lee Phillip of WBBM-TV.

CHAIRMAN OF THE affair, which begins at 11 a.m., is Mrs. A. J. Aug. 7 Newlyweds Both Teaching in Arlington

The Aug. 7 afternoon wedding of Beth Jasper, daughter of the Fred Jaspers, 717 N. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, and Karl Kent Hansmeier of Arenzville, Ill., was performed in the local First Presbyterian Church by Dr. Paul L. Stumpf.

After her graduation from Arlington High School, the bride completed her education at Culver-Stockton College in Missouri where she met her bridegroom. Now both are teaching in the Arlington school system, the bride at Kensington School and the groom at Thomas Junior High School.

They are living at 1107 Holiday Lane, Des Plaines, since Aug. 23.

THE GROOM IS the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Hansmeier of Arenzville, and his brother, Jack, came from Anchorage, Alaska, to be his best man for the 3 o'clock ceremony. The bride's sister, Mrs. William Pearsey of Muncie, Ind., was her matron of honor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white silk organza over silk-faced peau de soie gown, embroidered in seed pearls and alencon lace at the fitted waistline and around the chapel train. Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a crown of alencon lace and pearls, and she wore her mother's pearls at her neckline.

White orchids with lilies of the valley composed her bouquet.

THE MATRON of honor came down the aisle after three bridesmaids, Mrs. Janet McAlpin of Hinsdale, Robin Zweig of Hammond and Laura Kay Doran of Knox City, Mo. There was also a junior bridesmaid, the bride's 12-year-old sister, Martha Jasper. Mrs. McAlpin and Miss Zweig are the bride's sorority sisters.

All were gowned alike in floor-length maize silk organza over taffeta, with embroidery trimming the empire bodice and elbow-length sleeves. A self-fabric rose at the back waistline held a floating panel in place and a similar organza rose formed their headpieces.

The girls carried pale yellow roses in a crescent bouquet.

SEATING THE guests were David Little of Quincy, Thomas Jasper, a brother of the bride, Glen Garrison and James McAlpin.

Two hundred guests were greeted by the newlyweds at a party at Inverness Golf Club immediately following the double ring ceremony. The bride's mother received them in a deep pink crepe dress with a lace over-blouse, deep pink shoes, a light pink hat and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Hansmeier chose a blue silk shantung jacket dress with matching accessories and also had a white orchid corsage. (S

Give Bedroom 'Country' Style

Here's how to introduce the warm, intimate country look into a bedroom.

Begin with walls paneled in flat grain western hemlock, installing the boards horizontally and finishing them clear.

NEXT CHOOSE a hooked rug or braid rug, waxing exposed wood flooring till it glows.

Then dig through attic treasure troves for one or two good antique dressers or commodes, restoring them for modern day use. If you should be lucky enough to discover a patchwork quilt, use it as a throw on the bed and let your color scheme for rug and curtains revolve around the main colors of the quilt. (S

Car Clean-Up

For quick clean-ups en route, carry a container of soap and water in the glove compartment. Use a plastic spray-bottle, like the ones in home-permanent sets. Take an extra bottle of clear water for rinsing, paper towels for drying and refill your dispensers at service station stops.

Outdoor Aid

Outdoor cooks can always use a silent partner. A handy one is a roll of double layer paper towels.

Just fasten a towel holder to the side of your garage, a wall near your patio or the end of a picnic table. That way, your towels are right where you need them for quick wipe-up jobs or handling hot or greasy forks, skewers, and spatulas.

RECENT NEWLYWEDS are an Arlington Heights couple, Judith Fahlbusch, daughter of the W. Fahlbusches, and Albert S. Worrell Jr., son of the senior Albert Worrells. Both young people are graduates of Prospect High School. (Jenart Studio)

Marcella Beigel Weds, Moves to LaPorte, Ind.

Rev. E. George Krause, campus pastor at Northern Illinois University, performed the July 31 wedding service which united the former Marcella Beigel of Arlington Heights and William Burger of LaPorte, Ind. The bride is a June '64 graduate of Northern Illinois and had been teaching third grade in Palatine.

The groom, son of the Walter T. Burgers of LaPorte, is a Northwestern University graduate and spent the past year at Parsons School of Design in New York City, studying interior design.

THE COUPLE will reside in an apartment in LaPorte, where the groom is associated with Thanhardt-Burger Corp. and the bride will teach fourth grade.

There were two receptions planned for the couple, one immediately after their 4 o'clock wedding in St. Peter Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights, which was hosted by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beigel, 135 Golf Terrace. This was a buffet dinner at Maitre 'd Restaurant in Elk Grove Village for 150 guests. Garden flowers and candles created and arranged by the groom's mother decorated the tables for the 6 o'clock dinner. Martin Busse's band provided music.

THE SECOND reception took place in LaPorte after the couple completed their 2-week honeymoon tour of several western states. The groom's parents opened their home for relatives and friends of that area to greet the newlyweds at an afternoon reception.

For her wedding day, the bride chose a gown of nylon organza edged with chantilly lace and featuring a sculptured neckline embellished with seed pearls. The lace enhanced the full skirt in a floral motif on a front panel, and the skirt ended in a chapel train which also had the lace trim.

Her 3-tiered crown of bouffant French illusion was held by a cluster of three silk organza roses, the petals edged with pearls. Her bouquet was a waterfall cascade with a white glamellia surrounded by stephanotis and ivy.

MRS. ROY HANNEMAN of Wheeling, the bride's sister, was her matron of honor, and best man was the groom's brother, Charles Burger.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Beigel of Elgin and Sharon Luczak of Arlington Heights, and there was also a junior bridesmaid, Diana Lynn Hanneman, who is the bride's niece.

All of the bridal attendants were gowned alike in French blue shantastic styled with a scoop neckline, three-quarter sleeves and A-line skirt. They wore matching shoes and cornflower blue crown headpieces encircled with petals and a veil.

THEY CARRIED cascade arrangements of blue mums surrounded with blue batchelor buttons and trailing ivy, with inserts of cornflower blue ribbon.

The bride's mother was also attired in blue, her silk shantung dress in a Venetian shade, with lace medallions edging the neckline and the hem of several tiered, angled overskirts. She wore a matching half-hat and had a white orchid corsage at her shoulder.

THE GROOM'S mother wore a sleeveless gown of old-fashioned rose silk organza, with appliques of trailing vines and inserts of silk organza petals down the front to the hemline. Her hat was a contrasting color, and she carried a purse corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Ushers for the double ring rites were the bride's brother, David Beigel; the groom's brother, Ronald Burger; Mark Krentz of LaPorte, Dave Utech of Chicago and Robert Schroeder of Bloomington, Ind.

The Way We See It

No Shortcuts on GOP Recovery Road

Bruce Ladd, former associate editor of Paddock Publications and newly appointed legislative aide to Cong. Donald Rumsfeld, stirred up lots of discussion this summer when he wrote an article sharply critical of Republican shortcomings in public relations and dealings with the press.

Although Ladd didn't say so, some persons tended to assume better relations with the press would be sort of a cure-all for Republican difficulties.

Or, to put it another way, some Republicans blame a "hostile press" for the difficulties and defeats the party has suffered in recent years. This point of view was strongly evident during the last convention, the ensuing campaign, and on "the morning after."

Similarly, some Republicans seem to be oversimplifying in proposing other remedies for the sick patient.

One example is the suggestion that if vote stealing were stopped, the GOP would win. There is no doubt that votes have been stolen from Republican candidates. It is also a sure thing that Democrats don't have a monopoly on election irregularities. Vote stealing should be stopped, but if it were, the GOP would still have challenges to overcome to achieve victory.

Today in Illinois there is an effort under way to head off sharp Republican primary fights of the sort waged by Percy and Scott in 1964. Some suggest that the resources and strength thus husbanded would assure victory. This is not necessarily so.

The essential problem for the Republican Party — and it is important to everyone because it affects the well-being of the two-party system — is to present programs and candidates which appeal to the majority of voters.

This means breaking with the leadership of those Republicans who would rather lose elections than come to terms with the aspirations of racial and religious minorities, or accept the welfare trends of the last 30 years.

Ray Bliss, national chairman of the GOP, put it well soon after he took the post last spring.

"First, we must stop blaming somebody else for our own failures," he told the Republican Women's Conference.

"We must become a party of awareness and concern and hope for the men and women of America," he also said.

"Another political fact of life with which we must reckon," he continued, "is that we have lost the support of many so-called minority groups and many from the ranks of labor. Why? Because they are happy with the offerings of the Democratic Party? Perhaps, to a degree.

"But to a far greater degree because the false impression has spread across the land that our party has forsaken the great principles which called it into being — individual freedom and human dignity. By our attitudes and our actions in the years ahead, we must erase that false impression."

This philosophy must be the fundamental guide for Republican rebuilding. Better public and press relations, honest elections, more party unity — all will help the GOP restore a vigorous two-party system.

But none of them can be a substitute for reaching out to the voters—whatever their color, creed or station in life.

Facts Are Always Better Than Rumors

Often police and village officials who fear making public records available to newspapers are "stung" instead by their secretive policies.

A recent example is provided in Addison. Procedures in that village made it difficult, to say the least, for reporters to get police news on a consistent basis. Consequently, when a prominent developer was charged with battery last June, it escaped public attention.

However, such matters inevitably come to the surface. When this one did, the natural reaction of the public was to suspect the police department of "covering up" the case because of the prominence of the person accused. The police department appears to be right in denying this but many have not been convinced. Thus a case that would have been covered with a few paragraphs and forgotten if handled as part of the normal flow of news, has become something of a cause celebre.

The straight facts are always more helpful to everyone concerned than stories produced by the spread of rumors. This is why we print the news as it happens, even if some of it is unpleasant.

Addison officials have now decided to make police news available to reporters on a businesslike basis. This policy will produce better results for everyone concerned — the police, the press and even those involved with the law.

PalCee: A Fine Grass Roots Project

One of the most significant new organizations in the area is called PalCee, which stands for the rather forbidding name: Palatine Council on Environmental Education.

PalCee has been formed by established citizens of Palatine Township together with representatives of the several-hundred Spanish-speaking persons who have decided to put their roots down in the township. PalCee's goal is to help the newcomers become an integral part of the community.

Teaching English is a foremost project of PalCee. Children must know English in order to attend schools on an equal basis. Fathers must know English to qualify themselves for better jobs.

Other important services are driver training, health education, and clarifying the sometimes confusing governmental and legal phraseology everyone encounters.

Volunteers are needed for English-language classes. Knowledge of Spanish is not necessary. Help is also needed to staff the newly opened office at the Palatine town hall, which is open from 9 to 4 Mondays through Fridays, and 9 to noon on Saturdays.

We hope the call for volunteers to aid this community effort will be heeded. It also seems some assistance to PalCee from the many government programs in this field would be money well spent. The grass roots nature of the PalCee effort gives it bright chances for success.

Claudia Langhorst Preceded By Nine Bridal Attendants

Nine attendants, including two ring bearers, preceded Miss Claudia L. Langhorst, daughter of the Ralph W. Langhorsts, 257 E. Colfax, Palatine, down the aisle of Immanuel Lutheran Church in Palatine Aug. 14 when she became the bride of John F. Knutson, son of the Franklin Knutsons of Chicago. The service was held at 7 p.m. with Rev. Sauer officiating.

Pew bows and altar pieces for the candlelight, double ring service were in all white.

White bridal taffeta was the choice of the bride for her wedding gown. Both the bodice and train of the gown were trimmed with Venice lace. Her "something borrowed" was the pearl and crystal crown which held her bouffant illusion veil. Her "something old" was a single strand of pearls, a graduation gift from an aunt and uncle. A bouquet of Better Times red roses and ivy completed her ensemble.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

ATTENDING the bride as maid of honor was her college roommate, Miss Marcia Skellenger of Ann Arbor, Mich. Bridesmaids were college friends, Mrs. Kenneth Thompson of Rock Island from whom the bride borrowed the crown, and Mrs. Ross Johnson of Ames, Iowa, two cousins of the bride, Mrs. John Deagan of Mount Prospect and Miss Mary Miller of Barrington, and a friend since childhood, Mrs. Raymond Nelson of Palatine. Junior bridesmaid was the bride's 9-year-old godchild, Renee Cramm of Palatine.

The maids wore floor-length gowns fashioned with white peau de soie embroidered bodices and rose peau skirts. They also wore elbow-length gloves and rose pill box headpieces. Six long-stemmed Better Times roses made up their bouquets. Renee's gown was styled similarly to the older attendants' gowns and in her hair she wore a bow. A nosegay of roses was used for her bouquet.

THE GROOM'S college roommate, Ronald Carlson of Chicago, was best man and ushers were Ross Johnson of Ames, N. Joel Johnson of Chicago, Richard Johnson of Rock Island and Ronald Lincoln of Riverside, all college friends, and Wayne Langhorst of Palatine, brother of the bride.

Following the service, 325 guests greeted the couple at a buffet reception held in the Barrington Knights of Columbus Hall. Mrs. Langhorst received in a gold chantilly gown with lace bodice and georgette skirt. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of white roses. In moss green crepe with satin trim and matching accessories was the groom's mother. Yellow roses were used for her corsage.

THE NEWLYWEDS honeymooned enroute to their new address at 202 Crestview Towers, Pullman, Wash. where the groom will enter his second year of graduate school in psychology at Washington State University. Both young people were graduated from Augustana College in 1964, and the bride, previously graduated from Palatine Township High School, completed first year graduate studies in speech correction at Washington State. Last year she was employed as speech correctionist for District 21, Wheeling. (Bak Studio(S

New Service Group Aids Little City

As of Nov. 30, the Suburban Service League of Little City will be officially organized. Members of the newly-formed group met Aug. 30 at a get-acquainted coffee held in the Inverness home of Mrs. Daniel P. Wachs. The coffee served to acquaint members with the League's aims and benefit plans.

Little City is a training and treatment center for mentally retarded and emotionally handicapped children, and the Suburban Service League is being formed because of its proximity to the numerous suburban communities. Purpose of the League is to receive funds, set up a volunteer program and attempt to secure some of the needs that D. R. Becker, superintendent, feels are important to furthering the Center's program.

FIRST FUND-raiser on the agenda for the new Suburban League is November theatre party.

President of he League is Mrs. Andrew DeVoursney, 1727 W. Banbury, Inverness. Membership chairman is Mrs. S. D. Moorman, who will be assisted by Mrs. William Eich. Mrs. Eich will work with the volunteer program. In charge of the theatre party benefit is Mrs. M. Thornley Young.

Anyone interested in information regarding the League may contact Mrs. Moorman at 358-2640, or Mrs. Eich at 359-0913.

Sunglasses A 'Must' For Safe Driving

When you're driving, good sunglasses are an attractive accessory and an important safety precaution. Here are some tips for buying and wearing them:

Avoid fancy-colored lenses. Tints of yellow, blue, red and brown can seriously distort your view and they don't give good glare protection. The colors sage green and gray, though, are fine.

Beware of plastic lenses. They don't shut out infrared, which can seriously damage your eyes.

SPEND A LITTLE more to get good lenses and frames. Frames should be tough and should fit so you can't tell you have the glasses on.

Keep your sunglasses shining clean; use them on cloudy-bright days, too, and never wear colored lenses at night.(S

Shade Tricks

Make your own window shades with colorful cotton fabrics. Stiffen the fabric with new liquid or spray-on vinyls, tack to a shade roller and hem with cotton fringe. There are all kinds of tricks in making them match the room decor and create an eye-catching comment from those who enter the room. no tinkering 1-18 bold

A homeowner should never attempt to adjust his home heating boiler himself, particularly the controls. Amateur tinkering can not only damage the equipment but is dangerous. A wise move is to arrange for the inspection and cleaning of the heating system at least once a year. (S

JUNE GRADUATES, Calvin Eugene Cordulack, son of the Joseph A. Cordulacks of Arlington Heights, and Marian Louise Ladd, daughter of Mrs. Chester Ladd of Upper Montclair, N. J., are now residing in Woburn, Mass. following their recent marriage. Employed by IBM in nearby Boston, the groom received a degree from MIT in Boston and his bride a degree from Wellesley College.

Wedding Counselling Now Provided by Henrici's

Henrici's, one of Chicagoland's oldest and most distinguished restaurants, will do everything for the bride, including providing the groom.

That's not to say they'll get the young man to pop the question. But once it has been popped, and the date set, they'll even see to it he gets to the wedding on time.

Limousine service to their cluster of restaurants at O'Hare Inn is only one of the many services Henrici's catering department can offer in a new all-inclusive wedding counselling program.

From ordering and addressing invitations to getting plane tickets for the departing honeymooners, Henrici's is equipped with a staff of experts to handle every detail of a wedding party. Whether it's to be a simple ceremony and breakfast for a handful of people, or a formal procession with a dozen attendants followed by a reception and banquet for 1,500, Henrici's can do the honors in all their traditional glory.

THE FOOD THAT made the original Henrici's on Randolph Street Chicago's most famous eating place is still being prepared in the time-honored gracious style to serve today's wedding guests at O'Hare Inn located at Mannheim and Higgins Roads. From hot French onion soup to iced Dungeness crab, from live whole Nova Scotia lobsters to boneless breast of chicken under glass, through any number of courses to Henrici's special blend coffee with whipped cream, Henrici's reputation as chef to the most demanding tastes is being maintained.

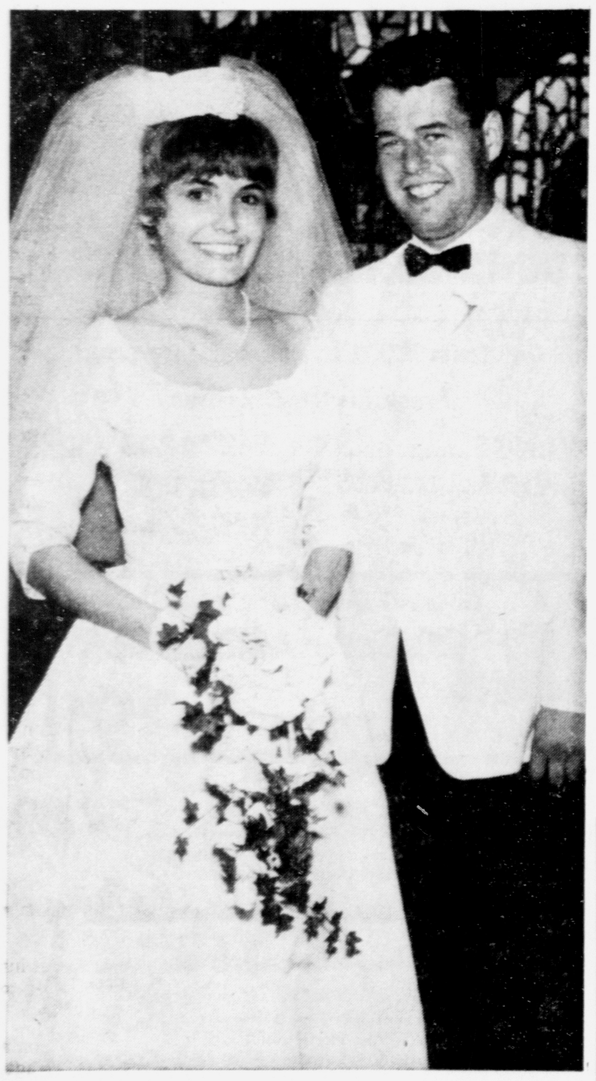
Henrici's catering service includes such options as sending announcements to newspapers, ordering and addressing invitations and placecards, conferring on color schemes, designing floral and candle arrangements, supervising the rehearsals, providing dressing rooms for the wedding party and preparing just the kind of meal the bride's mother wishes she could cook herself. They arrange for photographers, musicians, and even a clergyman if needed.

"HENRICI'S wedding cakes have been a Chicago tradition for almost 100 years," commented Robert Seep, catering manager. "Our files show orders for cakes as far back as 1870, two years after Philip Henrici opened his first restaurant. In those days it was frequently a light fruit cake baked weeks ahead of time and soaked in brandy until the day of the wedding.

"Today's bride usually prefers a tiered light cake, and cutting it after the wedding dinner has become a ceremony in itself which takes know-how. And of course we provide the wrappings for those guests who want to take their piece home to dream on."

The new elegant Philip Henrici Ballroom seats up to 1500 guests. Surrounding rooms of varying size can accommodate groups from a dozen to several hundred. (S

Yellow, White Color Scheme Enhances Mid-August Rites



Yellow and white was used for the color scheme Aug. 14 when Miss Judith Ann Butler, daughter of the William V. Butlers, 909 E. Rockwell, Arlington Heights, became the bride of William R. Reinsberg, son of Mrs. George Reinsberg of Evanston. Vases of White and yellow flowers decorated the church and white and yellow satin bows tied the pews.

The yellow was also used for the attendants' gowns and the girls carried colonial bouquets of baby breath and white daisies with yellow centers. The service took place at 2 p.m. in St. Peter Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights, with Rev. L. Martin officiating.

AN IVORY peau de soie gown was the choice of the bride. Fashioned with elbow-length sleeves, fitted bodice and controlled skirt, the gown featured appliques of lace, and a chapel train. Her headpiece was a pillbox of peau with lace and pearl trim, and her veil was in three tiers of pure silk illusion. A cascade of white roses and ivy made up her bouquet.

Mr. Butler gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Nancy Butler was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaid was Miss Helen Schreiner of Chappaqua, N. Y. Their floor-length gowns were of organza in a pale shade of yellow and with white eyelet appliques. They wore matching headpieces.

The groom's brother, Robert Reinsberg of Bloomington, Minn., was his best man and ushers were Lawrence Arndt of Skokie, Laddie Polz Jr. of Berwyn, Gerald Hodel of Evanston, and the bride's brother, William V. Butler Jr.

A BUFFET reception for 125 guests was held in Rolling Green Country Club where Mrs. Butler received in a nile green gown with matching accessories, and both mothers wore corsages of corn flowers and delphinium.

The bride attended Johns Hopkins School of Nursing. Her bridegroom, a graduate of Monmouth College, is a member of Theta Chi Fraternity and is employed at the Northern Trust Bank in Chicago.

The couple honeymooned at Lake St. Germaine in Wisconsin for a week and are now living in Evanston.

Peter Roels, Bride Are Teaching in Chicago

Two Chicago teachers, Patsy Marie Hawkinson of Chicago and Peter Lee Roels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Roels, 1049 Anthony Road, Wheeling, will be returning to their classrooms this fall as Mr. and Mrs. Both graduates of Chicago Teachers College, the new Mrs. Roels will be teaching at Goudy Elementary School and her bridegroom at Mitchell Elementary School.

The couple were married July 24 in Summerdale Community Church—Congregational, Chicago. Rev. Roy Gieselmann of Elmhurst officiated at the 3 o'clock, double ring service in a setting of carnations and white glads.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Gordon Carlson of Chicago, wore a gown of silk peau de soie trimmed with pearls and crystalized sequins at the waist. The sleeves were three-quarter in length and the chapel train was edged in scallops. Her 3-tier veil was held in place with a crown of pearls and crystals and she carried a cascade of white roses.

MISS DONNA Ullman of Chicago was maid of honor and bridesmaids, all of Chicago, were the bride's cousin, Miss Donna Lynn Carlson, Mrs. Linda Sobel and Miss Myra Felton. All wore gowns of turquoise chiffon with cummerbunds of satin. All carried yellow roses with Miss Ullman's tied with turquoise ribbons and the others with yellow ribbons.

The groom's three brothers, Robert and Jules of Chicago and Donald of Franklin Park served as his attendants, Robert as best man and Jules and Donald as ushers. Dean Hirshman of Chicago was also an usher.

TWO HUNDRED guests attended the reception held at Zum Deutschen Eck in Chicago where dinner was served at 5 p.m. Greeting the guests was the bride's aunt, Mrs. Gordon Carlson, who wore a light blue 2-piece ensemble with white orchid corsage. The groom's mother chose a pink sheath gown with white orchid corsage.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Canada, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota and since Aug. 8 have been at home at 2627 Farragut Ave. in Chicago.

PROSPECT HIGH SCHOOL graduates recently maried in South Church were Terry Elizabeth Furst, daughter of the George Fursts, 912 HiLusi, and Richard Allan Palmer, son of the junior Carlton A. Palmers, 408 MacArthur Drive, all of Mount Prospect. At the reception in the church parlors, the centerpiece atop the wedding cake was one which trimmed the cake at the 50th wedding anniversary party of the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ketel of McHenry, three years ago. The newlyweds are living in Waukegan while the groom attends U.S. Navy electronic data processing school at Great Lakes. The bride was a secretary for Mount Prospect Park District until her marriage.

Village Officials On AAUW Program

State Rep. Eugene Schlickman of Arlington Heights will be among panelists when Arlington Heights branch of the American Association of University Women holds its kick-off meeting on Thursday, Sept. 9.

Rep. Schlickman will join with Arlington Heights village trustee Thomas Hanlon and attorney John Doyle in a panel discussion of "The State, the Village—and You."

THE BRANCH meeting takes place at 8:30 p.m. in Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Building, with an 8 o'clock coffee time planned.

Prospective members are welcome and can make arrangements by calling membership chairman, Mrs. Beaver Waring of Mount Prospect, at 392-3599.

The kick-off program is one of a number planned around the study topic, "The Law and the Citizen." Mrs. R. J. Schlott of Arlington Heights will be moderator as the three men discuss ways in which the state constitution and state legislation affect local leaders' actions in handling village problems.

TWO OTHER TOPICS will be featured in the branch's future programs and study group activities. They are "Education—Antidote to Poverty" and "Revolution in Modern China."

The Sept. 9 discussion, "The State, the Village—and You," is a topic on which all three of the panelists can speak with authority. Rep. Schlickman, particularly, has a wide knowledge of the relationship between state and local government, having served as an Arlington Heights village trustee before being elected to the state House of Representatives.

DOYLE, AN Arlington Heights resident and a lawyer, served as Rolling Meadows village attorney for a number of years. Hanlon, also an attorney, is a recently elected Arlington Heights village trustee.

Arrangements for the program were made by Mrs. Charles Aldag of Arlington Heights, program chairman.

MOUNT EMBLEM

"Illinois' Most Beautiful Cemetery"

Site of the
OLD DUTCH MILL
Built in 1850

The DuPage County Historical Society presented an AWARD OF HONOR to Mount Emblem in 1956 for preserving the Old Dutch Mill as an educational and historic exhibit.

Visitors to the Old Dutch Mill are always welcome.

Mount Emblem is distinctively different.

Here is the expression of an ideal-Nature's eternal loveliness transformed into a memorial of Living Beauty. Natural beauty-unmarred by artificiality or perishable structures. This is the keynote of our landscape policy. Objects of nature are real, their appeal is universal, continuous through time.

When you visit you will be aware of the meticulous maintenance. You will find that our prices are moderate. It costs no more to own the best.

"It is better to have it and not need it— than to need it and not have it."

"WHAT'LL WE DO with the cornice from 'Everybody Loves Opal'? It won't fit in the garage." Teen Theatre members of Village Theatre help sort furniture, properties and scenery during VT's loft cleaning operation in preparation for the theatre group's 16th season.

House Cleaning Time For Village Theatre

Hercules once faced the task of cleaning out a large stable. Myth records that he ran a river through it to do the job.

When Village Theatre Inc. of Arlington Heights faced a comparable task this summer — that of cleaning out its storage loft in preparation for its fall season — there was no useful river in the vicinity. The group relied on the muscles of its members to carry, sort and catalogue the enormous amount of equipment gathered over 16 years of play production.

VT MEMBERS gathered early at the loft, in south Arlington Heights, known fondly as "Uncle Ben's garage." Under the direction of president Betty Brooks and resident director Richard Tyler and fortified with lemonade and soft drinks, the men unloaded the contents of the loft onto the surrounding lawn, while Beverly Holden and Ann Hume of Rolling Meadows, Kay Hawley of Arlington Heights and Helen Aagard of Mount Prospect sorted furniture and properties.

Shirley Freemen of Arlington Heights checked make-up kits, sharpening eyebrow pencils and throwing out dried-up grease paint. She was aided by several small children, who put more make-up on their faces than on the throw-away pile. Mel Freeman and "Red" Pownal, Bob Hawley and Al Estrella rebuilt the loft interior to hold the lumber used for set construction.

THE COLLECTION ON the lawn outside the loft began to look like the inventory of a mad junkman. Spread out for sorting were cartons of unused artificial flowers, one old squirrel cape, 15 boxes of bent nails, a French Provincial armchair, empty paint cans, buckets of door and window hardware, 10 bags of sawdust, a cornice from the set of last year's "Everybody Loves Opal," one goldpaper crown from "Sleeping Beauty," 5 overcoats, 72 china cups, 2 rolls of wallpaper, a wedding dress used in "Dinny and the Witches," 2 ancient bedpillows and a sewing machine treadle.

After a quick lunch, the decision-making went on. Flowered draperies were kept; chicken wire stuffed with green tissue paper (once a low privet hedge for "Gazebo") was junked; the translucent terrace doors from "Auntie Mame" and one-half of the curved stairway from the same set went to Herb Braden of Arlington Heights, who officiated at the burnable lumber pile, wearing a metal pith helmet.

THE SORTING, sweeping and building done, VT's Teen Theatre members lent their backs for the work of carrying lights and light standards up into the loft, hanging costumes on racks, stacking lumber platforms and flats where they could be easily removed for future set construction. Furniture and carpets were thrust into the remaining space.

The loft door was closed and locked, and Village Theatre was ready to begin its 16th season of play production, a season which will begin with "Anastasia," and will include Paddy Chayefsky's "Gideon," "Come Blow Your Horn" and the annual children's play.

"House cleaning," one VT member was heard to remark with an exhausted sigh at the end of a busy Saturday. "You can tell we have a lady president this year!"

HERB BRADEN, vice president of Village Theatre, calls for all burnable lumber from VT's storage loft in "Uncle Ben's Garage" at the theatre group's summer house cleaning. He got results.

English Farce in Midwest Debut At Country Club

An English farce, "Rattle of a Simple Man," makes it Midwest premiere at Country Club Theatre in Mount Prospect where it will be presented Sept. 8 through Oct. 17.

Percival, a naive bachelor of simple tastes, spends the last night of his vacation bar-hopping with a group of worldly-wise friends. By the end of the evening, he finds himself party to a bet challenging his sexual prowess and in the apartment of an attractive streetwalker.

She learns of the wager, guesses at his inexperience, and the see-sawing situation is a laugh - provoking example of wry English humor. Included in the cast are Pat Fraser and Norman Rice.

Theatre Student Has Chance to Act

Linda Crittenden, president of Teen Theatre of Arlington Heights, will resume the life of high school student next week after an exciting summer studying dramatics and working as an actress apprentice.

KNITTERS

Last Sunday Unger presented their new fall styles for "The Trade." The big thing we saw and heard was "Shells." Shells were shown for everything — Plain — Fancy & Elegant. Treat yourself to your own hand-knit shell. Make it of ribbon — or mohair — or Alpaca — or anything — but enrich your fall wardrobe with a Hand Knit YOU did.
Naturally — we help you — even design a pattern for you. If you haven't seen and tried our Norcraft Rugs (The Swedish hooked ones) come and enjoy them.
